Coaches are trying to put the "foot" back into "football" which will also make for more fun for the fan. It's a welcome change of pace.

Following College Football?

Collegiate rules were changed last year to widen the goal posts nearly five feet, to 23 feet, four inches.

It was a piece-meal victory for free-wheeling coaches on the college scene who have been striving to open the game up for quite awhile.

Even Woody Hayes—Ohio State's conservative—is swinging toward the more radical tactics.

Football coaches are, at heart, all secret lovers of the single-wing. They've accepted the T-formation and its variations because it gave new, splendid scope to attacks.

The defense was a little slow in rallying to the threat, but has caught up gradually these last few years.

So, it's time now for the attack to make changes again. The result seems to be a combination of the cunning of the "T" and the power of the single-wing.

It should prove interesting.

You'll hear some new offensive terms like winged-T, double-wing, pro slot, finesse drive, swinging gate, swinging end, more of the lonesome end, the lonesome twosome, the belly-wing, the W-formation, the absentee halfback and the three-end formation.

Some have been seen, others will be new or modified. The double-wing goes back to the days of Pop Warner.

It's getting monotonous to see the same prediction each year that there'll be more passing, but there really should be more this year, at least among the high school contingent.

One Man's Porridge . .

Then again, one man's porridge could be another man's poison.

Some hide-bound conservatives will stay conservative and they'll probably produce excellent results.

Eastmoor Coach Bob Stuart isn't impressed with the new innovations. Why should he be? His ground game proved effective for the last two years when his Warriors won the City League title and he hasn't any thoughts about changing.

But, the general trend should be to do a bit more gambling this year. Watch for it.

SECOND OF SERIES:

Just Where Did Jets' Success Really Start . . .

By BOB WILCOX

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a three-part series written by Hartley Newspapers sportswriter Bob Wilcox on the Columbus Jets. It's being done to better acquaint you with one of Columbus' prides—a winning ball club).

Now taking a look at the Jet personnel, position by position, one quickly looks for the sluggers and at least a half dozen .300-plus hitters that a league leading ballclub has. But they just aren't there.

The Jets have been without any .300 hitters on the squad until the end of July. Don Clendenon had a sensational month, reaching a peak of .305 July 29.

He was around the .301 mark for awhile, then ran into a slump in August. He leveled off at .283 and as of Monday pulled up to .290.

"Technical" batting leader of the Jets is number two catcher Jim Saul. He was batting about .301 shortly after arriving on the Columbus scene from Charleston, but has jumped to .364.

All pitching records, batting averages and other individual or team statistics, unless otherwise stated, are through the game of Friday, Aug. 18.

So what's keeping the Jets on top. They are tied with Jersey City for seventh in the loop in fielding percentages. Tied with the same club for fourth in team batting average.

And there seems to be most of the Jets success to date. That, plus some timely—if not abundant hitting and luck.

The hurling ace of the staff is not even a starter but "ageless" southpaw wonder Diomedes Olivo. He made some starts last season with the Jets but has been the regular fireman this season.

He's officially credited with 17 saves, but has been responsible for a score or so more, at least. He has a 10-6 record to date, walking only 20 in 85 games plus a 2.16 earned run average. . . .

Manager Larry Shepard calls Jim Umbright his "clutch" pitcher, but he has three top-flight starters in Umbright, Alvin Jackson and Bob Veale.

Tom Parsons was to be the fourth starter, but since his loss and subsequent return, no one can claim the spot. The burden was shared and tried by several including Don Rowe, Fred Green and newcomer Tom Sisk.

Earl Francis, acclaimed the number one hurler in the league, was recalled by the parent Bucs after he had posted a 3-1 mark with the Jets.

Tom Cheney came down to the Jets in mid-May when the Pirates had to make final cuts. He had to make room for the return of Red Whitt to the Buc roster. While a Jet, Cheney posted a 6-2 record, striking out 80 in 59 innings. He then was traded to the Washington Senators for Jim Mahoney and Tom Sturdivent.

Just as quickly as Shepard had a "dream" mound corp, he found himself with a nightmare one. Sore arms, trades, call-ups and what have you. But a core of Jet moundsmen kept things on an even keel, headed by Olivo.

The best break to hit the pitching situation came when Tom Sturdivent came in the Washington trade. Sturdivent had been shifting around the American League. His brief performances here had him back in the majors in a hurry . . . up to the parent Bucs on July 29.

In that month Tom won five of six starts (completed those five too), had 26 strikeouts in 45⅓ innings, but only eight walks and a fantastic 1.76 ERA!

He was the real shot in the arm the Jets needed when the pitching staff was at its lowest ebb.

Umbright came down on May 12, cut by the Bucs and currently holds an 8-4 record permitting only 9 homers and 43 walks. Al Jackson holds a 10-5 record, with 140 strikeouts, 40 walks and an ERA of 3.16.

The final member of the "Big Three' is Veale with a record of 14-9. He not only leads the league in strikeouts, for the second straight year, with 177, but in so doing eclipsed the old strikeout record of 160 set in 1958 by Whammy Douglas. (Incidentally, Douglas has been working out at the stadium in trying to convince Shepard that he's ready to make a comeback for the Jets . . . no decision as yet). Veale has allowed 79 walks, 10 homers and has an ERA of 2.53.

Parsons, since his return, has been shaky with his arm still bothering him at times. He has picked up two wins since his return. His record is now 4-2 with 49 strikeouts and 32 walks, with an ERA of 3.94.

Jack Lamabe has been with the Jets since spring training. He's what might be called a "late starter." He forms a late-season 1-2 punch with southpaw Olivo. Lamabe is now 3-2.

The latest newcomer to the Jet mound crew is Tommy Sisk, 19, brought up from Ashville where he had a 12-3 record. He has a 1-2 mark to date.

This spring, Manager Shepard again found himself with an overabundant "pasture crew" . . . Escalera, Hank Mitchell, Larry Elliott, Powers, Clendenon, Elmo Plaskett to mention only the outstanding contenders.

Mitchell, after a lowly .180 batting mark at Columbus early last season, was finally shipped out to Salt Lake City where he wound up with a .300 mark. Considered one of the Bucs' top farm prospects, they wanted him to play fulltime, as they did another top prospect, Clendenon, who hit .335 at Savannah last season. But finally Mitchell lost the fight and again was shipped down at cutting time. Shepard had planned to carry three, no more than four, outfielders and this made his final cuts so tough.

Elliott, a virtual unknown among the others had a sensational spring training season. Considered one of those to be cut, he forcibly earned his Jet berth. He is currently hitting .261 with 14 homers, 20 doubles, 5 triples and 55 RBIs.

Powers has shifted to left field. Still possessing one of the most feared long-ball bats, he has had a poor year. (Other clubs still honor him with the Powers shift . . . quite similar to that used in the American Loop for both Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle). He is currently batting only .243 with only 15 homers. He was out and bothered part of the season with an injured knee.

Mejias came down much earlier from the Bucs this year. And like last season has become one of the outstanding Jets in most departments afield and at bat. Currently he tied for the lead or trails Clendenon in most departments . . . batting .288, has 62 RBIs, 20 homers, scored 53 runs, 103 hits, 9 doubles, five triples.

Clendenon had started the season in right, over Elliot, but since mid-season has been the Jets first baseman.

Escalera, 31, has spent most of this season on the bench, due to the "youngsters" taking over. The first part of the season, Nino was out with a leg injury. He's currently hitting .287 with 7 doubles and 3 homers.

Next week . . . Winding up with a look at the infield problems and personnel, some team statistics and little related facts and figures, the current leaders in the various departments . . . and a look into the Jets' future for the rest of the 1961 campaign.

Having taken the first two in Charleston, at presstime Monday, the Jets reached their season high lead with an 11 game bulge. They play four games there in four days including another doubleheader tonight. Then on to Jersey City, then home Aug. 29 against Richmond.

General Manager Harold Cooper has designated Aug. 29 and the Jet's return home as "First Nighter" night at the ball orchard . . . with each Jet fan urged to bring someone who has never been to Jet Stadium . . . or at least hasn't seen the Jets this summer.

Jet badges will be honored and all seats except boxes will be $1. Thursday, Aug. 31 will be the last Ladies Night of the season. Miss Fran Wheeler, coordinator of Women's Services for Delta Air Lines will be commentator, for another Jet "first" at the Mound St. ball park . . . "Jet-A-Way" Fashion Show with models by Neiman's 7:30, showing off fashions by David Crystal, Lorch of Dallas, Mannequin of Nassau and Clymax of Jamaica. It will also be presented by the Sinclair Dealers of Columbus with prizes including a round trip for two to Miami, Fla. plus $200 expense money.

Key—

an official key to Columbus.

There was a time, Mrs. Castle said, when the city had a proclamation printed with a gold seal on it that was presented to important visitors.

It seems the city has no funds set aside for buying keys. Mayor Westlake indicated he would pay for the tokens out of his own pocket.

The mayor has already invested in a "Visitors' Registration" book that he keeps in his office for guests to sign. "This has some significance," the Mayor said.

"There have been times when I've felt rather embarrassed that we didn't have a token to show our esteem of visitors," the Mayor said. "We try to make it up in warmth and sincerity."

It appears key-giving is considered quite highly by would-be key-getters. There are many more requests for the ceremony than the average person may realize. The city may come up with a couple of alternatives:

ONE—Presentation of a stock, low-cost key, making the visiting dignitary or local celebrity the personal representative of the mayor and ambassador at large for the City of Columbus.

TWO—Skip the whole bit.

The popularity of key-to-the-city-giving and getting is not a strictly local phenomenon.

Kansas City, Mo., goes real ceremonial.

Lexington, Ky., hands out a 10-inch-long solid brass key, appropriately engraved. Rochester, N.Y., uses a similar one, somewhat smaller. Glass center Toledo gives glass keys, of course.

The key samples that the mayor is currently looking over are gold with a "C" worked into the design. They cost about $3.20 apiece on the average.

Mayor Westlake stressed, however, that he is not a hidebound key man. There would be other tokens of the city's esteem, he says—like just giving "hospitality and warmth" to visiting persons.

At any rate, as it stands now—Columbus is temporarily out of the key business.

..COLUMBUS MAYOR Ralston Westlake looks over some samples for keys to the city with his secretary, Margaret Castle. They say that there has never been an official key to Columbus, but administrators are working on it.

Parking Set For Race Track During Fair Performances

State Fair Manager Rowland Bishop has announced that parking will be permitted "right inside the theater" for the nightly grandstand shows at the Ohio State Fair this year.

Bishop said those buying advance tickets to the performances would be permitted to drive onto the race track, park their cars there and walk to the nearby grandstand for the show.

Advance tickets may be obtained at Marshall's, 56 N. High-st, or the Coliseum Box Office on the State Fairgrounds.

Parking begins anytime after 6:30 p.m. for the shows Friday, Aug. 25, through Sept. 1. Admittance will be through the gate, Seventeenth and Clara-ave.

The show starts each night at 7:30.

On tap for the first three days of the fair is the Holter-Atterbury Wild Animal show, featuring animals which starred in "Swiss Family Robinson." On the same bill are the Sky Kings, an aerial show featuring those high swaying poles and even helicopters.

Television's Charlie Weaver comes in on Monday for the final five days of the exposition. He will be joined the last three days by Yogi Bear and Huckleberry Hound. Also scheduled are Ward Beam's Great Western Rodeo and Kochman's Auto Show.

If so, and you are interested in seeing your old classmates again, contact Mrs. Edgar (Charlotte Sheward) Merritt at TR. 5-6440.

Mrs. Merritt is the representative of a committee planning a reunion of the class.

"Our main problem right now is locating all the graduates," she said, explaining that plans for the reunion are still in the tentative stage.

There were some 300 graduates in the class. And they are spread across the face of the globe, from Africa to South America, according to Mrs. Merritt.

She urged members of the class to contact the committee as "soon as possible."

Models Ready for Olympics

House Washing Olympics At Lincoln Village South

The "Grand National House Washing Olympics" will be held at Lincoln Village South 3 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 27.

It all started when six girls from Salem Modeling Studios saw and heard Lincoln Village South advertisements about "the houses you wash instead of paint." Their imagination taxed to the breaking point, they decided to find out just how long it would take to wash a house.

So they went to the Lincoln South sales office and asked Harley Sherrill of Starmount Realty if they could wash one of the model homes. "O.K., girls—go ahead," he said. "There's the house, here's the stuff. You wash against time, and we'll challenge any other team to beat you."

Thus, the Grand National House Washing Olympics was established. Sunday, at approximately 3 p.m., the girls will line up in their positions 10 feet from the house. Upon the starter's signal, "Sweepers man your brooms," the girls will dash for the ladders, hoses and other cleaning materials near the house and begin to scrub.

They will be timed by official judges on how quickly they can wash all four sides (not the roof), return the washing materials to the original spot and recross the start-finish line.

IDLE HOUR GUIDE . . .

WRFD In 12th Year At Fair; School Report On 10

By Stan Robinson

WRFD Radio will mark its 12th year of Ohio State Fair coverage with a complete schedule of programs from the 1961 Ohio State Fair. The many agricultural and industrial displays will be covered in depth over the span of the fair.

"Pop" Hess, Clyde Keathley and Jim Finley will present "Parade of Champions," direct from the coliseum. Programs at 9:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. will present a complete run-down of winners in the different areas of livestock judging.

Robinson

Bob Geis will present his Landmark "Salute To Youth" program "live" from the WRFD tent at 11:30 a.m., each day except Sunday, the 27th, when it will be broadcast at 1:30 p.m.

WRFD will also present a broadcast of the Ohio State Fair Worship Service which will originate in the Youth Center at 9:15 a.m., Sunday.

The All-Ohio Boys' Band will be presented at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 27th in a half-hour concert. We remind everyone that the WRFD tent is located in the center of the fairgrounds, in front of the Administration Building.

SCHOOL REPORT to be seen on 10 . . . An up-to-date progress report on the Columbus Public School system will be televised on Channel 10, Thursday, Aug. 24 at 10:30 p.m. The telecast will scan the past ten years in local education and even projects into the future education of Columbus children. Viewers will meet the members of the Columbus School Board and hundreds of teachers and students involved in the System. Dr. Harold Eibling, superintendent, will make an important statement about the future role of the Columbus schools.

Preceeding the School Report at 10 p.m. on WBNS-TV will be an interview with Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, on CBS-TV's "At The Source." Howard K. Smith and Eric Sevareid conduct the video-taped interview in Nasser's palace on the outskirts of Cairo.

SPOOK BECKMAN to broadcast from TB Cruiser . . . A word to members of the Cotton Pickin' Chicken Pluckers Club: Exalted Plucker Spook Beckman, WVKO "DJ" will broadcast in person from the TB Society's Christmas Seal X-Ray Cruiser from 10:15 a.m. to 12 noon, Main and Fourth-sts. There will also be cool soft drinks free to every X-Ray participant.

WLW-C STARTS ANNUAL "BACK TO SCHOOL" SERIES . . . Channel 4's Back To School series will take place this year during the last week in August and first week in September beginning with "Project: Youth," fifth program in the summer series.

Adult guest will be Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University. Teenage panel members will include Jan Murray, 2843 Dover-rd, honor student and 1961 graduate of Hartley High School; Mike Minister, Worthington, senior and president of the student body at Worthington; Edward S. LaMonte, 215 S. Kelner-rd, 1961 graduate of Columbus Academy, where he was president of the student body, and a fourth member will be a student from North High.

This program will be seen at 10 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, WLW-C TV. During the two-week effort, "Jack's House", "Forecast For Today", Gold Cup Matinee, Sunday News Report and other Channel 4 programs will devote time to "Back To School."

NEW WVKO PERSONNEL—Two new faces at WVKO radio belong to radio time salesmen, Garry Kane and Lee Ault. Garry has spent seven years handling national advertising for the Columbus Citizen. He was recently in sales and advertising for an appliance distributor in Columbus . . . Lee Ault was with WPAR at Parkersburg, W. Va., and has worked for WHRW in Toledo and WMNI and WRFD here in Columbus. Lee's wife was women's director at WTRX, Wheeling.

ADDITIONS TO CHANNEL 10 directors staff . . . Dick Moncer and Tom Welch, newest additions to the WBNS-TV directoral staff, are two men who are not strangers to each other. They worked together in the film editing department of the station. Welch and Moncer became friends at South High School. Welch, upon leaving the Navy attended Capital University and Ohio State and is currently working on a degree in education at Ohio State. Moncer came to film edit in '58 and was graduated from OSU in speech-education in 1961.

BROWNS ON TELEVISION, FRIDAY NIGHT . . . The Cleveland Browns clash with the Los Angeles Rams in a pro-football exhibition game and Channel 10 will cover the action starting at 10:15 p.m., running to approximately 1 a.m. Consequently, "News With Pepper" and the "TV Weatherman" will be seen one hour earlier, this one night on WBNS-TV.

State Fair Highlights Announced

Square dancing tractors, television personalities, plenty of music and a beauty contest will all be part of this year's Ohio State Fair.

Several changes have been or will be made including the removal of seven old, dilapidated horse barns on the northern edge of the grounds.

Until additional facilities are constructed, the overflow of entries in the harness racing will be housed at Hilliard and Scioto Downs tracks and trucked in for the races.

For the first time there will be a queen's contest with 55 young damsels cying for the title of Miss Bonnie Buckeye. Serenading the public will be the 300-piece Ohio Boys' Band.

While the farm folks participate for some $75,000 in contest money in the judging area, city folks will get an education in the ways of animal breeders through a running commentary by ring officials pointing out the highlights of judging such a contest.

One hundred high school bands will parade in and out of fairgrounds band shells while another 20,000 youths bid for Junior Fair honors.

Another first will be a "command performance" by an Erie County youth group that do-si-dos and swings its "pardners" atop tractors.

State Fair Manager Rowland Bishop spotted the group at the Erie and Huron County Fairs and invited them to perform as a main attraction at the Ohio State Fair.

Other big attractions at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 25-Sept. 1, will be television stars Charlie Weaver, Yogi Bear and Huckleberry Hound; the wild animal act which appeared in the Walt Disney movie, "Swiss Family Robinson," an aerial thrill show and auto daredevils.

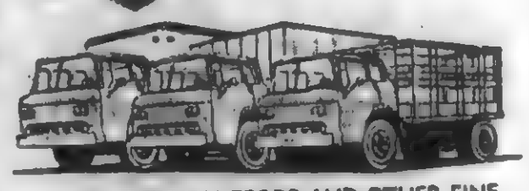
Woodchuck Logic: Trapped, Freed, Charges

An ungrateful woodchuck has been found. At least that's what two Division of Wildlife men claim.



It appears that Richard Reece, manager of the Spring Valley Wildlife Area, and Robert Hine, Montgomery County game protector, were checking wood duck nesting boxes to see if they had been used, when they came across something shiny moving through the weeds. Closer inspection revealed that a woodchuck had its head caught in a can of peas.

The animal was far from immobilized, and ran about trying to elude the game men by using his sense of hearing. He even run into the shallow water of a farm pond in his attempt to escape.

Finally, the woodchuck was caught, held down with a stick and the can, peas and all, extracted. The freed rodent then promptly charged its benefactors.

Reece and Hine didn't really expect a handshake or a "thank you" from the woodchuck, but neither did they expect to be chased.

Columbus Board Buys Land For Possible School

The Columbus Board of Education has purchased a nine-acre trace in Lincoln Village South for a proposed future school site, almost a year after a similar proposal was defeated.

According to Homer Trantham, a board member, seven such locations were to be procured by the board to assure land would be available in the event of future annexation.

The purchase in Lincoln Village South cost the board $44,000.

It is a good investment according to Superintendent Eibling. Eibling favored the move. The only dissenter was William Fornoff.

The Columbus Auto Club offers this tip to motorists: Always drive with the flow of traffic; if you're passing too many cars, you're probably going too fast; if too many cars are passing you, you're probably traveling at too slow a pace for existing conditions.

Hilltop Lions Open Little Loop Sign-Up

Registration for the Hilltop Lions Little League football program is scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, at the open shelter-house in Westgate Park.

Any boy whose 13th birthday does not fall on or before Sept. 1, 1961, and whose weight does not exceed 100 pounds throughout the season, is eligible to participate.

The league will be comprised of six teams playing a five-game schedule commencing Saturday, Sept. 23, and ending Oct. 21.

This season will mark the fourth year of the Hilltop Lions Little League football program. The league was organized in 1958, with Hilltop Lion George Blackmore as commissioner.

Dennis McDonald and Karl Fulton will serve as Blackmore's successors.

The league coaches have held their first meeting and are anticipating a large turnout for the registration.

NEW CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL READY FOR CLASSES SEPT. 7

Classes at the brand new Bishop Ready High School are scheduled to begin Sept. 7.

The modern brick, block and glass plant is nearing completion on Columbus' far west side. All work is scheduled to be finished by the end of August.

Construction of the $1.2 million building started some 15 months ago.

School Serves West

The school is designed to serve parochial students from throughout the western areas of Columbus and Franklin County.

It will serve triple duty this year. Students assigned to three different secondary schools — Bishop Ready, St. Francis De Sales and Holy Family—will attend classes in the building.

Included will be the freshman class at Bishop Ready, numbering some 390 boys and girls; some 300 freshmen and sophomores enrolled in St. Francis De Sales; and sophomore, junior and senior students from Holy Family, totaling approximately 150.

Designed For Expansion

The school, located on a 18-acre tract bounded by Eakin, Salisbury, Mound and Brinker, was designed to accommodate 1,000 students. Provisions have been made in the planning for future expansion of the building.

The central portion of the sprawling structure is two stories high and contains 28 classrooms. It is flanked with wings on both north and south.

An L-shaped chapel connects the school with a convent, built to house 32 sisters. Chapel seating space was designed to seat at least 75 students.

Theater Seats 375

The little theater auditorium seats some 375, the gymnasium some 1,400, and has a combination music room and stage built at one end.

The home economics department and all arts and crafts classrooms are included in the south wing.

Innovations in the educational plant include a complete sound system throughout the building and provisions for a closed circuit television setup to broadcast from the little theater studio.

Equipment Is Modern

Furnishings and equipment of the school incorporate the latest advances in educational facilities.

Classroom Expansion Completed As Schools Prepare For Opening

By Betty Daft

Vacation days, fast dwindling down to precious few, are being spent like bright coins by teachers and students alike this week.

School bells next Wednesday will call a record high 88,000 students and 2,900 teachers to another year of study and work in Columbus Public Schools.

Elementary schools will convene at 8:20 a.m., and junior and senior highs at 9:15. All pupils will be dismissed at noon, but schools will be in full, day-long operation Thursday.

Evening High School begins operation at Central High Tuesday, Sept. 12.

For the 14th consecutive year Columbus Schools, now second largest school system in the state, has raced the calendar during the summer months adding new buildings, additional rooms and more teachers to cope with steadily increasing demands for expanded educational facilities.

New courses of instruction and such teaching aids as radio, television and films have been incorporated into the curriculum to keep students abreast of the rapidly expanding fund of new knowledge.

Eight new schools, additions of 31 rooms to nine existing buildings and major remodeling of six schools will be completed this fall. All new buildings, with the exception of Calumet and all additions except Scottwood's, will be ready for classes Sept. 6.

New additions to existing schools, to be put in operation this fall, include, Scottwood Elementary, 3382 Scottwood-rd, eight classrooms, $139,125; Lincoln Park Elementary, 1666 S. 18th-st, four classrooms, $67,875; Stockbridge, 3330 S. Champion-av, four classrooms and multi-purpose room, $129,454.

Valleyview Elementary, 2969 Valleyview-dr, five classrooms and multi-purpose room, $122,461; Georgian Heights Elementary, 784 Georgian-dr, six classrooms and multi-purpose room, $117,425; Sullivant Elementary, 791 Griggs-av, four classrooms, $75,450.

A major remodeling program at Central High School was completed at a cost of $222,894. Similar projects in Hartley area schools were conducted at Fairwood Elementary, costing $41,323; Clarfield Elementary, $77,774, and at Scioto Trail Elementary, $82,343.

KIDS NEVER CHANGE – STILL DUBIOUS ABOUT

Reading, 'riting And 'rithmetic

No doubt about it.

Kids today still feel the way they did last year, and the year before that and the same way they have ever since there has been schools and summer vacations.

They don't want to go back to class.

Actually, a random sampling of local youngsters indicated that most of them didn't mind school, but they would rather stay home and play.

Take the case of Tom Black for instance.

Tom, who lives at 316 Refinerd, will be a sixth grader at Westgate School and he's had a heck of a good time this summer.

Go back to school! "I'm not looking forward to it," he says.

What's he been doing all summer? "Fishing, mostly," according to Tom, who does his angling at Harder Lake in Westgate Park. He's had pretty good luck, catching 11 or 12 catfish so far.

Then there is Dave Thompson, who begins junior high at West next week. He's an exception.

Dave, a resident of 291 S. Wheatland, thinks school might be interesting this year.

"Everything will be different. There'll be new teachers, new subjects and it should be fun."

But is he actually looking forward to going back? Date says yes, even though he's had a good time this summer.

Ron Mace, a fifth grader at Westgate School, has a different attitude.

"Terrible," was his answer when asked how he feels about starting the school routine again.

"I like school but like summer vacation better,"

Central High Spruced Up; West Has 12 New Staffers

An inviting, completely modernized interior at Central High and improvements to West's building, both part of the school's summer improvement program, will be completed in time for first-day classes Sept. 6.

Major remodeling at Central, costing $222,894, has been finished in every detail and the school is ready for full operation with a regular schedule of classes.

The renovation program included relighting nearly all classrooms, renovation of chemistry facilities and the addition of new laboratory furniture, remodeling the lunchrooms and adding new kitchen equipment.

Remodeling the foods laboratory and installing new equipment, renovation of physical education facilities, installation of vinyl-asbestos tile flooring in several classrooms and refinishing wood floors in other

Introductions will be in order at West Junior-Senior High next Wednesday — a new principal and 11 new faculty members will greet the school's 1800 pupils.

Two hundred and twenty-five seventh graders are assigned to the building. The remaining classes are 10, 11 and 12th grade students.

West's beloved Miss Mary Baker, longtime teacher at the school before her assignment at the administration building as a resource teacher in the science television program, will return to West this fall.

Other faculty members, headed by David Randall, principal, are, Miss Joyce Hamilton, Miss Jo Linn Armstrong, Miss Ernestine Williams, Miss Janice Roe, Mrs. Louise Korfmacher, Billie Taylor, James Hill, Arthur Boles, John Pettibone, Robert McLinn and Eugene Fekete.

It will be homecoming for Randall, Hill and McLinn, all alumnae of West High.

Improvements made to the school during the summer months include an enlarged and remodeled art room, additional electrical outlets for improved stage lighting, wire grill on windows at the rear of the stadium and new plumbing in the boys locker room.

The entire building has been thoroughly cleaned and necessary repairs made.

Support Seen Growing For Sunday Observance Drive

Growing public demand for observance of Ohio's Sunday Closing Law was seen today after tabulation of weekend returns in a "Keep Sunday Sunday" campaign, according to a spokesman for the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

Gene P. King, executive secretary of the organization, reported that over 11,000 signed coupons or resolutions have been received in the two weeks of the campaign. The coupons were clipped and returned from newspaper advertisements urging action against non-essential stores doing business seven days a week in violation of the Sunday Closing Law.

"Considering that in many cases a signature represents a family, and in some cases a church congregation or other large organization," King said, "this volume of response means that the people of Greater Columbus are behind us."

King noted that the law had been upheld both by the Ohio and the United States Supreme Courts. He added:

"There is no need to think the Sunday Closing Law is a 'hot potato.' People want this law. People want it enforced. People want Sunday restored to them as a day of worship, rest and relaxation.

Guy Coffman; Jack Merriman, Seiller's Department Store; Robert Echenrode, Echenrode Furniture Co.; Charles J. Allamon, Albers Super Markets; Asa Beavers, Beavers and Horn Market; Erwin J. Fants, Realtor; and King.

Good News Redleg Fans, Read This!

The big question in Ohio these days involves the Cincinnati Reds . . . will they or won't they?

Pennant-bound or not, the Reds are displaying a combination of power and pitching which is establishing them as one of the finest teams the National League has seen for some years.

If you'd like to see how you can be one of the lucky Hartley Newspapers readers who will make the Sept. 24 trip to Cincinnati to watch the Reds play the San Francisco Giants in the last Sunday doubleheader (home) of the season, look for the story and coupon inside this week's paper.

AMERICANA ABOUNDS IN LOCAL HOME

His still growing collection contains "a whole raft" of hand-operated coffee grinders, an early model electric motor and books.

It dates back several years to a time when he served as judge for a hobby club exhibit at Westinghouse, where Jordan is supervisor of maintenance.

"I became interested in the antiques on display and started looking around for something to rejuvenate," Jordan explained.

That's his specialty—finding, cleaning-up, repainting and in general bringing the old coffee grinder or whatever back to life.

Jordan was given his first antique by a brother "who had it in his attic."

"It was a big, old fashioned coffee grinder, built for use in a store," he noted. Now refurbished and in workable condition, the grinder is his pride and joy.

Also among his favorites, is an antique electric motor designed to operate on direct current. The motor, now a shiny red, black and brass, "probably originally ran a sewing machine," Jordan guesses.

It was built in Philadelphia in the later half of the nineteenth century.

'REGISTER NOW' URGED BY SCHOOL OFFICIALS

Worried school officials, aware that registration has not yet been completed at individual school offices, again remind parents that this must be done before school convenes next Wednesday.

All students, new to a school district as well as those new to Columbus Schools, must register at their schools. Offices are open and a staff will be on duty th ernst of this week, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Newcomers should bring with them their previous grade cards and information concerning their immunization record, in compliance with Ohio's immunization law.

Study schedules for high school students already registered have been completed, and will not be changed after the start of classes.

Anyone wishing more information may inquire at the school office.

"The best part of school is recess."

"I don't like going back to school."

He's had a good time riding his bicycle and playing ball and doesn't think classwork will be as much fun.

Vida Fulton, who will be in school for the first time this fall as a first grader at John Burroughs, is a little apprehensive.

She doesn't know what school will be like.

But does know that she "would rather stay home and play."

Vida's attitude apparently is "school may be fun, but. . ."

Parent-Teacher Conferences Urged By Education Society

Get-togethers between individual parents and teachers to supplement the information contained on a child's report card are being put into practice more and more by the nation's school systems.

The National Education Association, after a survey of this practice, has come up with some hints on how the parents can make these conferences more effective and meaningful.

Here are some suggestions:

Decide in advance what you want to ask the teacher. Sit down in advance of the conference and decide what specific aspects of your child's work are puzzling or worrying you.

Be prepared to tell the teacher about your child's home life;—what are his hobbies, reading interests and state of health, and so forth. She's not prying, she's seeking the "why" of his strengths and weaknesses, in order to guide him more effectively.

Find out why things are done in a certain way at school. They've changed since you've been there. If you find new methods of teaching hard to understand, ask the teacher to suggest a good time for you to visit the classroom.

Listen before you leap. If you've been storing up resentment about a tale your child brought home from school, don't explode. Listen to the teacher's side of the story.

Don't expect more than the teacher can give. Your child may need extra help, and his teacher may be longing to give him that help, but if her classroom is crowded she may lack both the time and energy. Ask her if there is anything you can do on the home front to solve your child's learning problems.

Go home and do something about it. Don't let the teacher-parent conference fade into oblivion, with no specific action on your part.

When you return home, jot down notes of the conference, including what you learned about your child, and on what you and the teacher agreed to do.

SQUEEZE PLAY

What About Socialism?

Americans seem to be split these days. It has occured in such a funny way that it is a little difficult to understand. On one hand we seem to be deploring "more government control and centralization" and on the other, asking for all kinds of "aid."

Now it would appear reasonable to assume that no man (or government agency) gives away money without reserving the right to decide who shall get it. This means he may stop giving it whenever he feels it is not being used to his best interest. If a group or segment of society becomes dependent upon this outside "aid" then it must obey in order to survive. This is well illustrated in the recent welfare squabble when a small town was stopped by the state in a court order from running it's local program as it saw fit. The Federal Government said "don't do that or we will stop state funds." The scared state went to court to make the town conform and stop jeopardising state funds.

On the other side, much of our present-day social structure is supported wholly or partially by state and federal funds. The present trend seems to be to increase this situation. What does it mean?

Socialism! Simply and unavoidably. What is wrong with socialism? It isn't democracy. What is democracy? The words ring every day, but few Americans have more than an emotional definition. Ideas vary. Probably the best summation would say "fight to preserve the things we have today in this country."

Americans have never had it so good. Materially that is. Sad thing though: history won't wait. Time won't and hasn't stopped for the 'American Dream.' It is gone already. We already have government aid, with more of it coming. Why? Because we have asked for it and because we accept it. Can you reverse time? Can we go back to local independence and independent individuals? Can you take social security away from the aged? Can you expect big business to go back to the days of competitive operation?

We are now a dependent society. It is contrary to the making of this country and to the intentions of its founders, but here we are. They could not envisage the results. Who could have predicted the fattening complacency of an aging republic?

The idea seems to have been "I'm not for government aid, but if I don't spend it, someone else will." The slickest operation going in the country today is the quiet and easy way the government takes it's tax money. It is so good that we don't stop to realize twice as much money goes out to the government than comes back in to this community in the form of aid. There is no 'big daddy' who gives out money—not money that didn't come from you.

The question then, seems to be one of degree. It is to late to say "we will" or "we won't" because we already have. What is left?

Not much, unless we can stop long enough to look at the rapidly passing scenery. It will mean pulling in the constant 'hand' that groups and individuals in our communities have 'out' for funds, be they state or federal. It will also mean the acceptance of some socialistic practices as necessary.

You cannot impede history. You can only hope to have a strong hand on the direction it takes. Let's not lose our grip!

"Ben Franklin said 'a penny saved is a penny earned' long before the sales tax!"

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Last Month For Outdoor Eating

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruit — Peaches, melons, apples, frozen lemonade.

September—Last Call For Summer

It's the last call of cookouts, swimming and vacations. Youngsters go off to school, and we switch from casual summer eating to a routine of hearty meals. Here are some tips on the foods due to be plentiful in September that may help you plan meals to satisfy increased appetites — and your wallet.

MEATS — A seasonal increase in veal and a good supply of beef are predicted by the American Meat Institute. Most of the beef coming to market will be ideal for pot roasting, meat loafing, hearty-type beef dishes your family loves.

"Lamb U.S.A." is the theme for a nation-wide September promotion. If you haven't been a lamb user, the colorful posters and advertisements may be the inspiration you need. Pork supplies are expected to increase slightly this month and steadily as autumn progresses.

The supply of turkeys is 25 per cent larger than last year. Their quality is high, all sizes are available, and retail prices are expected to be very reasonable. Another September buy in poultry is the broiler-fryer, so easy for electric skillet or oven cooking, as well as for barbecues.

FRUITS — Peaches will be with us longer than usual this summer. Many varieties (usually gone by September) are still available. Harvest of Halehavens (a good canning peach) starts in northern Ohio around September 1. Redhaven, Southhaven, Sun Gold, Sunnyslope and Elberta are among the varieties now available.

Many more apples will make meals and lunch boxes easier to plan. The total U.S. apple crop is estimated to be 15 per cent above last year. Varieties available now from Ohio and nearby states include Duchess, Summer Rambo, Wealthy, William Red, Red Astrachan and others. Harvest of some fall and winter varieties will start soon, such as Jonathan, Cortland and Grimes Golden. McIntosh are available now.

Ohio cantaloupe are at their best in early September and there are still good watermelons around for easy desserts. Pears, local grapes and Stanley prune plums are other fruits that will be coming your way soon.

LATE SUMMER VEGETABLES — Sweet corn and field tomatoes are two vegetables you can enjoy later than usual this summer, if good weather continues. The late tomatoes are of better quality than were the early ones, and sweet corn is still excellent.

Those Bass May Be Small, But Little Ones Usually Make Big Fight

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Just as a few warm days in the spring bring on good fishing, several cool days in late summer do the same thing. Starting more than a week ago with the little preview of fall we had, reports of good fishing have been coming in.

Leading the list is the renewal of bass fishing activity in farm ponds. A good example of this comes from Bill Kah, a former area resident who now lives near Centerburg. Bill went to a pond near his home one evening and caught 15 bass on artificial lures, and then repeated the feat the following evening at another pond.

"None of the bass were large," reported Kah, "but they hit and fought well. It sure was a lot of fun, and I'm going to try fishing popping bugs with a fly rod as soon as I can find time."

The bass were taken on spinning tackle using a white ABU and a Jitterbug. When you find bass anxious to hit on or near the surface, then nothing is more exciting than bass bugging — using artificial bugs or poppers for lures. You hear and see the strike, and this does something to your nervous system. It is explosive fishing.

Not many records are broken by fishing bugs, as bigger bass seem to be lurking in deeper water. But the smaller fish make up for their lack in weight by their willingness to hit.

Bugs are usually made out of pieces of cork and are about as big as your thumbnail. Most of them have a tail or wings of deer hair or other material. As you move the lure on top of the water it gurgles, slurps and pops. It's just like ringing a dinner bell for bass.

Do not be afraid to fish them slowly. It's almost an aquatic adage that the way to tell a "pro" is to see how slowly he fishes an artificial lure, and the more tedious he works the longer he has been doing it. This also holds true for fishing poppers.

Another tip that will sometimes produce fish is to use progressively smaller poppers, particularly so if bass strike but are not hooked. They tend to take a small bug deeper into their jaws, and are therefore easier to hook.

Good water areas to fish are around and in weed beds and patches of lily pads.

With cooler weather coming up, fishing will improve and good catches will be made until late October. For some fast action in the next few weeks take Bill Kah's advice, "fish farm ponds for bass."

ROTC

To the Editor:

Point one: Freshmen and sophomores at Ohio State University do not parade around the campus in poorly tailored, ridiculous and outdated uniforms. ROTC units at the university issue each cadet and midshipman current regulation uniforms: shade 84 Air Force blues; shade 44 Army greens; and Navy dress blues.

Point two: Countless valuable hours are not lost during the first two years of college training marching to the cadence of enlisted and commissioned officers of the Army and Air Force who had to be stationed some place during their rotation to American soil. Cadets are drilled by their peers, while regular Army and Air Force personnel merely observe. Drill sessions are held only once a week for 48 minutes.

Classes are held twice a week and are also 48 minutes each. This time really isn't wasted, since the erstwhile cadet would doubtless be beer drinking, bull shooting at the fraternity house or debating the advisability of sending a letter to the United Nations urging recognition of Red China.

Point three: Although, as Allen says, no credit is given towards service time and pay longevity, I personally know of men who have been made squad leaders upon induction, merely because of two years of college ROTC. Any disrespect of this training is quite probably brought about by the recruit's own omniscient attitude because he had ROTC.

A blue flag, indicating no drill due to inclement weather is hoisted high above the Military Science building. Drill sessions end each spring with the Corps Day and President's Review ceremonies on the first Thursday in May, so there is no real summer heat about which to complain.

Point five: OSU officials do not nearly brag about drop out figures. They do brag. Each quarter public relations releases are sent to each newspaper in the state telling how many hundreds of students have been flunked out the preceding quarter. Is this not bragging?

The three hours (or rather 144 minutes) spent each week in ROTC class and drill is good for the majority of students, many of whom are straight from the cloistered walls of high school and thrown headlong into a relatively restriction-free academic situation. The disciplins incurred in ROTC helps level off the flight of youngsters who are beginning to test their wings for the first time in a quasi-adult world.

In addition, this brief exposure to military life has turned more than one youth into a career officer in the Army, Air Force or Navy.

William Howard Botkin,
Ex ROTC student

CONGRATULATIONS

The editorial page of your paper has certainly taken on a fine look! I just now sat down and re-read the "Sewer Program Needs" (Aug. 17). Certainly of interest to everyone in and around Columbus.

Your society page, fair news, sports coverage and other news, I just don't see how you can do it! And you keep up with all seven communities! Wonderful!

Now, if you could just find a small spot for school news . . . maybe twice a month.

Congratulations on your fine paper.

Just a teacher,
Carrie Rarick

Shopping Around By Rolfe

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

I used to be calm and relaxed.

But, thank heaven, I've gotten over that. Now, I'm nice and tense and a credit to all my nervous friends.

You see, it's vogue to be nervous, "shook-up" and all that. In fact, if you aren't, you just don't seem to fit in these days.

You have to have the jitters. Nearly everybody else has.

Aubie

A cab driver turned the corner the other day with a mild squeal of tires and a woman standing on the curb went straight up in the air.

People are hurrying to the doctor all the time with vague pains. They're given the needle, photographed, pilled and sent home with a diagnosis of "nerves."

And, it ain't funny.

President Kennedy's call for a boost in the draft wasn't exactly a tranquilizer. Students enrolled in fall courses are "shook." So are their mothers, sisters and girl friends.

But this all seems normal for this day and age. It's a strange thing.

People today are always on the move. You've probably heard this phrase a million times already but, it's true.

The jitteriest persons are the ones who've worked so long they have what is sometimes called "battle fatigue."

Also, you have to have phobias today to fit in with the crowd. I never used to have any. I voted a split ticket, wore a thirty-three sleeve and ate about what I wanted to.

This wasn't good enough.

At parties people would tell me that if I knew what was good for me I'd get myself some phobias or allergies. Otherwise, I wouldn't have anything to talk about.

Many people cringe at peach fuzz, find leather chairs and sectional davenports repulsive and wonder for hours what they'd do if somebody blew chicken feathers in their faces.

All I could seem to come up with was the remembrance that I had an aunt who wouldn't sweep under beds. But, this wasn't good enough.

I digress.

The point is, people want to worry—it doesn't make them feel so bad.

What's the answer?

For one thing, we can learn to "stay loose." Roll with the punches. Be flexible. Develop a thicker skin and try to live as less complicatedly as possible.

It's not easy.

There never has been any guarantee of security and there probably never will be.

Instead of paralyzing your mind and body with scary thoughts, accept the fact that there is nothing certain but change. Learn to live with it. Realize that the only thing predictable is unpredictability.

When you feel "shook," it's time to have some fun. Turn away from the frightening "maybe," and look at today.

—John Aubie, Jr.

Boys' Club Stakes Claim For Title

The Westside Boys Club Pony League team staked undisputed claim to a second league title this season as they won the South Section of the City Recreation Junior Knothole League with a record of 8-0.

The last league victory of the season was achieved via forfeit over the Eastside Builders.

On Thursday, the team travelled to Worthington to meet the Pony League All-Stars and came home with a 9-4 victory.

John Morlan's three-run homer, his ninth of the year, got the visitors off to a good lead in the first inning which they never relinquished.

Pete Eyer and Morlan split the pitching chores with Eyer picking up his twelfth win. Eyer aided his own cause with three hits while Jerry Francis, Dana Noble, and John Postle had two hits and Rick Wuertz a triple to pace the attack.

Last weekend, the team and their coach were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dent, 201 N. Chase-av, at their farm south of Chillicothe.

Ohio Boys Foundation Teams Play

The West Mound Rams and Duckworth Plumbers, of the Ohio Boys Football Foundation, played a short scrimmage game Aug. 27.

The teams were evenly matched as Duckworth scored first on a 60-yard drive with Jim Harper scoring from four yards out.

The Rams scored on a 15-yard pass-run play with Don Baughman pitching and Ralph Arnett catching. Both teams scored in the third quarter.

West Mound Rams will play LeCoumpte of Reynoldsburg this Sunday, Sept. 3, at Founds Field, rear of Hilltonia Jr. High School.

Jets' Infield Is The Scene Of Problems

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a three-part series written by Hartley sportswriter Bob Wilcox on the Columbus Jets. It's being done to better acquaint you with one of Columbus' prides—a winning ball club).

The infield is a "scene" of plenty of problems unfortunately and plenty of personnel — fortunately.

First base has been the stickiest problem — using the least men.

After Charlie Leonard was shipped to Ashville, Shepard gave way and Don Clendenon took over at first, Larry Elliott moved in as regular right fielder and Clendenon has been nothing less than sensational at first.

From a batting mark somewhere in the mid .200's, Clendenon literally went wild during the month of July . . . and the Jets went along to not only keep first place but to increase their lead including some fine winning road trips. He won honors as loop player of the month for July.

Don led in RBI's with 74 (Mejias second with 68), after leading the home run derby for quite a while he now trails Mejias 20-19, leads in doubles with 23 (Elliot has 20) and triples with 9 to Mejias' 6.

Injuries as stated in prior columns of this series have been the Jets' biggest bugaboo and obstacle to overcome the entire season . . . and the infield having most of them also had the other big loss. On July 26 in a collision at second base, Jet second sacker Johnny Schaive came out "second best" with a fractured arm and is lost for the season . . . though a mild possibility he might be ready by playoff time.

Clendenon and Schaive had one item in common other than being "big losses" . . . both had played in almost every ballgame the Jets have played, and were the only twosome that could make that claim! Schaive played in every game until his injury . . . Clendenon in all but one till his.

Schaive at 27 was a veteran ballplayer having seen some major league time with Washington last year before being purchased by the Jets this spring.

Not a "big" bat or average, he could poke the long ball and did some timely hitting . . . though not quite as much as Jet officials had hoped he would.

But he, with his maturity and experience, was a take charge man with lots of spirit and he proved not only an able second sacker but a big spark in the Jets' early spurt to the top . . . and stay. He was hitting .215 but with 11 homeruns (club leadership at time) at time of his departure. (Incidentally he played some with Charleston, of all places, last summer and hit a booming .314 before reporting to the Senators where he hit .250.)

Covering the second-short-third situation . . . Dick Gray started the season as undisputed thirdbaseman, Ed Sada won the starting shortstop nod and of course Schaive at second. Then Sada was found "wanting" at short and Buddy Pritchard, relegated to utility infielder at the beginning of the season, moved in as starting shortstop.

Gray is not only team captain but also an older veteran of several campaigns including stays in the majors. He, like Schaive, has also been a spirited inspirational leader, especially to the predominant younger ball players of the club over the season. He like his fellow infielders has been out considerable with the bug and an injury but has played with the bug, too . . . thus playing 101 of the Jets' 136 games to date.

The Jets have twice had nine-game leads, once at 9½ and after their doubleheader triumph upon moving into Charleston a week ago Monday hit their season high mark with an 11-game bulge. However they came out of the six-game series with the same nine-game lead they entered it with and after the double loss to JC coupled with Charleston split, they went down to an eight-game margin.

The magic number (every time Charleston loses it's worth one game . . . the Jets win another one so a combination of the two factors above might mean a two game jump in a day) is currently 7. A special pennant clinching party has been scheduled for Jet Stadium for the first night after the clinching (if done at home . . . if on the road it'll be the first following home game). Local service and civic groups are arranging the party in which local and national dignitaries will participate in pre-game ceremonies and fireworks will follow the game.

General Manager Harold Copper has also announced a rare type game of appreciation for the Jet players . . . and most certainly the kind of appreciation that the Jets as family men, etc. will most enjoy and appreciate. Saturday, Sept. 9, is designated as "Player Appreciation" night against Charleston. Jet badges and passes will not be honored as all proceeds from the game, over taxes and the visiting club and league office shares are paid, will go to the Jet team. Individual shares will be determined in a vote taken by Captain Gray (like splitting the World Series shares). This will be done whether the Jets take the pennant or not.

Bulletin . . . The parent Pittsburgh Pirates have called up Jet outfielder John Powers, but not until the Columbus season is over (thank goodness).

Though this was billed as a three-part series, watch next week's column for a part "3A" so to speak. At that time I'll take a look at the Jets' future.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

High Schools Should Give The Fans An Even Break

Since we were on the subject of football in last week's debut column, it might be a good idea to stick to it and expand on another general aspect of the game.

Football is with us. And, here in Columbus, it makes good copy. The Capital City has been called a football town and there is good reason.

Even last year, when Woody Hayes and his group finished "unbrilliantly," there was the newly-formed Columbus Colts to grab the interest spotlight.

Columbus is a funny town and thrives on a winner. The Colts were heralded as heroes last year for saving face here after they felt they were let down by Hayes & Co.

Now, there is a new team on the horizon which is making a bid for football attention—the Ohio Colts.

Besides this, high school football is playing a major role in the local grid pictures. Interest will probably be at an all time high this year.

Try To Improve . . .

While on the subject of high school football, why don't more schools try to improve the game? More specifically, why don't more coaches make a greater attempt to build up interest? They could take a lesson from the home-town college and semi-pro teams mentioned above.

It seems like a fine idea for schools to follow the exciting examples being set by such teams as South, Groveport, Academy and — this year — West and provide a more interesting football product for the spectators and the players themselves?

It seems to this writer that this is as it should be since football is a sport and a sport is denotatively defined as "a recreation; a pleasant pastime."

And don't try to tell me that amateur high school teams cannot fall under this definition. There would be no harm in making a football game more of a show with an emphasis on the colorful.

High school bands are following patterns set by Ohio State and the other more colorful music groups. Last year, for example, interest at Marion-Franklin took a giant step forward thanks to the musical formations and tactics used there.

There are few who will dispute the feeling that Linden-McKinley was a much more interesting, colorful team than, say, Eastmoor.

Linden opened up with eight flankers to one side while the Warriors took a conservative approach to the game.

Granted, Eastmoor came out as co-champs with Linden, but this column disagrees with those who concur with the late Jim Tatum when he said that "winning is not the most important thing; it's the only thing."

Not Amateur Sport?

If this be the case, then let's not kid ourselves any longer that high school football is still an amateur sport. Teams adhering to this philosophy might as well admit a degree of professionalism just as great as any pro team.

Open the game up more; introduce variety in the offenses; play more boys — these are just some suggestions for making the high school game as appealing to the fans as, for example, the college game has become.

Both Iowa and LSU have shown that these things could be done and games still won. On the high school level, West will try to prove it this year and Linden proved it last year.

Why don't some of the other staid, unimaginative pea-brained age teams follow suit?

And, don't try to tell me that when you're working with kids it can't be done. Recent news from Dover, Ohio on the Basketeers team which mimics the Globetrotters proves it. And football is just a sport like basketball.

I feel that it's a sport which would welcome a change even if fans had to dig a little deeper for the price of admission. It would make the Booster Clubs happy.

DOLLAR FEDERAL SAVINGS

RESOLUTION

By action of its responsible officers, the Dollar Federal Savings and Loan Association has recently taken a forthright public position on the issue of Communism as evidenced by its co-sponsorhip of the July 4th appearance in Columbus of Herbert Philbrick.

Inasmuch as it has become an indisputable fact that the dangerous impact of international communism threatens us as free Americans, with all the frightening implications inherent in its menace, it would seem not only proper, but absolutely essential for individuals and institutions to take an aggressive stand on this dangerous threat to our national and individual freedom.

We, therefore, the Board of Directors of Dollar Federal Savings and Loan, by this action hereby makes it a matter of formal record that we support and approve the above described actions of our offices and we further pledge to them our full and unqualified support in their continued efforts in this field.

GROCER KILLED BY BANDIT

GRIEVING NEIGHBORS stood by as the body of Edgar L. Weaver, 69, victim of robbery and murder was carried from his grocery Monday afternoon. Operator of Weaver's Market, 1783 N. Hague-av just south of Trabue-rd since 1932, he was shot four times with a 25-caliber gun sometime after 2:30 p.m. His body was found lying behind the meat counter by a youngster about 3:30 p.m. No one in the neighborhood heard the shooting or saw the killer.

Funeral Set For Weaver, Murder Victim

Funeral service for Edgar L. Weaver, 69, 36 Schultz-av, shot to death in his grocery store by an unknown bandit Monday afternoon, will be held Thursday, 1 p.m. at Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Described by neighbors as a friend who offered credit to his customers and allowed bills to mount up during the depression, he had operated Weaver's Market, 1783 N. Hague-av, since 1932.

The cash register containing a small amount of change was not touched, investigators said. His wallet and $50 or $60 he carried either in his wallet or loose in his pockets was missing.

Although the store had been burglarized before, this was the first time Weaver had been held up.

Time of the robbery and murder has been fixed as sometime between 2:30, when a customer called on the phone, and 3:30 p.m. when his body was discovered by a neighborhood boy.

He was lying on his back behind the meat counter with four bullets from a 25-caliber gun in his body.

Noise from mowers and from pounding at a construction site on nearby Trabue-rd is credited by neighbors for their failure to hear the shots.

Weaver is survived by his wife, Ruth; three sons, Edgar E. at home, Robert of Marysville and Edwin of Evansville, Ind.; two daughters, Mrs. Ethel M. Gavins of Columbus and Macie Bell of Marysville; a stepson, Robert Johnson at home, and grandchildren.

'Pace Setter' Project Slated By United Appeal

Business and industrial firms have an opportunity to be recognized on the 1961 United Appeal Corporate Giving Honor Roll.

Some of this area's companies, both large and small, are among those in Franklin County being approached in UA's "pace setter" project.

These companies are given the chance to pledge a "fair share" firm gift ahead of the regular campaign period. The purpose is to acquire gifts that would set a good pace for the regular campaign, General Chairman E. D. Givens explained.

Those pledging the advance fair share are entered on the Honor Roll list which is publicized through various media.

Bivens pointed out that $240,000 more than last year must be raised to meet the minimum requirements of the 65 health, welfare and youth-serving organizations supported through UA funds.

FIRST RETURNS ARE IN ON SUNDAY CLOSING DRIVE

Columbus officials can be sure of public support for the observance of Ohio's Sunday Closing Law for non-essential business, first returns in a campaign to "Keep Sunday Sunday" indicated.

Gene P. King, executive secretary of the newly formed Greater Columbus Sunday Association, has disclosed that nearly 4,000 persons living in Columbus and Franklin County had signed coupons pledging help in the campaign, with hundreds being received daily.

"There is no need to think the Sunday closing law is a 'hot potato'," King said. "People want this law. People want it enforced. People want Sunday restored to them as a day of worship, rest, and relaxation.

"In some cities, particularly in northern Ohio, public officials are saying they'd just as soon not get involved. That attitude is entirely unjustified anywhere, and particularly in the Columbus area.

"We have the names of people who want them to act. We have signatures — given freely and given in the hope that the law will be observed as Ohio's legislature and Ohio's governor meant it to be."

The Greater Columbus Sunday Association was organized two weeks ago to encourage "the observance of Sunday as a day of rest and recreation" and to press for observance of the closing law.

"We have received signed coupons clipped from newspaper advertisements from all sections of Columbus and many of the suburbs and Franklin County rural areas," King continued.

"What was most interesting, however, was the range of reasons given for wanting to help us act against the organizations that are trying to make Columbus a wide-open, seven-day fast buck town.

"Many cited the Biblical Commandment and their lifelong religious teachings about the Sabbath. Others pinpointed the social and health hazards — the congestion — the spread of the regular week's tensions and competition to Sunday.

YOUNGSTERS ENJOY THE ROLLER COASTER . . .
During Hartley Newspapers Day at Norwood Park

KIDS, HERE'S BIG NEWS

Saturday, Sept. 16 Is Hartley 'Nickel Day' At Norwood Park

Hey kids! Yes, here's good news . . . Because of the tremendous response that the annual Hartley Newspapers "Nickel Day," at Norwood Park has had in the past, the Hartley folks have decided to offer the event again this year.

The date is Saturday, Sept. 16, and the place — Norwood Park, 2025 E. Main-st.

The cost for all rides on that day will be five cents per ride . . . and the park will be open from 1 until 10 p.m.!

In addition to the many fine rides, there are miniature golf and picnic facilities. Miniature golf will be offered at a special rate of 15 cents during the afternoon, and 35 cents after 6 p.m.

There will be big drawings for door prizes, which include a bicycle and radios. Drawing stubs will be given out with each five-cent ride, purchase, so there's plenty of chance to win.

The picnic area is free, just in case you want to bring Mom and Dad along and make a day of it. Free parking is an added feature.

Major rides at Norwood include the dodgem, scrambler, roller coaster, pretzel, and ferris wheel. Many rides for the younger kids, also are available.

That's it! Saturday, Sept. 16 is the big day! . . . Why not get Mom and Dad to come along . . . they'll enjoy it, too!

Units Of 37th Infantry Return Home After Training

All units of the 37th Infantry Division have returned home after the annual summer field training program. The Buckeye citizen-soldiers returned Monday from Camp Grayling after a trip totaling some 700 to 732 miles for 1900 jeeps and trucks. Only a few engineer troops from northeastern Ohio remain to close the reservation for the year.

Commanding Gen. Loren G. Windom termed this year's encampment "one of the most successful in our history.

In a special staff meeting prior to breaking camp Saturday, Gen. Windom complimented major unit commanders on a "job well done." Despite the heavy training schedule, the enthusiasm remained extremely high, Gen. Windom said.

The army grade card, prepared by regular troops from the active forces agreed with Gen. Windom as his 800 men came out with a majority of top scores in the "G. I. Grading System." Over 95 per cent of the scores recorded were in the Superior or Excellent category.

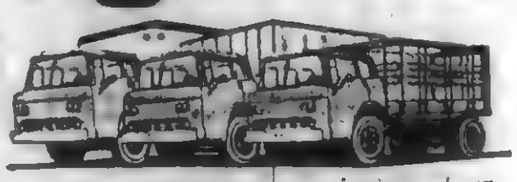
In comparison with other National Guard or Reserve units, the 37th Division was reported to be high on the list. Units of the Buckeye Division also stacked up a good attendance record for the two weeks. Every unit was above the required 90 percent attendance requirement at its annual active duty training and eleven of the units brought 100 per cent of their commands to the summer training.

Return to civilization was a welcome relief to the Ohio troops who had lived in the far reaches of the 134,000 acre reservation last week. All but a handfull of administrative personnel slept on the cold sand and learned to live as they might in combat. Conditions closely simulating war were the order of the week.

WW 1 Vets Slate Meet

The Veterans of World War I, Capitol City Barracks 461, will meet Sunday, Sept. 3, at Veterans Memorial. The session will begin at 2 p.m. in Room 201. The auxiliary will meet at the same time in Room 203.

Beulah Re-opens Sept. 9 For Fall Meet



Beulah Park resumes action starting Sept. 9, and running through Sept. 30 as the thoroughbred sport returns to central Ohio after a three-month absence.

The 19-day fall meeting will be highlighted by the 17th running of the Ohio Championship, a $10,000 added test at a mile and a sixteenth Saturday, Sept.

Auditions for the 70-voice choir of Broad Street Presbyterian Church, 760 E. Broad, will be held at the church Thursday, Aug. 31, from 7 to 8 p.m. No appointment will be necessary.

Rehearsals will be held each Thursday evening at 7:15 beginning Sept. 7.

Besides furnishing music for Sunday morning worship services, the choir will soon begin work on Handel's "Messiah" to be given in early December.

With The Playgrounds

Rain hampered the Junior Jet League World Series at Sunshine this week. Three evenings of play were halted by the inclement weather. This will mean that play will continue into next week, even though the playground season is officially over. The games will be conducted by the year-around staff.

Results of the contests played thus far are as follows:

National League — Angels 6, Cubs 0; Dodgers 6, Cards 0; Reds 8, Twins 0; Reds 6; Phillies 0; Dodgers 5, Angels 3; Twins 8, Pirates 4; Braves 6, Giants 1.

American League — Red Sox 6, Tigers 0; Senators 6, Twins 1; Indians 6, Athletics 1; White Sox 6, Orioles 0; Indians 5, Red Sox 4; Angels 6, Yankees 0.

The second coaches' game was held Friday evenings with the National League avenging an earlier defeat by whipping the American League 10-2. This evens the series at one game apiece with the rubber match set for Monday evening.

Business Communications Meet Scheduled

W. T. Cavanaugh, executive director of the National Office Management Assn., has announced plans for a communications conference to be held in Philadelphia on Oct. 9 through 11.

Several internationally recognized authorities will present papers and lead forums in every field of business communications.

The conference will be open to members and non-members. Full information is available from NOMA World Hdqtrs., 1927 Old York-rd, Willow Grove, Pa.

West Jefferson Ox Roast Provides Year-Round Fun

Editor's note: The following was written by the West Jefferson Civic and Businessmen's Association to explain the use made of the money derived from the annual ox roast and a short history of the civic-sponsored event.

In answer to many requests for information on the expenditures of the monies from the past ten Ox Roasts, a rough breakdown has been prepared along with a short history of our Ox Roast.

In 1951, two civic minded citizens, Benner Edwards and Joe Lewis discussed the possibility of a holiday event. They decided on an Ox Roast to be held on Labor Day. They proceeded to contact the business section of town for donations from different businessmen and citizens. The meat was then bought and roasted in a pit and given away on Labor Day.

In 1952 the same procedure was followed, and from the donations the meat was bought and given away free.

In the summer of 1952, subscribers bought bonds or made donations, and materials were donated, and a blacktop tennis court was built.

In 1953 the Ox Roast went to a three-day event with midway rides, food stands and paid entertainment added, and a charge was placed upon the Ox Roast sandwiches.

The West Jefferson Community and Businessmen's Association decided to sponsor this as a yearly event. They voted to take the net proceeds and first reimburse all donators to the blacktop tennis court and then in the future place all net proceeds into a recreation fund for summer recreation.

The recreation fund was to help support a summer recreation program. This was to include the salaries of paid supervisors, buy playground space, playground facilities and various athletic equipment, as well as to maintain and replace lights and repair the football stadium.

From 1951 to 1952 the Ox Roast was non-profit. In the past eight years, from 1953 to 1960, the Ox Roast entire net of $25,414.34 has been placed into the recreation fund.

At various times during the course of each year, this recreation fund has been used to subsidize other functions. These consist of donation to the West Jefferson High School Athletic Association, for athletic supplies and equipment, support of the yearly Halloween parade and cash prizes for costume and cash prizes for window paintings; Christmas treats for school children and underschool children. The fund has also been used to sponsor annual sports banquets, pay speakers and to purchase trophies for outstanding high school athletes.

In the past eight years the Ox Roast has been a community project. At one time or other just about every service, business or social organization in the community has supplied manpower or worked with our organization in the planning. In some cases they worked as an organization on percentage, or donated the proceeds or their time to the Ox Roast. When they worked on a percentage, they used their share in their own special civic project. We are thus justly proud that our Ox Roast project has met with such united approval.

Let me take time to say to the citizens of our community on behalf of the West Jefferson Community and Business Assn. and on behalf of the workhorses, the three members of the Ox Roast commission of the past (10) years, many thanks!

It should be stressed again that ALL the net proceeds of the Ox Roast go directly into the recreation fund for use in civic projects and that not one penny is used for private purposes by the West Jefferson Community and Businessmen's Assn.

Following is the breakdown on the eight-year Ox Roast nets:

Tennis court blacktop	$1800.00
Purchase of 3.88 acres of land	9,700.00
Metal fence enclosure	515.09
Sports banquets, speeches, trophies	500.00
Christmas treats (7 years)	1,050.00
Halloween events	600.00
To West Jefferson HS Athletic Assn.	985.12
Summer Supervisor (salaries 1952-60)	6,500.00
Electric light bills, labor, lumber, paint, ground maint'ance	2,000.00
Miscellaneous exp.	264.22
Total expenditures	$23,914.34
Cash reserve	1,500.00
	$25,414.34
Total Ox Roast net 1953 to 1960	$25,414.34
Expenditures	23,914.34

Balance in savings $ 1,500.00

In addition to all of these accomplishments an electric scoreboard priced at $1,500 was purchased at a cost of $750, plus about $100 installation. The members of our organization, Leigh Bradfield, Ralph Parsons and Leonard Martin, donated beer and venison from a hunting trip and sponsored a supper. The proceeds from this meal contributed mostly to pay for the scoreboard.

In addition to this, local businessmen have sponsored softball teams each summer for the past ten years. This is estimated to amount to over $5000.

All in all, as an organization and as individuals, your local businessmen have contributed by their labor and cash the sum total of $30,650 towards the youth of their community.

VISIT LAKE REGION

Five scouts and their scoutmaster, Earl G. Moerch, of Troop 273, Optimist Club of West Columbus, went on a 16-day tour of northern Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

Their first camping place was Lake Pymatuning State Park in northeast Ohio. Then they stopped at Allegheny State Park near Salamanca, N.Y., where they baked several pies. Later a dozen raccoons invaded and stole several of the pies. The animals ate the cherry pies and tore up the peach pies.

Erie State Park near Dunkirk, N.Y., was the next stop. Hyde Park at Niagara Falls was the scene of their fourth camp. Here they visited Niagara Falls and crossed into Canada for a good look.

Four Creek Run near Youngs[illegible], N.Y., was the next campsite. From here they visited Fort Niagara, where there is the only French castle in North America. This old fort on Lake Ontario and the Niagara River was a highlight of the trip. The boys were able to swim in Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

Troop Hikes Trails

During the month of July Troop 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, hiked three trails.

Eleven scouts hiked the Simon Kenton Trail, 16 miles, from Springfield to Urbana. Two leaders also hiked.

The Little Miami Trail was 16 miles long and was from John Bryant State Park to George Rogers Clark State Park, near Springfield. Eleven boys hiked the trail.

Next came the Tulip Tree Trace and the Ten O'Clock Line in Brown County, Ind. Eleven boys and three leaders hiked the Tulip Tree Trace. It was 22 miles.

The Ten O'Clock Line found 13 boys and three leaders walking it. It was 16 miles long.

Twenty-five members of families went along on the trip for the last two trails, and camped in tents near the scouts.

Help At Hospital

Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 28 and 29, will find Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of the Columbus area helping out as ushers at the Open House of the new Grant Hospital. A group of scouts and Explorers from the Southwest District will be on duty.

Despite Communist jamming attempts listeners behind the Iron Curtain can hear Radio Free Europe's broadcasts 90 per cent of the time.

Seasonal Programs Slated To Begin At Community Centers

At Sunshine and Glenwood Recreation Centers, operated by the city, the winter schedule goes into effect Thursday. Hours will be from 2 to 10 p.m. daily and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Gladden Community House will resume activities after the annual staff vacations with an open house Sept. 21. Group program officially begins Sept 25.

The Hilltop YMCA will inaugurate its fall season with an open house Sept. 16-17. Various programs are scheduled to begin throughout the next two months.

'Y' Displays Activities

The two-day open house at the YMCA will serve as a showcase of activities. On display will be the "fruit" of the various programs.

It begins with contests and games for youngsters at 10 a.m. Saturday. From then until the closing band concert by Westmoor Junior High Sunday night, the agenda ranges through sporting events, a picnic, movies and a dance.

The program will be held in conjunction with the annual membership drive which gets underway Sept. 14 under the direction of the Rev. Sydney Everson, pastor of Westgate Methodist Church.

Program Stresses Youth

The fall program at the "Y" will again stress youth activities such as crafts, Indian Guides and Junior and Senior Hi-Y.

On tap for adults is the informal school, offering classes in bridge, sketching, water color painting and dancing. The school begins during the second week in October.

Also for adults are clubs for those interested in coins, stamps, bridge and art.

Beginning Nov. 1, the "Y" will conduct a men and boys night at the gym on each Monday. Wednesdays beginning the second week in October, will be family night at the gym.

Gladden Sets Activities

At Gladden Community House a wide range of new programs are planned.

Among them is a Young Adults Club for those ranging in age from a senior in high school to 20-years-old. The group will meet on Thursday nights.

Also on tap is a Meh's Club which will meet periodically for supper and to hear a speaker.

The first aid class will be extended in content this year.

A studyhall for teenagers is to be conducted twice a week, furnishing students a place for supervised study. A teacher will be on hand to aid the teenagers.

The music program at Gladden will be enlarged. Plans call for both piano and voice lessons for children each Saturday.

Tap and ballet lessons are also slated for Saturdays.

Activities carried over from last year include the pre-teenage lounge on Friday afternoons, the Optimist basketball league for boys on Saturdays, and the little theatre group.

City Program Varied

At both city recreation centers, activities begun last year will continue.

Among them plans call for:

Arts and crafts for children and teenagers; adult sewing and painting classes; girls sewing and cooking; tap and ballet dancing.

Sports will include football, basketball, tumbling and physical fitness.

Stamp Out Stamps

CAMPAIGN EXPECTED ON WEST SIDE

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A drive is gaining momentum on a local level which could reach nation-wide significance before the whole thing is over.

The National Federation of Independent Business, a group founded in 1943 to serve independent merchants on a state and national level, has chosen to lash out against trading stamps.

Perry Warren, 12th Congressional District manager for the business organization, has been asked to advise the drive. Local businessmen are fast rallying to the cause.

The first local meeting to abolish the stamps in the state was held last Thursday in a South Side bowling alley. Some 50 Columbus area men —mostly from the gasoline industry — attended.

The service station owners are doing the most pushing in the project. However, corner store merchants who are feeling a financial "squeeze" by giving stamps are lending support.

The preliminary work in the abolition move is a slow process. Warren plans public meetings throughout the state for the purpose of, as he says, "educating and advising" businessmen.

Warren says the big step will be to get the issue into the legislature. This is the direction they're heading at present.

A second meeting was to be held Wednesday night with gasoline dealers attending from Newark, Marion and other surrounding cities.

The local secretary is Dick Baldridge, 1483 Parsons-av. Clyde Jones, 1705 Courtright-rd, is serving as vice-president.

The gasoline men complained the cost of the stamps is too high and they were losing "thousands of dollars" a year.

"We're in business to make money, not give it away," Baldrige said. "I can name dealers who are spending $1500 to $6000 a year on stamps. It's causing many of them to go into bankruptcy because overhead is too high."

Baldrige maintains the stamps are the biggest cause in the high overhead problem.

Most of the dealers feel that they've forced each other to give the stamps. They feel that without them (the stamps), they would go out of business.

"Housewives, particularly, go where they can get the stamps," Warren said. "The dealer who doesn't give them is out of luck. The dealer who does give them is out of luck too, financially speaking."

All of the dealers attending the meeting last Thursday were unanimous for doing away with trading stamps. They've felt this way before, but the project fell through.

"State dealers tried during the last legislative session to have the stamps abolished, but lawmakers felt that they couldn't make any restrictions on the stamp companies.

"The buying public in the state has been led to believe by stamp company advertising that the dealers give them freely without any pain financially," Warren said. "This is not true."

The biggest complaints are coming from the small merchants who say they are feeling the pressure the most. They can't afford to give them, and they can't afford not to give them.

Warren reports that other states have succeeded in abolishing the stamp practice. Naturally, a law can't be passed nation-wide to prohibit the

PARTY-GOERS ALL WED OVER HALF CENTURY

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY members of Hartley Newspapers Golden Wedding Club were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mascle, manager of the Holiday Inn, at a party held in their honor at the inn last Friday. The 70 couples, all residents of West Rural-Urban News, The Hilltop Record and West Side News circulation areas, were entertained with a program followed by refreshments. Guests applaud remarks of speaker "Dusty" Miller, standing, left background. C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of Hartley Newspapers, is in left foreground. More photos on page 5.

Hilltopper Named To FHA Post Tuesday

A Hilltop son became director of the Columbus insurance offices of the Federal Housing Authority in ceremonies downtown Tuesday noon.

He is Roy D. Allen, 54, whose father, H. O. Allen, lives at 224 S. Burgess-av.

Roy D. Allen

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt administered the oath of office at a gathering of Allen's friends and relatives in the FHA office in the Old Post office.

In his new post Allen will direct the agency's business with banks and other financial institutions in 42 Ohio counties. He succeeds Forrest Smith, who has assumed a vice-presidency with the Brunson organization.

Prior to his appointment by Neal J. Hardy, commissioner of the FHA in Washington, Allen was general manager of Vernon C. Neal, Inc. for eight years. He held offices in Columbus and Pittsburgh. In all he has spent 30 years in the building and construction business.

He also served during World War II as a captain in the Army Ordnance Corps and for a year was assigned in Burma. He was graduated from West High School in 1925 and later attended Ohio State University.

Allen and his wife, Serepta, live at 2861 Margate-rd.

Annual Motorcycle Races Set

The 13th annual motorcycle races sponsored jointly by Camp Chase Post 96, American Legion, and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club will be held Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. Motorcycle riders from 19 states and Canada will compete for $2200 in prizes and trophies.

The Ohio Expert Championship will be the main event. Dick Klamforth of Groveport, winner of this race many times in the past will again compete.

Some 81 entries have already been received. Over 100 riders are expected for the time trials starting at 10 a.m. The first race begins at 2 p.m.

West Side Council, City Engineer Set Traffic Meet

West Side traffic problems will be the subject of an exploratory meeting tonight between the Neighborhood Council and City Traffic Engineer John Gallagher.

The meeting comes as the first step in an all-out campaign by the community group to improve traffic conditions in the area.

No immediate action is expected from the meeting according to spokesman Al Wilder. "It's just an effort to find out what the city has in mind for the area and to let them know what we think should be done."

Wilder continued, "however, we hope that a list of proposals will grow from the session."

The meeting, which is not open to the public, will be held at 7:45 p.m. in Gladden Community House.

The council's traffic committee has indicated it will recommend:

- Creation of more one-way streets throughout the West Side.
- Installation of a traffic light at Broad and Glenwood
- Elimination of the Souderav "traffic trap."

Cimmittee Chairman Frank Schneider explained that "we don't intend to ask for a basketfull right off the bat. We know we wouldn't get it

Of all the recommendations, Schneider indicated the committee was most interested in the proposal to create one-way streets.

He pointed out that the narrow streets in the area almost made two-way traffic impossible.

The traffic engineer has not indicated what recommendations he will make.

Other proposals up for consideration are:

Establishment of reversible lanes on W. Broad which would carry inbound traffic in the morning and outbound traffic at night; installation of traffic light at Town and Davis; elimination of all left turns on W. Broad; installation of traffic lights at the expressway ramps; erection of 25 per hour speed limit markers on all side streets.

THE 'STAMP ACT' in Ohio is being moved along by these three men. They are, left to right, Dick Baldrige, Perry Warren and Clyde Jones. Warren is the district manager for the National Federation of Business who is helping the Columbus merchants to abolish trading stamps. Baldridge is Secretary of the local group and Jones is vice-president.

'SAFETY ALL THE TIME'-SCHOLER

Careful Driving Isn't Holiday Affair

The two-week pre-Labor Day period—accident-wise—was more discouraging than the holiday death toll itself, according to Columbus Police Chief George Scholer.

There were 816 accidents from Aug. 16 through Aug. 31 and 1,113 hazardous moving violation arrests recorded in the city during this 15-day period.

"This shows an increase in accidents and a decrease in arrests, indicating stricter enforcement is needed," Scholer said.

Scholer added that "with the schools opening, each officer has again been requested to be especially vigilant to school areas in their respective districts.

"They will also assist children in crossing and advise them in proper use of the streets."

The downtown area has been the most troublesome for Scholer and his crew. The Chief wants increased enforcement on Stop Sign and Red Light violations with special emphasis to Broad and Main-sts during peak traffic hours.

Special attention will be given to W. Broad-st and Central-av during afternoon and evening hours with increased enforcement on Speed and Changing Lane violations.

Increased enforcement will also be made on Turning and Stop Sign violations on Livingston and Parsons-avs during peak traffic hours.

Red Light and OMVI (drinking and driving) violations will be enforced with special attention to E. Main-st and E. Livingston-av during afternoon and evening hours.

The High Accident Intersections during the 15-days include: Hudson and Summit (9), Spring-st and Interchange (9), Main and Weyant (5), Goodale Interchange (8), and Mound and Central (5).

Only two intersections were scenes of fatal accidents, namely Central and Mound where a passenger was killed following a red light violation.

Boosters Date Drive

Central High School Booster Club, in its second year of operation, will conduct an all-out membership drive Thursday evening, Sept. 14, 6 to 8:30.

Membership tickets costing $1, will also be admittance to the football game on Booster night, Oct. 27.

Anyone interested in helping the school as well as all alumnae and parents are invited to join. Parents and students wishing to volunteer help on the drive are asked to contact the school.

All former cheerleaders, majorettes and former band members will also participate in the Booster night program, and are asked to contact Robert D. Rockey at the school.

Baseball Trip Nearly Full

The big question in Ohio these days involves the Cincinnati Reds . . . will they or won't they?

Pennant-bound or not, the Reds are displaying a combination of power and pitching which is establishing them as one of the finest teams the National League has seen for some years.

If you'd like to see how you can be one of the lucky Hartley Newspapers readers who will make the Sept. 24 trip to Cincinnati to watch the Reds play the San Francisco Giants in the last Sunday home game of the season, look for the story and coupon inside this week's paper.

For Real Fine Music — Try Jonah Jones At The Gloria

The muted sounds of one of jazzdom's coolest horns swept onto Riverside Drive Monday night, as Jonah Jones and his quartet opened a six-night stand at the Gloria Restaurant.

Jonah and the group, consisting of Teddy Brannon on piano, John Brown on bass and George Foster on drums, render a wide variety of tunes, many of which are included on their Capitol albums. Few albums on the market have met with the success experienced by Jonah with his "Muted Jazz," "Jumpin' With Jonah," "Swingin' On Broadway" and "A Touch Of Blue."

Jonah's arrival at muted "soundsville" was an accident, he says. When he first formed his quartet and began his first engagement as replacement band at the Embers in 1955, he put a mute on his horn to avoid blowing paying customers out of the exclusive Manhattan steak house.

That was it . . . and it worked. The bossman was happy because the people came . . . and came . . . and came to hear the man with the horn. Patrons were happy because they could listen to good jazz and dine at the same time. And Jonah? Well, he'd found the sound.

And that has made a lot of people happy.

200-Bed Emergency Hospital Available In Franklin County

The Academy of Medicine of Columbus and Franklin County has announced the permanent assignment in Franklin County of a 200-bed emergency hospital.

Dr. W. A. Butcher, chairman of the Disaster Committee of the Academy, said that such hospitals are for use only in the event of a major disaster to the community and are now assigned to critical areas by the Emergency Health Mobilization office of the State Health Department.

This emergency hospital is complete even to having its own electrical generator and is packaged so that it may be stored until needed. It can be set up in 12 to 18 hours and would be operated by members of the Academy's Hospital Disaster Units, who have been trained by the American Red Cross.

A unique method of storage has been arranged with the assistance of the Franklin County Civil Defense organization, which has purchased two truck trailers for this [illegible]

The hospital will be permanently packed in these trailers so that in an emergency the trailers may be hitched to tractors and hauled to the nearest acceptable building for unloading and setting up.

The assignment of the hospital unit to Columbus and Franklin County Civil Defense also received the cooperation of the city administration in arranging permanent parking facilities for the trailers. They will be stationed on the grounds of the Columbus Zoo, which is outside the limits of the probable area of a nuclear disaster to metropolitan Columbus.

There will be seven events with time trials at 12:30 p.m. and racing at 2:30 p.m. Appearing as a special added attraction will be parachutist Don Lamar. He will jump from 7000 feet and will free-fall 5000 feet before opening his chute and landing in front of the grandstand.

Friday night's supermodified feature at Columbus Motor speedway was captured by Jim Gushman with Todd Gibson and Bob Smith next in line. The flying stock feature was won by Sam Bellfiore.

Both Friday and Sunday night's flying stock shows at Powell were rained out, however racing is scheduled to resum this Friday night.

Six Out Of Seven – Enough Shopping Days Per Week

Those who believe in the things that have gone into making this country great should join in the campaign to stop further Sunday shopping.

There is every reason to believe that six out of seven days a week is time enough to do the weekly buying.

We believe the people of Central Ohio are fundamentally agreed that turning Sunday into another business day is out of order and unwholesome for this community.

Sunday has always been regarded as a day of rest and in our American tradition has been established as a day set aside for the family and friends . . . not just another day of bustle and hurry and business pressure.

It appears however, that while certain large and small firms have tried to jockey for a better business position some of these firms have found Sunday to be a good business day. Now then the time has come when more and more firms that have always observed Sunday as a non-business day, are saying, "If some are going to stay open, we have but one recourse . . . so we will open too."

This appears to be unsound from an economic standpoint because if all stores are to remain open seven days a week it is obvious that the net result will be no more gross business but a considerably higher expense and a resulting higher cost of product and service.

The current campaign being conducted by the Greater Columbus Sunday Association is attempting to show the folly of this action by asking people to refrain from making purchases on Sunday.

The law of the State of Ohio says that certain types of business should not operate on Sunday. It appears definite that unless certain stores close voluntarily a big push will be made locally to see that the law is enforced. This same law provides that certain types of services affecting the health and welfare of the community may operate on Sunday.

It is certainly to be hoped that thinking people can solve their problems without recourse to the law. However, it is likewise a fact that the law should not be flouted by those who seek a particular economic advantage by keeping their places of business open on Sunday.

The current campaign is not one to be taken lightly. Every person who enjoys the opportunity to attend church on Sunday or to have the day as a set time for relaxation should back up the efforts of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

In recent weeks certain additional retail stores have decided to try the Sunday field and have found to their disappointment that the resulting business didn't pay their light bills.

Today most business firms are providing their employees more vacation time, more paid holidays and shorter hours. At the same time it is to be hoped there can be some solution of the problem of staying open twenty four hours a day and seven days a week.

If you believe in preserving Sunday stand up and be counted by voicing your feelings to the business people you patronize on the other six days of the week. Also add your encouragement in the current campaign by mailing one of the coupons to be found elsewhere in this paper today.

Let's keep Sunday. . . . . : Sunday.

Columbus And Censorship

It has been said that the fear of one evil often moves us to the creation of another even greater. This would seem to be true of the coming "censorship" proposal Monday at Columbus City Council. The "evil" that is to be done away with, is the one of "bad" movies and their effect upon our society; the method to be employed is that of a board or other group of censors. It will be the proposed duty of this group to make a judgment for their fellow citizenry, regarding the acceptability of all movies.

There is no doubt that this can be done. There is also no doubt that if we allow a segment of our society to, by law, take our individual responsibility from us, we also give up the basic tenet of freedom. There is inscribed in the dome of the Jefferson Memorial in Washington, a statement to the effect that "I swear before God, eternal hostility to all forms of tyranny over the minds of men."

The proposal for censorship is being presented by a well meaning councilwoman at the urging of a group of our clubwomen. Their purpose apparently is to "stem the tide of immoral influences on our adults and children." This is indeed a noble purpose, but the method is very questionable.

In a country that does not pretend at freedom, all "bad" influences are handled by censorship. The catch, of course, is that the word "bad" changes meaning as it changes groups, clubs, governments and individuals. Outside of the law then, this decision (to determine the nature of "bad" or "evil" or "immoral") is an individual responsibility. The moment we desert this duty; the moment we let a few take it from us, we are no longer free.

What about children? Do they have the same rights? Freedom is for the citizen and the adult, as is responsibility. Parents must exercise this same responsibility over the lives of their children, and a parent does have the right to govern the influences brought to bear on his children. You cannot legislate the morality of the citizen or the adult. You have not the right, and it is too late. You do have the right wherein your children are concerned, and even the duty, before it is too late.

Designate films "for adults only" is this is necessary. If parents must give over their responsibility to the society, give it to the police and the courts, at least let them not give over also the responsibility of those adults, who are still willing to earn their freedom.

Editor's Note

The motion for this proposal will come before the elected members of your council this Monday evening at city hall. If you wish to have a hand in the democratic process, make yourself a part of that meeting. Letters to the Editor are welcomed.

Vital Item Ignored In Planning Of Most Home Survival Projects

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

With all the talk and printer's ink expended in behalf of human survival after an all-out blasting from H-bombs, the most important item needed for living off the land has, to my knowledge, been ignored. This necessary item is a dog. In a time when any and all survivors can expect to be hungry and unsheltered, an all-purpose hunting hound will put meat in your stomach and hides on your back.

There are differing viewpoints on living through and after atomic devastation. At best they are educated guesses about situations that would exist. Assume you live through the attack, and have followed instructions about stockpiling a two-week supply of food and water. What then? Erle Stanley Gardner, writing in SPORTS AFIELD, says a .22 handgun will be needed, among other things in a rather sensible survival kit, to reduce domestic livestock and small game to your possession.

If you are an average hunter, you will need some help to do this. Sure, there will be some cattle and other animals left, for they live away from cities on land not likely to be bombed on purpose. If the livestock survives, then it's likely the owner will be alive to claim his property with shotgun in hand. When you consider stark hunger and human nature, you must conclude that domestic animals will be corralled and slaughtered fairly rapidly. The next step will be searching for game and fish, and the experienced outdoorsman with his hunting dog will be the one who will pull himself and his immediate family through the crisis until society can again be organized.

Perhaps destruction will not be what most of us have been led to visualize by novels, motion pictures and psuedo-scientific reports. Maybe there will be rural communities left intact with law enforcement agencies to ration supplies and control mobs.

It is difficult to grasp the shock of being thrown back into the stone age within an instant. But, should this happen and you live, you could have the shattering experience some fine morning of watching a red sun give light to the earth while you stand there with a gnawing, aching belly. You are an aboriginal starting the day thinking of food. To live you will need what primitive peoples needed to exist—hunting skill and dogs. In far corners of the world these basic facts of life are still realized daily.

Your highly-finished pointer will not be much good, unless you can train him to trail game. Many mongrels would do better. The larger hounds could be converted from foxes and coons to all game with some effort. A few hounds I have known would not take much work, on second thought.

Most any dog from the hunting breeds would be better than none if his physical condition is good—that is, after his belly's been empty about a week. Even house dogs would revert to their ancestors, just as you, and start to hunt.

Better than any of these would be a small trail hound such as a beagle or basset. Beagles would not require much food for themselves, but bassets are more demanding of calories. The ideal then would be a beagle, or a similar-sized hunting mongrel.

I happen to have the ideal penned right outside my house at this moment. Within an hour I could take Trudy and any type of firearm you can name, and return with a rabbit or two. I can get a meal off the land as quickly as anyone I know.

Trudy will never win a field trial for she is a gun dog. If rabbits are running, then they are her favorite game. The cottontails will either hole up or she will return them to me. If there are no rabbits, she will track pheasants until they flush for me if I keep my part of the deal and stay with her. Her tail will semaphore me a message if she winds a covey of quail. Much to my dismay she has been known to tree squirrels; woodchucks, raccons and feral house cats. I could live to see the day when I would welcome any of these.

Survival kits, food stores, underground shelters and the like are fine. But if your life is to depend on your hunting, then you'd better go out with something hunters have always used — a dog.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Potatoes, Apples Are Good Standbys

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruits—Peaches, cantaloupe, summer apples, grapes.

POTATO, APPLE PROSPECTS GOOD — Potatoes and apples — two standbys with every cook — will likely be plentiful enough in the weeks ahead to top the list of thrifty food buys.

Present potato prospects promise ample supplies and reasonable retail prices for months to come. The late summer crop, which will supply most of our needs from now until early fall, is a little above both last year and average. And for fall, winter and spring demands, a big fall crop is on the way.

Nationally, the fall potato crop is now forecast to be 8 per cent above last year's large output and one-fifth above the 1950-59 average. In Ohio, the late summer crop is being harvested and quality is good, but the crop is estimated to be 6 per cent under last year.

Potato consumption is smaller today than it was 20 or 40 years ago, but we still use more potatoes than any other vegetable. Processed potato products are becoming increasingly important, both frozen and dehydrated.

WAXY RED, YELLOW APPLES —You can look forward to a large supply of apples during the months ahead. While the total U.S. apple crop is expected to be a bumper one, the Ohio crop will likely run 11 per cent smaller than last year. Harvest dates for most varieties in Ohio will run 2 to 3 weeks later this year than normal.

While on a trip to Ottawa County's "fruit basket" on August 23, we saw acres of trees loaded with beautiful Red and Golden Delicious apples. The fruit was large, well colored and should be exceptionally fine by harvest time.

POULTRY, MEATS — Turkey supplies are up and prices low for the season. But to date there has been less activity in the retail market than expected. Many suppliers are waiting to see what will happen with proposed government purchase for school lunches. Fryer production is still heavy and roasting chickens are thrifty buys.

Look for specials to go back on the roast cuts, after the picnic specials for last weekend. Pork prices are about the same as a year ago, and you can expect them to decline seasonally. Lamb prices are dropping, too.

At noon, an optimist says that the day is just beginning; a pessimist says it's half over.

Most women are dumb enough to ask a man's advice, but not smart enough to take it.

If you give a woman an inch she will complain that her clothes don't fit anymore.

Now they come out with rounded toed shoes, just when most women were developing pointed toed feet.

Hide and seek is a game most bachelors have to play at some time or another.

Some persons think the two party system means one on Friday and one on Saturday night.

Women think it's sad to see men throw away their money, but that's because they can't help.

Process of Elimination

A duck owned by a Tonawanda, N.Y., boy won the title of "Happiest Pet," in a contest, after he had broken away from his master and eaten a frog, two worms and a cricket. They were all contestants.

Mementos

When it was brought out that England's Dartmoor prison was to be demolished, several ex-prisoners wrote letters concerning it. They asked if they could have cell doors, complete with the peephole, as souvenirs.

Professional Ethics

A bandit walked into a Hollywood market and demanded all the money in the cash drawer or he would shoot. When the drawer was opened, he looked in and said, "There isn't enough money in here to bother with." He walked out empty handed.

Hot Time

A man batting in a cricket game received an unusually hot toss: the ball hit his pocket, igniting a box of matches.

"I don't know—we have lots of relatives! Don't you have one with slightly smaller letters?"

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

From the looks of things to come, it appears that white is no longer white; neither is black, black.

We have reached that stage in the evolution of society where a great emphasis is being placed on trying to ignore the color of a people's skin, regardless of what our eyes may see, and to overlook the accent of the spoken word, in spite of what our ears may hear.

Poeppelmeyer

Minstrel shows, the ones that are still pounding a beat, have toned down on the blackface approach and the colored man's dialect.

Modes of communication no longer have a right to discern among the origins of a man's race.

Jewish jokes, Irish jokes, Italian jokes have lost much of their flavor, and not from the standpoint of interpretation either.

Some have even gone so far as to suggest that songs such as "Old Man River," "Old Black Joe," et al, be "cleaned up," i.e., get rid of accents, which they claim gives a stereotyped concept of a race.

Yet, what these proponents forget is that the Irish among us, the Jewish among us, the Negroes among us, are part of our heritage. Their jokes, their anecdotes, their songs, the way they are sung and told are a part of the past of our country that supports our tradition.

Is it supposed to be a crime to be labeled a Negro, a Jew, an Italian?

Since when is it against human rights to be yourself, regardless of how others may feel?

Today, there is too much of a loss of identity (along with integrity) of the individual because of the submissive nature of groups.

You can often take back what you have said and apologize for what you have done, but you can never take back what you are.

So, Negro, Jew, Italian, French, German, Spanish, Sweedish—whatever you may be—let it be stated here and now that respect is not gained nor lost through the color of a man's skin no more than it is through the dialect he may have learned or the songs he may sing.

The only way to gain respect for oneself, is to respect oneself.

—John Poeppelmeyer

Special Nights Are Planned For Pennant Winning Jets

The Columbus Jets, champions of the International League for 1961, return home Friday morning from Richmond at 9:55 a.m. to close out the regular season at Jet Stadium.

The Jets play Charleston a two-night doubleheader Friday starting at 8 p.m. on "Pennant Party Night."

Theme is "Let's All Celebrate The First Baseball Pennant in Columbus in 20 Years." Many local and state government officials, trustees of the Jets and baseball dignitaries will participate in ceremonies between the games congratulating the Jets on winning the pennant.

A total of 5,000 Pennant Party Hats will be passed out to the fans and a gigantic fireworks display will follow the second game.

Saturday, Sept. 9, is "Player Appreciation Night" when the Jets meet Charleston at 8 p.m. All gate receipts that night, after taxes have been deducted, the league offies and visiting club paid, will be turned over to the Jet players. This is the Jet management's way of showing their appreciation of the excellent showing made by the team this season.

The Jet players will personally pass out official group team pictures that night to fans attending the game from 7 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. All the Jet players will be introduced before the game by WMNT's Joe Hill, Voice of the Jets.

The regular season ends Sunday afternoon when the Jets meet Charleston at 2 p.m. It's "Camera and Autograph Day." The Jet players will be available for pictures and autographs that day from 1 p.m. until 1:45 p.m. in the right field area. Fans should bring their cameras and the team pictures for autographs.

Jet badges will not be good Friday or Saturday night but will be good Sunday afternoon. Children's prices will still prevail for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Aw Shucks And Gee Whiz! Gridiron Modesty Abounds

Pre-season football means just one thing to a sports journalist: a chance to participate in a human comedy.

It's a comedy that some Broadway agent could work into a short play. Perhaps a clever monologue be contrived by comedians.

There is nothing funnier in the world of sports than the pre-season interviews with football coaches.

Most of the fellows are so gosh-darned modest, we sometimes hate to pump them with questions.

Coaches are a shy, easy lot. Most of them possess a sickening modest quality. You know they're loaded with talent as far as their prospects are concerned. But what do they say? The same old negative-approach spills over.

Sometimes it's really not too funny.

Some coaches will clam up and not release anything. Not even an inkling about what the fans can expect to see. They say they don't want the opposing coaches to be too wise.

This is silly. Most of the teams, outside of the opener, get a chance to scout the upcoming games anyway. Nothing much escapes the shrewd scouts that work the high school games these days.

Many grid bosses feel that they're going to astound the fans with new tactics. They've been staying up nights and jotting down notes. They're all ready to go, but they don't anyone else to know.

It's psychology. "Let 'em think we're weak and we'll surprise them." Nothing is more effective than the element of surprise, they think.

'It's A Secret . . .'

On one high school football field during the pre-season practice I saw one guard standing rather bewildered on the line. I had a chance to get close enough to ask, "What play are you running?"

"Don't really know," he said. "It's a secret."

This is an extreme—a humorous extreme.

Now that the pre-season stories are history, here are a few colorful, but sorely unimaginative questions that were jotted down during interviews:

You first catch the coach's attention (he's usually busy blowing a whistle or shouting) and ask if you can speak with him.

"You a reporter?" he asks.

You answer "yes" and he cringes a bit.

"How do things look?" you ask.

"Well, we'll show up for the opener," he says.

He usually chuckles after saying this—just like he made up a new joke or something. Perhaps he doesn't remember that he said the same thing last year, and the year before, ad naseum.

Not Good Copy . . .

Since "showing up for the opener" doesn't make particularly good news copy, you proceed further:

"How's your depth?" you ask.

"Weak," he says.

"How about speed?" you ask.

"Slow," he says.

"And experience?" you ask.

"Ouch," he says.

So far, you've compiled about enough copy for two and a half paragraphs in the school's bi-monthly publication.

But, that's the way it goes. At the awards dinner following the season the coaches' stories usually change radically. If his team wins the championship, the coach says, "We had it wrapped up right from the start."

If anyone has a good book or two on the fine art of self-confidence, why not drop it in the mail to a favorite coach. There's still time.

HERE IT IS . . . .

CITY CHAMPS

West Side Boys Club Wins Crown

The Westside Boys Club Pony League, Junior Knothole team added the crowning achievement to a fine season as they annexed the City Junior Knothole championship last Friday at Gowdy Field, 1-0, over the Junior Warhawks who have been City Champs the past two years.

The Championship game was set up by virtue of the fact that each team had won their respective knothole leagues with unblemished records.

Boys Club Pitcher Pete Eyer threw a no hitter and allowed only two runners to reach base, one on a walk and one via an error.

Eyer got great backing from his infield which repeatedly came up with clutch plays to turn back any threats by the opposition.

The game was scoreless for four and a half innings until the boys club combined an error and two hits into the game's only run in the bottom of the fifth inning. Rick Wuertz led off the inning by being safe on an error.

He moved to third on a single by Dan Dent, was thrown out at home trying to score on John Postle's grounder, then Dusty Hoover shot a single past third base to plate Dent with the game's only run.

On Sunday, the team went out to St. Agnes to meet the All-Stars from the Pony League.

In a double-header, the Boys Club won both games and the loop crown.

In the opener, John Morlan went the route, scattering five hits for a 5-4 victory.

It was his third win without a loss. Jerry Francis with a two-run triple and a single paced the attack.

In the second game, Eyer came back with only two days' rest to pick up his fourteenth victory by a 7-4 count.

John Postle with three-for-three, Eyer and Hoover with two hits each supplied the offense.

On Monday, they met the Hilltop Y Little Nine All-Stars and emerged with an 8-5 victory.

Starting pitcher Jerry Francis picked up his eighth victory of the year without a loss with the aid of a neat relief job by Dan Dent.

The weekend before the team and their coach were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dent, of 201 N. Chase on their 53-acre farm south of Chillicothe.

They left on Saturday afternoon, stayed overnight, attended church together on Sunday morning at the Tyler Memorial FUB Church and returned home Sunday evening.

Adult Cubbing Course Planned At Hilltop Church

Paul Schofield, 798 E. Warren-av, assistant Southwest district commissioner for the Cub Scout Roundtables, announces a one-night training opportunity for all adults, parents, and volunteer adult Cub officials.

It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 11, at Hillcrest Baptist Church, W. Broad-st and Elden-av.

Each participant in the 90-minute session will receive a training certificate. Parent-Scout program relationships will be emphasized.

The Good Music Station

This sign threatens the family life of our community!

Do you realize that YOUR Sunday off is being jeopardized by non-essential businesses who are operating on Sunday? Competition being what it is, other businesses will be forced to open on Sunday. Eventually every one of us may HAVE to go to work on Sunday just to earn a living!

Do you realize that the non-essential businesses now open on Sunday are VIOLATING THE LAW? There is absolutely no reason for them to remain open except for their own greed; yet they are in the process of destroying every working man's SUNDAY OF FREEDOM!

Do you realize that Sunday plays an important role in the welfare of every man and woman? It is a day for going to church, a day of rest, a day for recreation, for relaxation with your family and friends—a day of FREEDOM!

Here's what you can do:

Refuse to shop on Sunday.

Refuse to patronize businesses that do operate on Sunday.

Urge your relatives, your friends to assist you in fighting these violators.

Speak out at your church, your civic group, your club for Sunday as a family day.

Show your support by filling out and mailing the coupon.

(Section 3773.24 Ohio Revised Code)
As amended by the Ohio General Assembly in 1959 and since upheld by both the Ohio and U. S. Supreme Courts.

The opening of any place for the transaction of business or requiring an employee to engage in common labor or open a place for the transaction of business on Sunday is prohibited.

The law does not interfere with:

Work of necessity or charity; persons who conscientiously observe Saturday as the Sabbath and close their places of business on Saturday; traveling; sports; recreation, amusements, entertainment or exhibitions; fairs; the operation of publicly owned places of entertainment; and services and commodities incidental to these activities.

BIG NEWS!!

Sept. 16 At Norwood Park Annual 'Nickel Day', Saturday

Hey kids! Yes, here's good news . . . Because of the tremendous response that the annual Hartley Newspapers "Nickel Day," at Norwood Park has had in the past, the Hartley folks have decided to offer the event again this year.

The date is Saturday, Sept. 16; and the place — Norwood Park, 2026 E. Main-st.

The cost for all rides on that day will be five cents per ride . . . and the park will be open from 1 until 10 p.m!

In addition to the many fine rides, there are miniature golf and picnic facilities. Minature golf will be offered at a special rate of 15 cents during the afternoon, and 35 cents after 6 p.m.

There will be big drawings for door prizes, which include a bicycle and radios. Drawing stubs will be given out with each five-cent ride purchase, so there's plenty of chance to win.

The picnic area is free, just in case you want to bring Mom and Dad along and make a day of it. Free parking is an added feature.

Major rides at Norwood include the dodgem, screwball, roller coaster, pretzel and ferris wheel. Many rides for the younger kids also are available.

That's it! Saturday, Sept. 16 is the big day! . . . Why not get Mom and Dad to come along . . . they'll enjoy it, too!

LOCAL SCOUTS HONORED

MEMBERS FROM TROOP 548 honored on Sept. 1 in the Girl Scout booth at Ohio State Fair were: Toni Warren (standing), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell S. Warren, 443 S. This was the first time of entry in Girl Scout Division for both Beth and Karen.

At Sunshine Playground

The Junior Jet season is still not over at Sunshine. Play-offs are completed except for championship games. Thursday evening, the teams played but at sunset both games were still tied. The American League Indians and Senators were tied 2-2 after nine innings. The National League Reds and Dodgers were tied 3-3 at the end of the seventh. Coaches are Carl Wright, Indians; Leroy Smith, Senators; Charles Propst, Reds; and Ray King, Dodgers.

Coaches games are still being played. The National League coaches thumped the American League coaches 18-3 on Monday night under the lights. The American leaguers came back by winning 7-0, squaring the series at two games each.

In the first game Matthew Grant led the Nationals by thumping six hits in six trips to the plate. Charlie Propst and Dick Keller also aided with some good hitting and fielding.

Jack Lambert shut out the Nationals in the second game, helped out by Homer Humphrey's great fielding and Ernie Horn's good hitting.

Dazzlin' Wescotts Unveiled In Shower Of Silver Sequins

The Wescotts, 32 girls' strong, pranced through two formations explained by Sally Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Roberts, of 1057 Bellflower-av.

The other formation used during half-time entertainment was a gigantic oil derrick, formed by the band members with the Wescotts in a dancing line at one side.

Bought Own Uniforms

The girls' uniforms, which sparkled under Friday night's floodlights, were made by a local firm, Cambridge Ltd. Members paid for their own uniforms of silver-sequined skirts, topped by brown satin waistcoats and white doeskin half boots.

"The Wescotts have 32 members, "Hill said. "This is about the maximum that you can handle on the field, but I hope to form another corps, perhaps a reserve, which would give 32 more girls the opportunity to join."

The Wescotts are not the first marching corps that Hill has organized. Last year at Marion-Franklin Junior-Senior High School, he organized the Marionettes.

"There is a growing trend in these marching corps, especially in the South and Southwest," Hill said.

To date, the Wescotts are slated to perform at each of the nine home football games. This is a relatively light schedule, Hill admitted. He expects that they will be asked to perform at other functions, but so far, he hasn't committed them.

For future half-time performances, Hill will create new formations for the marching corps as well as for his 70-member band. These will conform to Broadway musical themes.

"This is the popular trend in band music for athletic functions," Hill said. "The game audiences like to hear familiar tunes with a contemporary beat. I like the older band numbers as well as classics, but will reserve them for concerts during the present school year."

Hill, an OSU graduate in his fourth year of teaching, expects great things from the newly-formed Wescotts. They will give that added touch of showmanship, he noted, which is being demanded by high school as well as college game audiences.

In addition to West's marching corps, he has organized the marching band, which he hopes to expand to 130 members, orchestra and a dance band.

One-Way Streets On Horizon For West Side—If Residents Approve

BY BILL GRESS

"One-way streets seem to be a sure bet for the West Side.

All that's needed is the approval of the people living there.

Given the green light, City Traffic Engineer John Gallagher has promised to introduce the system of one-ways "before the first snow falls."

The system almost certainly will be the heart of a comprehensive traffic plan now taking shape for the West Side.

Foundation for the scheme was laid last week at a meeting between Gallagher and representatives of the area's Community Council.

Gallagher, promising his full support, offered the council's traffic committee a free hand in determining the "local" traffic needs of the area.

The committee, in turn, scheduled a series of public meetings to give residents an opportunity to express their opinions.

Basing its recommendations on the consensus voiced at public sessions, the committee will formulate a master traffic plan for the West Side.

Committee Chairman Frank Schneider has stressed that opinions of West Siders will play the major role in drawing up the plan.

However, the committee has clearly indicated it has great hopes for the system of one-way streets.

As an indictation of the importance placed on such a system, the committee gave it "first place" on a list of "tentative proposals" to be thrown out for discussion at the public meetings.

The proposals, which still need the approval of the entire council, are designed to "give the people something concrete to talk about."

The one-way system as visualized by the committee, would make all streets south of Broad-st and east of Central-av one-way. Streets north of Broad would not be involved.

Broad, Mound and to a lesser extent, Sullivant would serve as thoroughfares for traffic moving through the area.

Rich and Town-sts would be both one-way and would serve as feeders for local traffic moving into or out of the area. Glenwood would remain two-way, north and south.

The committee sees the one-way streets as the answer to the area's most pressing traffic problems—parking and traffic congestion.

Schneider has pointed out

Glenwood Methodist Church will build a new parsonage on the church property at Valleyview and Hague . . . Jim and Dotty Cole of Cole of Columbus are perfect hosts to the press . . . Harold F. Willet, 3251 Stephan-dr S., was taking part in the final round of golf in the Lions' League Sunday at Oakhurst when his golf bag burned up. Ordinarily a non-smoker, Willet borrowed and lit up a cigarette and laid it on one of his woods while teeing off on the 11th fairway. When he returned, the bag was smoking and three golfing companions attempted to help him extinguish the flames with a hose on the green, but there wasn't enough water in the hose. Willet started running for the lake but not enough time. He dumped bag and contents in the lake, skeleton clubs remaining. As consolation, he was elected president of Hilltop Lions' golf league for next year.

Women, Oil Companies Next Targets In Campaign Against Trading Stamps

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Women and oil companies — not necessarily in that order — are the next two targets for the South Side Gasoline Dealers Association in stamping out trading stamps in the Columbus area.

The story broke last week when the dealers called in the National Federation of Independent Businesses to help in the drive to get rid of the stamps which they claimed were "squeezing out all our profits."

The biggest protest to the move has come from housewives who usually take stamps religiously.

Ed Wimmer, vice-president of the National Federation, told a group of women that they are thinking more of the stamp book than they are of "the cook book, the bank book and the Good Book."

Wimmer, who reports trading stamps are being squelched in major cities across the country, stated, "What is happening to the public minds as far as getting something for nothing is concerned? Are they loosing their sense of values?"

Wimmer added:

"The petroleum industry spends much money every year to develop the image of trade names. The stamp only advertises itself and has no loyalty for the petroleum industry.

"Stamps don't save money for anyone. They just raise the cost of gas dealer services (car wash, etc.).

"For example, in Houston, Tex., 90 per cent of the gasoline dealers give out trading stamps. One stamp company is making $2,500,000 a year profits. Houston may be a ghost city as far as the small merchants are concerned.

"There are 5000 fewer small businesses in Houston now than there were seven years ago. This is unbelievable since we've experienced the greatest population explosion in history."

The South Side dealers, nearing closer to the completion of their drive, decided in a special meeting last Thursday to take their plea directly to the gas companies.

The meeting was staged especially for service station dealers in the east end of Columbus, including Whitehall.

WOMEN ARE joining the fight among gasoline dealers to rid the city—even the nation, if possible—of trading stamps. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruce, 791 Hamilton-rd, co-owners of an East Side gas station are shown signing petitions to talk with oil companies concerning their plea. Looking on is South Side Gasoline Dealer Secretary Dick Baldrige.

Committee Sets Public Meetings At Six Schools

The first in a series of public meetings to discuss traffic plans for the West Side will be held one week from today.

The sessions, one in each public school district, are sponsored by the local Community Council.

The sessions, one in each public school district in the area, are sponsored by the local Community Council.

The schedule calls for meetings:

September 27 — Dana Avenue, Bob McGuire.

October 4—Avondale, Fred Staley.

October 11 — Franklinton, Ralph Oberfeitner.

October 18 — Bellows, Don McCann.

October 25 — Sullivant, Mrs. Ruth Burke.

A representative of the traffic committee will also attend each of the six meetings.

A spokesman for the committee explained that the purpose of the meetings is to determine the line of thought in each area from the traffic viewpoint.

The meetings will be open to everyone who lives, works or owns property on the West Side.

He noted that having meetings in each school district is the surest way of giving all residents an opportunity to voice their opinions.

Council Of Churches Slates Religious Census Sunday

September 17 has been designated "Religious Census Sunday" in all churches of the Columbus area participating in the census on that day.

Approximately 10,000 volunteers in 191 churches will be on the streets from noon until mid-afternoon calling at homes.

The program is being conducted by the Department of Evangelism, Columbus Area Council of Churches, under the chairmanship of Rev. Harold Dutt.

"Our purpose is to discover newly-arrived families who have not affiliated with local churches, and also to acquaint churches with people for whom they are responsible," explained Rev. John Lewis, pastor of Christ Methodist Church and chairman of the project.

Communities included in the survey are Columbus, Bexley, Whitehall, New Rome, Marble Cliff, Grandview and Upper Arlington. Attempts are being made to have census takers call at every door in these communities.

Citizens are urged to be at home between noon and 3:30 p.m. when the volunteers will call.

Those who must be away are requested to fill out a form which can be found in the Saturday edition of daily newspapers and attach it to their doors.

Cooperating are Protestant churches, Jewish Synagogues and Roman Catholic Churches through the office of the bishop, Rt. Rev. Clarence G. Issenmann.

Families of all faiths are encouraged to cooperate. Their cards will be turned over to the respective churches and synagogues.

Professional director of the census is Rev. Milton A. Heitman, director of educational evangelism for the National Council of Churches, who has been in Columbus on several occasions guiding the preparations.

He will be in Columbus conducting training sessions for trainers from local churches Sept. 14, 15 and 16, and will be present during the following week to supervise the sorting of cards.

Each participating church has a definite area to cover, which has been assigned by the central mapping committee.

Chairman of the mapping committee is Edward M. Dawson, Jr. and assisting him were, Robert T. Dell, Jack L. Prather, Roy W. Warder, Keith R. Ebert, Rev. Robert A. Long, Floyd G. Clark, John L. Bernhard, Jr., William R. S. Young, Rev. R. R. Neff, John R. Coe and Phillip M. Watson.

Funds Allocated For Addition To Clime-rd Park

Annexation and money for a new park dominated West Side legislation which came before City Council in a long post-vacation session Monday night.

Councilman approved spending $250,000 of voter-approved bond money for 124.5 acres of land along Clime-rd to be developed into a park. The site follows Big Run Creek from just west of Demorest-rd almost to Georgesville-rd.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN THE EAGLE . . .

In the old sailing tradition of iron men and wooden ships, two local lads spent 10 weeks this summer learning the ropes as Coast Guard cadets aboard the three-masted bark, Eagle.

The Eagle, the academy's training ship, sailed some 8000 miles during the cruise with its crew of cadets, visiting ports throughout the North Atlantic area.

On the ship's itinerary were Bordeau, France; Lisbon, Portugal; Cadiz, Spain; and Tenerife, Canary Islands. Accompanying the Eagle were the ocean station vessels Castle Rock and Rockaway.

The squadron sailed from New London, Conn., in June and spent a total of 53 days at sea, returning to its home port two months later.

While aboard the Eagle, Welch and Murdock were trained in all aspects of modern seamanship, gunnery, communication and engineering.

Nor was the ancient lore of the sea neglected. High on the pair's list of duties were such tasks as splicing rope, setting sail and manning the helm.

Mercy Mission Earns Sailors Bull, Chickens

Appreciation can be expressed in unusual ways and to the crew of the first American ship to enter the port of Hodeida, Yemen, the gift they received from Yemen's Royal Family probably fits the "most unusual" category.

Serving as a member of the Strong's crew during the mission was Seaman Earl J. Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Glover of 984 W. Mound-st.

The destroyer was returning from operations in the Persian Gulf when it was dispatched to Hodeida to deliver 200 tents and a water storage tank for the Yemeni people following a disastrous fire.

In appreciation for the crew's efforts, the Royal Family gave them a live Brahma bull and two dozen chickens.

While the ship was in port, more than 2,000 persons visited the Strong. Among them were 280 school children who were escorted aboard for a tour of the ship, and a chance to view a typical American cartoon movie.

Henry L. Wagner, 2243 Brixton-rd, was elected chairman of the Franklin County chapter of the American Red Cross, Tuesday night.

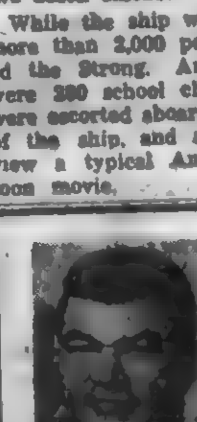
Judge To Hear Each Juvenile Traffic Case

Police Chief George Scholer stated today that the Juvenile Court has ordered a change in Juvenile Traffic Court policy. Effective Sept. 13, all juvenile traffic offenders will appear before the Juvenile Judge or his referee.

In the past, with permission of Judge Clayton W. Rose, the Police Juvenile Bureau has screened traffic violators of a minor nature. This accounted for roughly half the juvenile traffic violators not appearing before the court.

The decision by Judge Rose that all such violators must appear before the court resulted in one full day being set aside for traffic court instead of only a half day.

John M. Rector Now Stateside



Serving aboard the destroyer USS Lowry which returned to Norfolk, Va., from an eight-week summer training cruise in the Atlantic is Midshipman First Class John M. Rector, son of Mrs Martha A. Rector of 46 S. Harris-av.

Many Support, Others Blast Sunday Closing Of Stores

The issue of retail business establishments operating on Sunday continues to be a livelier one each week and there are indications that the current campaign is by no means a "flash in the pan."

Following the editorial stand by Hartley Newspapers in behalf of Sunday closing, we asked our staff to report various attitudes and opinions from the many areas served by our papers.

Mayor W. Ralston Westlake had this to say: "I think the group (Greater Columbus Sunday Association) is taking a step in the right direction. Legally and morally they have every right to operate as they are. Personally speaking, people know by my actions how I feel about the Sabbath."

In addition, letters received, from certain individuals contain food for thought, to wit:

M. M. Carothers, 328 N. Remington-rd, writes, in part: "I want to compliment you on your courage in taking an editorial stand in this matter. I long ago realized that it would be futile to expect the daily newspaper to so much as publish a letter from a reader upholding the Association . . . the public trend of accepting docilely wide-open merchandising on Sunday is likely to spread to trades and factories and today's shoppers will become tomorrow's Sunday workmen.

"I am opposed to the destruction of any of our particularly American institutions . . . can anyone argue that people will be better off on a seven-day work week? The pioneer Sunday merchants have shown a disposition to flout traditions on almost any day they can get away with it and conduct sales on Memorial Day and Independence Day as well as Sunday . . . Such businesses are guided by one principle: Get the almighty dollar in any manner you can and to heck with Americanism."

Others Stock Nic Items

A hardware dealer who does not want his name used has this view: "I would gladly close on the Sabbath if my competition does". He explained that drug stores and filling stations now stock many of the items carried by the hardware stores and are permitted to stay open seven days since they are considered essential business.

A housewife, Mrs. Janice Blatz, 2259 Sullivant-av, said she was not in favor of forcing stores to close but that it would be best for non-essential business to close on Sunday. She does not believe that most businessmen want to stay open on Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Macihoba, 72 S. Eureka-av, explains that she never shops on Sunday and feels that merchants should definitely be closed that day.

Kay Williams, 700 S. Pearl-st, secretary: "Too many people put off until Sunday to do their buying and fall back on that day because they are lazy. Just a case of putting off until tomorrow what they should have done before."

Mrs. Betty Panthana, 1822 Surrey-pl, clerk: "Everybody should have one day off. Sunday operation is not fair to employes."

Bill Hoermle, 2434 Beverly, councilman and South Side merchant: "I have always been for Sunday closing. I would do anything in my power to help that situation. With the shopping centers and other stores open late, there is no reason for Sunday opening."

Dean Wells, of Wells Drugs: "I'm all for closing on Sundays, but I don't think the customers will let it be so." Wells had another drug store in town once where he did close on Sunday for a couple of months. "People complained that I wasn't on the job when they needed me."

The pharmacist feels that if Sunday closing were enforced, store owners would pick up the difference on Saturdays and Mondays.

Sees Need For Vote

Wells does, however, object to the present law. He calls it a "law put through by do-gooders." He would like to see a law placed before the people for a vote that would allow all stores to either stay open or stay closed one day a week on a local basis.

Although he said he would vote to close, if the majority of people decided otherwise, he would be glad to stay open.

Don Kobel, of Majstic Paint Stores at Town and Country: "I'm in favor of closing from a religious standpoint. Any business should be able to make enough in six days a week."

Kobel indicated he would like to see the law changed. "It's unconstitutional to allow one to stay open and to make another close. No favoritism should be shown — all close or all open."

William Stephans, of Western Auto, Town and Country: "They shouldn't be open. I know I don't want to work on Sundays." He says he is against remaining open on Sundays because of religious reasons.

"The law," he opined, "shouldn't enter into it. There's a moral law involved." Stephans said the only businesses that should stay open on Sunday are those which he termed "a necessity."

A letter from Gene King, secretary of Greater Columbus Sunday Association: "Sincere thanks for your editorial. The response to our campaign to "Keep Sunday Sunday" has exceeded our expectations and we are extremely confident our ultimate success.

We reprint in total the following letter from M. Schwartzberg, 25 N. Gould-rd.: "Your Sept. 7th issue of the Eastern Review goaded me into writing this letter. First, I was disturbed by the advertisement of the "Sunday Association" which presented nonsensical arguments that are obviously intended to provide people with slogans which they can blindly repeat regardless of the utter lack of meaning in them.

"Secondly, I was disappointed in your editorial support of this campaign. The incongruity of your position is made extremely obvious by the editorial adjoining it, "Columbus and Censorship". On the one hand you oppose a censorship of the citizen body by a single group while on the other hand you condone it.

"Perhaps you haven't stopped to consider fully the bare truth of the fact that denial of the right of one group of our citizenry to conduct business on a specific day of the week by another group of citizens is plain and simply a form of censorship. It is as much an encroachment on individual freedom as the denial of the right of free speech.

"Personally I am a salaried employee of a large concern that is never open on Sunday and I have no connection whatsoever with any business that is. My interest in this issue is simply to point out the truth of the matter and prevent the assumption of arbitrary power by any given group. There is no justifiable reason why any one group of people should be in a position to decide for everyone else that a certain day of the week which they select for whatever purpose they choose must necessarily be observed by everyone else in accordance with their desires. Rather than, as they put it, "Eventually everyone of us may have to go to work on Sunday just to earn a living," which is obviously sheer nonsense.

"The real danger lies in the fact that once given encouragement by the success of such a campaign this type of group, feeling its strength, will seek new worlds to conquer, new freedoms to censor in keeping with their particular whims."

(Editor's Note: Our editorial did not condone censorship. Our stand on movie censorship and Sunday closing is that both can best be handled by the people rather by force through a law. In both instances we feel action can best be attained by economic pressure brought by people who withhold their partonage. In a free country there is certainly nothing wrong with this. We are not supporting any plan to eliminate Sunday business operations via a law. However since there is a law to this effect we agree that we should either get rid of the law or enforce it.))

Buddy Or Boor? Here's A Good Checklist For Hunting Companions

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

How do you tell a good hunting partner from the poor one? There are many ways and you, no doubt, have your own system, for the hunting boor stands out like a bull in a squirrel woods.

John Madson of Winchester Arms has gone to the trouble of compiling a checklist to be used in rating hunting companions. And, don't forget to rate yourself while you score those you have hunted with.

The Buddy

1. Natural shooter. Handles gun easily and smoothly with fluid grace. Never points it at anything he doesn't wish to shoot. Never gets too rattled to be careful.

2. Covers ground thoroughly with frequent pauses and watchful steps. Doesn't push himself but always gets there. Aware of his footing; doesn't get far ahead of companions.

3. Never yells at another man's dog, nor criticizes it. Lets the dog have a chance and allows it to hunt.

4. When pheasant flushes closely, he lets it "ride" before shooting. Can instinctively tell hen from cock, even when flushed into the sun.

5. Comes up on pointing quail dog quietly and quickly. May sidle up to dog, keeping left foot always ahead so as not to be caught off-stride on covey rise.

6. Shoots quail very fast but takes only birds on his side. Always aware of dogs and companions, never shoots at birds swinging past them.

7. Takes great pride in marking birds; either escapes or cripples. Hunts long and hard for a downed bird; hates to give it up.

8. Knows his gun's range. As long as ducks are still coming, he lets 'em come, face down and sparing his duck call. If ducks are working other blinds, he gives those hunters first chance.

9. Considerate, friendly, able to laugh at himself. Full bag limit is second to enjoying himself. Likes to see his friends have good shooting.

10. The guy you want to see more of, afield or at home.

The Boor

1. The eternal dub. Guns seem heavy, and is handled stiffly and awkwardly. May point it at companions, or even drop it. Loses his head when shooting fast.

2. Hunts hurriedly in a direct line, rushing to "get to that good place ahead," preferably ahead of everyone else. May stumble frequently in his impatience.

3. Knows much more than any dog. Comments to owner: "You paid money for that mutt?"

4. Hen or cock, it's all the same; uses sun as alibi. Clobbers pheasant at close range, and end of hunt tries to substitute it for one not shot up.

5. Isn't sure dog is pointing or not; wants to hold long debate on subject. Usually caught off balance by covey or can't get safety off.

6. Takes your birds if they're the easiest. May "covey shoot" at all of 'em or rake dog on low bird. May rake you as well.

7. Bird down or not, wants to move on and flush another covey, or another rooster. Not interested in cripples—too much work.

8. Calls incessantly and poorly; may open fire at 80 yards. Wonders why ducks flare at his white, upturned face. "If I can't get 'em, them other guys ain't either!"

9. Hunting is serious, highly competitive business. Is out to make par for the course; wants a full bag or nothing. Hogs shots.

10. He goes his way, you go yours. You've had it.

Seasonal Produce Is Best Buy Now

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Pears, peaches, grapes, prune plums.

Summer is moving along fast so it's smart shopping to fill your market baskets with seasonal fruits and vegetables while they are here. Some tips on the ones in good supply follows:

Fruits — This is peak supply season for fresh pears. Ohio Bartletts are available along with those from Michigan and from the Pacific Coast states—where the bulk of the commercial crop is grown.

In Ohio, producers in the Lake Erie area, where most of our Bartletts are grown, say their crop is record size. The fruit is large and quality superb. The next two weeks should be the big canning and preserving weeks for pears.

With Tokay grapes now moving from California, supplies of table grapes are more plentiful. Thompson seedless, Ribier and Queens are other varieties available. The Ohio grape season is seven to 10 days later than usual with harvest expected to begin in early October.

The peach season will continue a couple more weeks. Varieties now available are J. H. Hale, Belle of Georgia, Halehaven and Elbertas. Shippers Late Red will be available the latter part of this month to wind up the peach season.

Honeyrock cantaloupes are still around, though not in heavy supply. Recent heavy rains and heat caused many of them to ripen, soften and rot in the fields. All other varieties of melon—the honeydew, Persian, Crenshaw and Casaba—are in good supply.

Vegetables — Sweet corn will be available the remainder of September, however, supplies are tapering off, so get your fill of roasting ears soon. New potatoes are plentiful, and the price low.

Rain and heat played havoc with the local tomato crop last week, but you'll find field-grown ones around until frost. You can expect to pay more for the top quality ones. Lima beans, beets, carrots, eggplant, peppers and cucumbers are other vegetables to use often while they are coming from local farms at reasonable prices.

A LOT OF COFFEE AND COCOA

Supplies of these two imported grocery items are especially large at this time. However, no significant change in the price of either is likely.

World coffee production this year is expected to be a fifth above last year and present inventories are large. So far, Latin American growers have not been able to come up with a suitable plan to control their production. And Africa has been increasing its output, making the world supply extremely large.

Warehouse stocks of cocoa are much larger than a year ago; with imports so far this year up 70 per cent. There has been talk of an international cocoa agreement among major producing and consuming countries to stabilize supplies and prices. But nothing has been done as yet and relatively low prices are expected to continue for some time.

But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.—(St. Luke 12:31)

Those who love God with all their hearts and souls, who surrender their will to His and trust Him completely, will find that all their just and good needs are met—abundantly. There is always more of the Feast than we can absorb.

Serious-Minded Reader

A sign on a Mount Vernon, Ill., motel read "Free TV." Recently, they had to report the theft of one of their 17-inch sets. Sometimes, it doesn't pay to advertise.

It's a Crime

A San Francisco, Calif., man was given a ticket for speeding in Golden Gate Park. He showed his contempt by tearing the ticket to shreds, but he got another one; only, this time it was for littering the park.

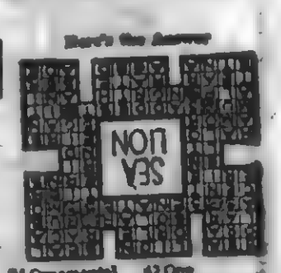
COMMENDS SUPPORT

Sirs:

We like the appearance and thrust of your present editorial page, and want to commend you on your forthright sentiment and support in behalf of Sunday closing of business and your backing of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.



From a viewpoint a bit more deeply religious, perhaps, I'm supporting, too, with a related sermon this Sunday.

Shopping Around — By Rolfe

"Nah—don't think I'd care for one myself! I'd just like to try on a few for a friend!"

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Two weeks ago, the writer was a witness to a rare experience.

On August 31 and September 1 some 250 members of the Hartley Newspapers Golden Wedding Club met at Shade's Restaurant in Canal Winchester, and at Holiday Inn, respectively, for the annual Hartley Golden Wedding Club luncheon.

Patsky

It was a sight to behold . . . 250 of the nicest, most appreciative folks in the country . . . sitting, chatting, eating ice cream and cake and renewing old friendships.

There is good reason why these old folks are so appreciative. It centers around the not-so-nice fact that these 250 persons are among the thousands of nearly forgotten people in the United States today.

"Forgotten in what way?" You might ask.

It boils down to this: these are the people who have fulfilled their services to the community. These are the retired . . . men and women who have given countless and immeasurable contributions to the community over their 70, 80, 90 years.

Here are the folks who gave birth to and raised you and me . . . our parents . . . or perhaps our grandparents.

And, for all of their years of work, we, the people, generously offer what?

Some receive a small, fixed income from which they must purchase the necessities of everyday living. Others have the opportunity to spend their remaining years in a rest home, or "old folks home." A few have the gracious benefit of an occasional visit by the family.

Social life? It's the same story. For many of the 250 persons at the two luncheons, this is their only outing of the year . . . their only opportunity to meet and be with folks their own age on a social level.

And, if you think they don't enjoy it, guess again.

Yes, they're still human . . . they still attempt to get the proverbial kick out of life . . . to keep the wonderful spark that is human life glowing until the last ember flickers and dies. They realize it's coming . . . and they wait . . . but you won't see them lying down.

It's a nice feeling to know that you've been a small part of a small something that made a few people happy for a short while. As you observe the various reactions, you wonder . . . are there perhaps other ways in which you could contribute happiness to those in life's closing years?

But it's mostly just thought . . . and, within a week or so, the daily grind has replaced these thoughts.

Sooner or later, most of us will fall under the "old folks" category . . . wonder what our thoughts will be then?

DELUXE CARE FOR LITTLE DEARS

Sitters' Cooperative May Be Started

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Tired of playing high prices for babysitters? Tired of worrying yourself half sick at parties about the teen-ager who's watching your little darling?

Then, you'd better read this.

A Whitehall woman seems to have the right idea. She's starting something in Columbus for people just like you.

Her name is Mrs. JoAnn Imiprogmo, 303 Beechtree-rd. She's a newcomer to Columbus and she's brought an idea with her for taking care of the little beloveds.

It's called Sitters Cooperative. It's not a new idea, but as far as Mrs. Imbrogmo knows, it's never been tried in Central Ohio.

It's a kind of helpful club. Here, in essence, is how it works:

First you get about 25 women who are gluttons for punishment. Regular meetings are held and each of the women agrees to babysit for each others' children upon request.

Sound wild?

No fees are involved and the tight-fisted hubby can relax and enjoy his evening until it's time for his wife to babysit, and that might not be too bad for hubby either.

Secretary Finds Sitter

Let's take a case in point to better explain this whole thing.

We'll say Mrs. Littlebrats has a chance for a night out. She sets everything up for a big wing-ding at the Country Club and needs a babysitter.

She calls the Sitters Cooperative Secretary and issues her plea. The blast will take about four hours, she tells the secretary.

The secretary listens understandingly to the plea and says she'll have someone there at eight.

Our secretary friend then gets on the phone and calls the women of the club until she finds one who's free that evening. She finally hits upon Mrs. Igotstuck and an agreement is made.

Then, Mrs. Igotstuck must telephone Mrs. Littlebrats and confirm the appointment just to make sure there isn't any hanky-panky going on.

Hours Are 'Banked'

Mrs. Igotstuck babysits for Mrs. Littlebrats little dears for the agreed upon four hours. This puts the former ahead four hours and the latter four hours in the hole which she must make up in the future.

And so it goes. Using up hours and "refunding" them back into the club "bank" for use at another time.

One of the club rules says that members must not accumulate a debit or credit of over 20 hours. It's the monthly-elected secretary who usually takes care of this problem.

Mrs. Imbrogmo — who can be reached at 237-7732—says that the club will be limited to 20 members.

All members must have telephones and will meet every two months to acquaint themselves with new members and discuss problems that may arise.

These "problems" may range from not-having-enough-s t o c k - in-the-refrigerator to what - to - do - if - the - TV-tube-blows.

A president is elected for one year to preside at meetings and substitute for the secretary in settling any questions.

Other Rules Suggested

Members must estimate the number of hours that a sitter is expected to sit before calling the secretary.

Members using club sitters must have the children fed and dressed for bed before the sitter arrives. The sitter is informed as to hours and time for bed. Coffee and a snack are provided.

"Many clubs charge double if the job runs past midnight," Mrs. Imbrogmo says. "But, we've had a lot of controversary over this." She belonged to a club in Falls Church and Vienna, Va., before coming to Columbus.

"If enough people in Columbus are interested," she says, "we can split into two or three clubs. And," she added, "we must have the cooperation of our husbands."

Shirley Anderson, Donald Furry Exchange Marriage Vows Saturday

Miss Shirley June Anderson became the bride of Mr. Donald L. Furry, Saturday, Sept. 9, 7:30 p.m. at Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Rev. Irvin H. Lang read the marriage service before an altar decorated with arrangements of yellow gladiola, talisman mums and daisy cryssanthemums with gold foliage. Gold emerald trees and yellow tapers in 14-branch candelabra complimented the chancel and aisles were marked with tapers and accents of yellow and tangerine satin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raymond Anderson, 986 Chestershire-rd, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Furry, 211 Guernsey-av.

Miss Judith Jester served as maid of honor, Mrs. Frederick Ricker as bridesmatron and Miss Pat Brobst, Miss Ann Lytle and Miss Betty Senicka as bridesmaids.

They were identically gowned in sheaths of gold satin with overskirts and satin bows at the waist. Each wore a matching pillbox and carried a hand corsage of sweetheart roses with brown velvet leaves and copper tones of mums.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Furry, Miss Marcia Holzapfel, Mrs. Albert Abrams, Miss Marianne Mouser and Miss Janice Wichterman.

The new Mrs. Furry attended Miami University where she was a member of Delta Zeta Sorority and Owen Honorary Society. She will be graduated from Ohio State University in December.

Mr. Furry is enrolled at Ohio State University where he is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, and the varsity basketball and baseball teams.

Accents Of Pink Compliment Bridal White In Wolford-Craven Marriage Ceremony

Sunburst arrangements of pink glads, mums and pompons with emerald foliage decorated the altar of Glenwood Methodist Church, and pink tapers in two pairs of 14-branch candelabra lighted the marriage ceremony of Miss Barbara Jeanne Wolford and Mr. Ronald Edward Craven.

The new Mrs. Craven is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Wolford, 136 S. Sylvan-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Craven, 138 Marlboro-av.

Her bouffant veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a Bible with garlands of feathered white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Dwana Borneheim served as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Diana Rohr, Miss Nancy Leibensperger and Miss Sharon Bowen. Miss Sandra Craven, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Nancy Shaw were junior bridesmaids.

They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of lilac-pink peau satin with bell skirts, low scoop neckline and brief sleeves. Peau de ange lace veiled the yokes and sleeves. Each wore a matching peau satin petal bandeau with circular veil and carried a cascade of rubrium lilies with accents of pink satin and velvet foliage.

Mr. James Poeniech served as bestman and ushers were Mr. Wilson Rucker, Mr. James Wheeler, Mr. Edward Menge, Jr., Mr. Phil Edwards and Mr. Richard Wolford, an uncle of the bride.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Miss Glenna Oesterle, senior hostess; Mrs. Phil Edwards, Miss Sandra Rader, Miss Brenda Menz and Miss Joy Collins.

The bride was graduated from West High School and Comptometer School, and is employed by The Abel Corp.

Mr. Craven is employed by Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and is attending Ohio State University.

Full Drills Begin At Cap With Host Of Hopefuls

Capital University's new head coach, Gene Slaughter, opened fall drills Sept. 1 with the largest turnout of candidates in the school's football history. There were 74 hopefuls including 27 freshmen.

The squad has 18 returning lettermen from a team which finished with a 2-6 record last year.

Gone via the mortar board route is last year's most valuable player and captain, Tony Lorenson. Other graduating seniors were quarterbacks Gary Clinard and Ron Rankin, center Jeff Gyurko and end Gary Nossen.

Lost via the scholastic route were halfback Al White and end guard Al Miller. Tackle James Gaskill, injured last season, will forego gridiron competition this fall.

Among the returning lettermen, Slaughter will have Rick Cermelj, a 180-pound end from Ashtabula. Cermelj's 1960 performance earned him the "most improved player" award and his leadership led him to receive the vote of his teammates as this year's captain.

Returnees expected to form the core of Capital's line crew are led by last year's most valuable freshman, Warner Sippola, a 227-pound tackle from Cleveland. Columbus product Bob Ebright and Niagara Falls native Bill Woodman, both guards, are other top lettermen in the "up front" warriors.

Returning backfield veterans include Tom Green and Ron Zalac. Green is a 170-pound speedster from Lewis Center. He led last year's team in pass receiving, picking up a total of 229 yards, and was the team's top scorer with 30 points.

Zalac, standing five-feet eleven and weighing 185, is expected to handle the fullback duties. son, will forego gridiron competition this fall.

Among the returning lettermen, Slaughter will have Rick Cermelj, a 180-pound end from Ashtabula. Cermelj's 1960 performance earned him the "most improved player" award and his leadership led him to receive the vote of his teammates as this year's captain.

Returnees expected to form the core of Capital's line crew are led by last year's most valuable freshman, Warner Sippola, a 227-pound tackle from Cleveland. Columbus product Bob Ebright and Niagara Falls native Bill Woodman, both guards, are other top lettermen in the "up front" warriors.

He is a protege of Slaughter, having played high school ball under him at Warren.

Slaughter may have a "green" team, but the Lutherans are expected to give the top Ohio Conference teams a rough go this season. He plans to rely on two-platooning as much as possible.

The Fighting Lutherans face a schedule identical to the one which knocked them into a 2-6 season last year. Six of their opponents are among the top eight finishers in the Ohio Conference last year.

Capital opens its season at home Sept. 23 against Heidelberg. The Lutherans have not beaten the Student Princes since 1945. Over the years, they have met the Tiffin team 23 times and have managed to win only four times.

The remaining schedule is as follows: Sept. 30—Ohio Wesleyan, away; Oct. 7—Hiram, away; Oct. 14—Kenyon, home; Oct. 21—Wittenberg (Homecoming); Oct. 28—Wooster, home; Nov. 4—Marietta, away; and Nov. 11—Otterbein, away.

All home games are played at Bernlohr Field. Kickoff time is at 2 p.m.

At Sunshine Playground

Junior Jet coaches from Sunshine played two softball games this week at Sunshine Park. The Nationals won 10-9 and 11-6 over the Americans.

The Junior Jet season has been completed. In the American League the Indians defeated the Senators, 4-3, in 12 innings.

The National League Dodgers defeated the Reds, 4-2, in 11 innings. Both winning teams were league and tournament champions.

Sunshine will have a football league for boys 13 and under. Anyone interested in participating may come to Sunshine to obtain entry blanks. Boys must furnish their own equipment. There is also going to be a touch football league.

The arts and crafts class at Sunshine will continue to be held outside as long as the weather permits. The class is held every day from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Last week, puppetry, basket weaving, wire sculpture and sand painting were offered.

The teenage dances got under way at Sunshine last week with registration and dancing in the game room. The dances will be held every Thursday from 7 to 9:45 p.m. in the auditorium and on Friday from 7 to 9:45 p.m. in the teenage room. Teenagers are urged to register and obtain membership cards in order to get into the dances.

Children who are interested in participating in all activities at Sunshine should come to the center and register and receive a membership card. The card entitles the holder to use equipment and attend special functions such as dances, parties, etc.

The hours of registration are: Children, six to 12, 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. daily and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Teenagers, 6 to 9:45 p.m. daily and 10:30 a.m. to noon Saturday.

Sunshine Recreation Center hours during the fall and winter season will be 2 to 10 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday; 1 to 10 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday; 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Fiery Slaughter Seen As Welcome Change . . .

This is the year that Capital University should come of age.

At least that's what those in the know around the Fighting Lutheran athletic department think. And, chances are, they aren't too far from wrong.

The reason for this is a fellow named Gene Slaughter. He's beginning his first year of collegiate football—anywhere. And, for our money, he's the hottest coach to hit the Ohio Conference gridiron in many a moon.

May Cure Sickness . . .

He's just what the doctor ordered as far as previously unawesome Capital is concerned. Slaughter is an ambitious, energetic fireball of a grid boss.

This is not putting down the fine coaching ability of Jack Landrum. Landrum, incidentally, is still on the Lutheran coaching staff as an assistant to Slaughter.

Gene Slaughter
. . . ambitious, energetic

Slaughter is giving a rebirth to football on Capital's campus. You can feel it in the air and you can hear it from both the football players and the non-football players.

His team doesn't particularly rank head-and-shoulders over other Ohio Conference contenders, but his boys—in the last couple of days—have thrown more spirit than has been seen at Cap in recent memory.

Even in this recent hot, humid weather the boys have smiles on their faces. The twice-a-day practices aren't tiring them a bit. In fact, they're enjoying it, it seems.

High Record Sparkles . . .

Slaughter comes to Cap with an outstanding high school record behind him. Although no one has officially commented on the situation, it is generally believed that Slaughter was hired because of his fiery personality.

Slaughter, who lives with his wife, Peggy, and children Gwendolyn Ann and Lisa Kay at 1528 Studer-av, was born in Ironton. He was graduated from high school there.

He holds a BS degree in education from Capital, which he received in 1950, and has a Masters from Marshall College.

He has a 84-16 high school record. At Jackson High School (near Canton) he coached four undefeated teams with a 30-game winning streak.

He was named Ohio prep coach-of-the-year in 1957 while at Warren High School. He compiled a 25-1-4 record there.

Slaughter spent last season with Woody Hayes on the Ohio State University coaching staff.

He spent two years in the Navy (1944-46).

Part Of Trend . . .

Slaughter is just part of an Ohio Conference trend. A trend to restore so-so football in the league. There are few—if any—doubts that he will.

The 35-year-old coach is keeping pace with the ever-increasing conference caliber.

For example, Wittenberg was brought out of the depths by Bill Edwards who is like Slaughter in many ways. Bob Agler at Otterbein, and Bill Sherman at Muskingum, are two excellent examples of this trend.

Hiram, Kenyon and Oberlin are currently just playing for kicks but this is expected to change in the not too far off future.

Capital has taken the giant step. They had to do something. Since they joined the conference in 1927 they have yet to grab a football crown.

This could be the year. At least, it's better than a 50-50 chance that it will be.

Slaughter has many new ideas. He's got the drive and the insistence on perfection to make them click. He demands a rough, tough type of football and he'll get it.

Never confuse confidence with a cocky attitude. Slaughter says, "I don't want to be second best" and that, my friend, is confidence.

AREA WRAP-UPS

EAST WEAKENED in the second half after putting up a terrific defensive battle in the first half at Mansfield Friday night. The Tigers dropped it, 21-6.

Vernon Fields, East safety man, bobbled a Tiger punt in the second quarter, recovered and streaked down the sideline 88 yards for his team's only score.

MIKE HARRISON, a speedy halfback with plenty of deception, accounted for four touchdown and four extra points as he totaled 302 yards in sparking Licking Heights to a 48-0 victory over Marion-Franklin Friday night.

M-F was on the Heights' two when the first half ended.

DOUG SHEPARD tallied all three touchdowns as he sparked North's victory over South, 13-7, on the winner's field. His longest scoring run was 17 yards, but he also gained regularly to lead the offense

A 40-yard pass from Sam Wilson to Bill Bolden accounted for South's score in the second quarter.

ST. CHARLES wore down Mt. Vernon with its reserve strength, made up a 12-0 deficit and went on to stop the Jackets, 26-12 Friday night.

Bob Corna and Dan Mitchell each scored twice for St. Charles. Mitchell's 55-yd. run in the fourth was longest of the game.

BOB BENJAMIN, the former Eastmoor star, got off to a good start with Whitehall as he sparked two scoring drives to lead his Rams to a 20-6 victory over Westerville Friday night.

Quarterback Ron Paxton accounted for the other Whitehall score. Gary Andrix intercepted a pass to set the stage of Westerville's 75-yd. scoring march, with John Talbot crashing over from the four.

BEXLEY scored in the first and third quarters and then stopped two late scoring threats against Logan to win 12-8.

John Moriarty intercepted a Logan pass on the four to stop the last drive.

Cal Hamrick and Christ Tsitouris, a couple of hard running Bexley backs, scored on runs of 32 and 26-yds.

THANKS TO quarterback Bill Solomon, Central High dropped Linden, 22-12.

The Dennis-the-Menace-sized soph. signal caller guided Central to two TD's in their first two cracks with the ball that provided the Pirates with enough margin to survive a late Linden rush.

AT WEST, Eastmoor's defending co-champions exploded for 30 first half points, and then held on to down the "new look," Cowboys, before a large crowd Friday, 38-26.

Frank Stavroff capped a 77-yd. scoring drive early in the first quarter by running the option over right guard from seven yards out for the touchdown and the Warriors were never headed.

CENTERBURG scored in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and again with four minutes left in the fourth period Friday to defeat Columbus St. Mary's, 14-6.

John Jennings punched his way from the five to cap an 80-yard Rambler drive in the third quarter.

BISHOP HARTLEY opened its season with a 10-6 victory over Big Walnut there Friday night.

The Hawks took the opening kickoff and drove 70 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. Bob Gantner, on a quarterback keep, swept left and for the TD.

Doug Bedell, co-captain of the Hawks, grabbed a Big Walnut back in the end zone for a safety in Big Walnut's first series of plays.

Stamps–

Dick Baldridge, South Side secretary and main spokesman for the group, told the East End dealers that response to the drive has been "unbelievable."

He said:

"We honestly expected some dealers in the South Side to keep stamps. None did. It has been simple — almost unbelievable. After our meeting in the South, the dealers all went back to their stations and took down their stamp signs."

Baldrige said that no dealers of major oil companies in a district bounded by Rt. 665 to the south, High-st to the west, Hamilton-rd to the north and Broad-st to the north have stamps.

The nearly 30 dealers in attendance at the East Side meeting, unanimously agreed to stop issuing stamps. This includes most of the service stations from Big Walnut to the east to Nelson-rd to the west, south to Rt. 665 and north to Broad-st.

"With a little organization, stamps can be whipped if we follow the pattern started in the South End," said an East Side gas dealer.

What organization steps do they plan to take?

First, they have placed six to eight dealers on a petition. These dealers will go to the local offices of the major oil companies in the nation.

They will tell the companies that they plan to stop issuing stamps and the next step will be up to the oil companies. "There shouldn't be much protest," Baldrige added.

Baldrige, who is generally known for his fiery speaking tactics, said, "We dealers are slaves. Nobody has to give stamps if they give good service. The stamps stick together in the rain and we're operating in the red trying to give them out."

Perry Warren, who is Columbus' representative to the National Federation, said that "a survey made of over 200 local members of the National Federation indicates that they will join the fight against trading stamps in Columbus and surrounding areas."

ity was annexed by council Monday. Considerable housing is under development in the area now.

Plans for an integrated housing development in an 80-acre site just north of Westbrook Addition on Frank-rd were accompanied by pleas for an end of the city's eight-year ban on water and sewer extensions to the suburbs. Property owner James H. Jones, 79 N. Monroe-av. has asked for 300 taps.

Councilman Russell Jones said the planned addition would make low-cost housing available for persons routed by the expressways and others who have difficulty obtaining loans.

Service committee action was deferred until 2 p.m. Thursday to give city officials time to reconsider the freeze on services

AN EDITORIAL . . .

Voters Urged To Vote 'No' In Sept. 26 Election

A special election is scheduled for Sept. 26 for the purpose of determining if a small section of Franklin Township shall be incorporated to be known as Westview Heights.

Residents of the area involved need to give this matter very careful consideration and determine now what lies ahead if they incorporate. It is our sincere belief that there is absolutely no merit in incorporating and that the issue should be defeated.

We have heard no severe complaints from residents of Franklin Township as to the services they are currently getting. Neither have we heard of them being disturbed at the cost of these services.

We are sincerely of the belief that a smaller group of citizens in a new Westview Heights can certainly not do as much for themselves as the present larger township. In the meantime it appears very likely that the cost of even continuing the same services under incorporation would lead to increased costs. We see no reason why a small group of people should be seeking to establish another governmental entity on the edge of Columbus. We know of no other small incorporated area that has anything to prove that a separate incorporation is better.

Any services that the township are not currently providing that might be provided by the new incorporation would of necessity cost the taxpayers of the area, and additional costs are always an unsavory subject, especially when one doesn't know what the bill will be.

We see no good reason at all why there should be a Village of Westview Heights and if residents of the area are interested in keeping from becoming involved in a continuous political hassle, they should go to the polls and vote against such a move.

One-Way–

that similar systems have worked well in the narrow streets on the Hilltop and North Side.

Gallagher agrees that one-ways will both facilitate traffic flow and permit continued parking on both sides of area streets.

He stressed he "would not force" the system without the support of area residents. "If they want the one-ways, we'll put them in, otherwise we won't," Gallagher explained.

Other tentative proposals which the committee would like discussed are:

• Erection of stop signs on Cable-av at Hayden, Princeton, Chicago and Wisconsin. The proposal is aimed at slowing traffic on Cable.

• Installation of a signal light at Glenwood and Broad to facilitate the movement of big trucks.

• Placement of traffic lights at the freeway ramps.

• Prohibit left turns on Broad-st between 7 and 9 a.m. and 4 and 6 p.m.

THINGS OF THE PAST and the present will mingle in an exciting way at Old Fashioned Bargain Days Sept. 14, 15 and 16, at Central Point.

'Old Fashioned Bargain Days' Coming To Central Point

In appreciation of the nine years of patronage on the part of the West Side and nearby suburban areas, the merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st at Harrisburg-pk, are staging gala "Old Fashioned Bargain Days" Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

This event culminates weeks of preparation and special buying, intended to provide hundreds of bargains at "old fashioned" prices. One feature will be a "Sidewalk Sale" on Friday and Saturday—s le the Fourth Street Market.

Sales people will be costumed in "Gay Nineties" outfits. Sunbonnets, derbies, handlebar mustaches will be the order of the day everywhere. Many stores will display priceless antiques in their windows. There will be continuous free movies harkening back to the years of Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford and the "Roaring 20's."

One of the outstanding features will be an exhibition of antique automobiles, over 25 old cars from all over central Ohio will be on display Saturday afternoon. These ancient wonders will go as far back as a 1903 Oldsmobile.

For the small fry there will be free rides in an old sight-seeing wagon drawn by a span of Clydesdale horses. A "Keystone Cop" will undertake to handle traffic. There'll be rube clowns, too, and a "crazy mirror."

The merchants anticipate that this fun and bargain-packed program will produce the largest crowd in Central Point's nine-year history.

Remember, Nickel Day At Norwood Saturday!

Hey kids . . . don't forget that this coming Saturday, Sept. 16, has been set aside as the annual Hartley Newspapers "Nickel Day" at Norwood Park, 2025 E. Main-st.

Response to "Nickel Days" has been so good that the folks at the Hartley Papers have decided to run the special event again this year.

The cost for all rides on that day will be five cents per ride . . . and the park will be open from 1 until 10 p.m.

In addition to the many fine rides, there are miniature golf and picnic facilities. Miniature golf will be offered at a special rate of 15 cents during the afternoon, 35 cents after 6 p.m.

There will be big drawings for door prizes, which include a bicycle and radios. Drawing stubs will be given out with each five-cent ride purchase, so there's plenty of chance to win.

The picnic area is free just in case you want to bring Mom and Dad along and make a day of it. Free parking is an added feature.

Major rides at Norwood include the dodgem, screwball, roller coaster, pretzel and ferris wheel. Many rides for the younger kids also are available.

That's it! Saturday, Sept. 16 is the big day! . . . Why not get Mom and Dad to come along . . . they'll enjoy it, too!

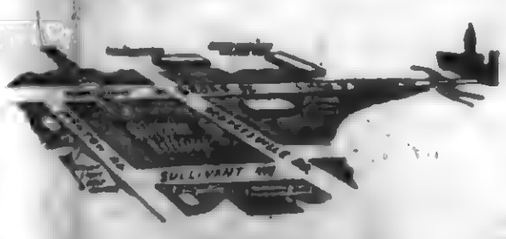
"WE HAVE MORE TIME FOR FUN AT LINCOLN VILLAGE SOUTH"

Dena and Carl Walton Love Their Bi-Level at 230 S. Murray Hill Rd.



The Waltons enjoy a bonus of leisure time. They've discovered that there's no painting or repairs on maintenance-free aluminum siding in Lincoln Village South. Mr. Walton also wastes no time traveling to and from his job at the nearby Ternstedt Plant. All in all, the Waltons and their three children — Stephanie and the twins, Cindy and Lindy—have discovered the meaning of gracious living in Lincoln Village South.

GLADDEN OPENS DOORS FOR WEST SIDERS

Gladden Community House will hold its annual open house from 4 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 21. All West Siders are invited to attend.

The Gladden [illegible] and volunteers from the neighborhood will be on hand to answer questions and assist in registering for the season's activities.

The program this year has been expanded. Among the new adult activities is a Men's Smoker and Dinner Club. This will be a "men only" affair. Guests in the sports, business and professional world will be invited to speak.

Home first aid is a second addition to the adult program. The class is designed to provide knowledge of burns, poisons and other accidents occurring in the home.

Restyling of dresses, suits and other clothing will be the new emphasis in the sewing class this year. Adult clubs and classes that will be continuing include the Women's Club, slimnastics class, Quilting club, art class, ceramics class, Little Theatre and upholstering class.

Featured for young adults is the new Co-ed Club. Plans call for the club to be planned around the interests of its members. Membership will include young adults of senior high school age through age 20.

The teen program has been modified. A lounge will replace the Friday night dances. The lounge will be held every Friday night, rather than alternate Fridays as was the case last year. Teen clubs will continue to meet. High school basketball will again be included as part of the activities. Teenagers are invited to participate in Little Theatre.

The Saturday program has been greatly expanded. In addition to tap and ballet and children's drama, children's art, voice lessons and music lessons will be offered. Saturday afternoon, 11 through 13-year-old boys can participate in the Western Optimistic Club basketball program.

During the week children's clubs will continue to meet after school. This year children 11 and over may register themselves.

Membership cards for participation in Gladden's program may be purchased at the open house. Fees will be the same as last year. Memberships for children 13 and under are 50 cents a year. These finance everything except tap and ballet, music and art lessons. Teenage and adult membership is $1. Family rates are available for those with over four members, excluding teenagers. Special consideration has been made for larger [illegible].

All clubs and classes will begin the week of September 25. For further details call CA. 1-7801.

CINCINNATI WAS represented when West Side gasoline dealers met with South Side Dealer's Association last Thursday night. QUESTION MARK?

Lower West Side Is Taking Time In Stamp Decision

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Columbus' West Side has offered the greatest amount of opposition to date in a move by South Side Gasoline Dealers to rid the city of trading stamps which they term "evil and profit squeezing."

The South Side—with the exception of one dealer—has succeeded in eliminating stamps. The East Side followed suit.

Now, in the third week of the campaign, the West Side has become an obstacle in the move.

Two meetings — last Thursday and Monday — have already been held in Graham's Auto Service, 1510 W. Broad-st. Another one is planned for Thursday evening.

Lower West Big Protestor . . .

According to Dealer Secretary Dick Baldrige, the lower West Side is slowest in making a decision.

Baldrige said that most of the Hilltop area dealers have agreed to stop issuing stamps to customers.

ROGER GRAHAM
Former Stamp Giver

"When I gave out stamps," Graham said, you'd never find a more enthusiastic dealer in the world. I'd offer specials and everything. Then I saw how they were eating into my profits and I was one of the first in this area to cut them off."

The ironic thing about the West Side's reluctance to stop giving stamps is this:

At all of the meetings held so far in the Columbus area, none have been attended so well or so enthusiastically as on the West Side.

Some 150 jammed into the Graham garage Thursday for the get-together. This is the biggest crowd to ever hear the views of the South Side gas dealers.

They (the West Siders) seem to be genuinely interested in dropping the stamps but they indicate that they "want to be sure before making any moves."

Toes Stepped On . . .

Before this whole thing is over it appears that many toes will be stepped on. It's already started.

Not only certain individuals but also large organizations are feeling the pressure by the gas dealers group. And, they're not through yet.

Baldrige reported Tuesday that he was heading for Cincinnati to meet with persons there to get documentary evidence of bribery charges and strong threats made by stamp and oil companies toward dealers.

Baldrige has already reported evidence of a trad-

Question Settled On Street-Parks At Council Meet

By BILL GRESS

Or of Dakota, Guilford and Martin-ave.

All have two things in common: parkways and indignant citizens.

Both have spelled trouble for Dietz, who is director of the city's parks.

Ever since last spring when Dietz casually suggested that parks be established on the median strips of the four near West Side streets, he's had nothing but headaches!

Residents have protested in every possible way, by letter, telephone, petition and through the West Side Neighborhood Council.

Over the last six months they've politely told Dietz that "he's all wet."

Dietz in turn has stressed that the plan was "just a suggestion."

Dietz, in the face of a hopping-mad audience, explained his stand "once and for all."

Faced with mounting land costs particularly in the city's older neighborhoods, Dietz said his department has sought inexpensive ways of introducing "airspace" in heavily populated areas — primarily through the use of existing city land.

"It was just my idea to utilize the parkways," Dietz repeated. "If the residents don't like the plan, we'll forget it."

The street parks as visualized by the parks' director would have been a place for younger children to play. There would have been, perhaps, shuffle boards, jungle gyms and similar recreational devises.

And residents pointedly were told that there would have been no fence, particularly not one "200-feet high" as had been rumored.

Dietz explained that his department had considered four methods of providing more parks for the near West Side.

• The now defunct parkway scheme.

• Expansion of existing school parks.

• Aquisition of vacant land north of Broad.

• Possible use of lands adjacent to the freeways.

He also suggested that the use of state-owned grounds west of Central-av be investigated.

The difficulty of acquiring new parks for the area is money, Dietz stressed. "Developed lands simply cost too much.

"In new areas, one approach is to buy 5 to 15 acres adjacent to a school park. Down here the price is prohibitive. We're lucky if we can afford two or three acres next to a school."

Dietz indicated that the parks at Avondale and Chicago-av

Traffic Meets Approved

West Siders will have concrete proposals to consider at a series of meetings scheduled by the area Neighborhood Council for the purpose of devising a master traffic plan.

The proposals, designed to "give the people something definite to talk about," were approved by the council at its first fall meeting Thursday.

The first of the meetings, [illegible] which begins at 8 p.m. will be held at Chicago Avenue School Wednesday, Sept. 20.

All residents from that school district are invited to attend and voice their opinions on local traffic needs.

Other meetings will be: Sept. 27, Dana Avenue School; Oct. 4, Avondale; Oct. 11, Franklinton; Oct. 18, Bellows; Oct. 25, Sullivant.

Each of the sessions will be conducted by the district's representative to the council.

Among proposals to be discussed at the meetings will be:

• A system of one-way streets for the area south of Broad. Glenwood would remain two-way. Rich and Town-sts would be one-way and serve as feeders for local traffic.

• Install stop signs on Cable-av at Hayden, Princeton, Chicago and Wisconsin and traffic lights at freeway ramps.

• Ban left turns off Broad between 7-9 a.m. and 4-6 p.m.

City Traffic Engineer John Gallagher, stressing the importance of local opinion, has offered the council a free hand in drawing up the traffic plan.

Community Applauds West High's New Rule As Rigid–Reasonable

By BETTY DAFT

"Now I am at home; I like it here!"

David Randall, an alumnus and former teacher at West, addressing his first assembly as its principal last week expressed his love and respect for the school and community by setting high standards of student conduct.

And the response is an enthusiastic ever-growing wave of approval and support throughout the Hilltop.

The attention of the community has been caught by Randall's words. Their impact has been the talking point in service clubs and churches as well as in homes.

His attentive student audience of 1800, at first dubious about his drastically rigid rules of conduct and dress, soon burst into delighted, approving applause of the program.

Captivated by his comic portrayal of girls with exaggerated "crow's nest" hairdos and makeup, and boys with ducktails, student resistance soon dissolved into waves of laughter.

"A student usually acts and studies as he dresses," Randall explained, and suggested proper, conservative dress, make up and hair styles for girls.

Belts on trousers, shirts buttoned and shirt tails tucked in, and neatly cut hair were decreed for the boys.

Determined that the school "shall be maintained in an atmosphere for learning," Randall also defined rules of conduct in classrooms, halls and lunch rooms.

A classmate of many of his students' parents, Randall graphically outlined his intention of "maintaining in the school and atmosphere of learning," and pledged his help and that of the teachers, "all certified, dedicated, capable people, your friends."

About his desire to make West High, "the best in the city and the state," Randall said, "I cannot do this alone. Our staff cannot. You are the ones who can do this and this is what I expected.

The rules are rigid but reasonable, each based on courtesy and respect for fellow students, teachers and community, and each designed to further the school's purpose of providing the best education possible to each pupil.

'Help Us!' Cry Clubwomen As Council Tables Censorship

By TAYLOR GREGG

City Council Chambers rang with applause and boos Monday afternoon as a large group of Columbus women asked that individuals be appointed to accept the responsibility of censoring all movies. Although the resolution was tabled until next week, it was amended to include advertising also.

In the words of Mrs. L. M. Ramsey, "who has time to raise three or four kids and check the movies too?" In their efforts to make the city accept this responsibility for them, no mention was made of the parents who felt that responsibility their personal right.

On the other side, a young mother came forward to say that in thinking of her children's future, she felt it a moral sin to deprive them of moral responsibility. She said she as a parent had the right to be responsible.

Apparently in accord with the women were several representatives of fundamentalist churches. Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic representatives were conspicious in their absence.

The ministers present (Rev. Harley Bennett, Rev. Ashbrook and others) made religious statements about the wrath of God, the world to come, and the high rate of degeneracy, immorality and juvenile delin-

[illegible]

Although the ministers failed to show the relationship between these calamities and the showing of uncensored movies, Mrs. Golda M. Edmonston of council made an attempt to. She stated she was quoting Judge Clayton Rose when she said, "the responsibility does not belong to the parents."

Judge Rose, however, when contacted stated that Mrs. Edmonston may have misinterpreted what he meant. He said only that "parents should have some way of knowing without seeing a movie themselves, whether or not it is acceptable to children." "I did not mean that parents were not responsible for the behavior of their children."

He said further, that if Mrs. Edmonston were to ask him, he would suggest a law that said teenagers could not go to drive-in movies and some others without their parents. He said that "should cure the problem."

Vote Scheduled For Tuesday On Westview Heights Incorporation

By BILL GRESS

Neither side wants it (annexation).

Both feel they have the right approach to prevent it.

One faction, the committee for the incorporation of Westview Heights headed by Edmund LeCaptain and Robert Laird sees incorporation as the only safeguard against eventual annexation.

The other, including Franklin Twp. Citizens Association President Dave Caperton claims that incorporation offers no legal protection against annexation and, threatens the "solid front now presented by Franklin Township."

The incorporation issue will be settled at a special election Tuesday, Sept. 26.

Residents will vote yes or no to the proposal to incorporate the 3040-acre area of northwest Franklin Twp. as the Village of Westview Heights.

VOTING INFORMATION

Polling places will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. The proposed village includes Precincts C, E, and M of Franklin Township and parts of Precincts F and J.

All precincts will vote at North Franklin School.

The proposed village consists of an area bordered roughly by the Scioto River on the east, Valleyview and Columbus limits on the south, Prairie Township on the west and Trabue-rd on the north.

Population of the area is 2300 persons in 700 homes.

Equalized valuation excluding utilities has been estimated at $3.5 to $4 million with a resulting tax revenue of some $12,000.

In addition the proposed village would receive a rebate of (estimated) $14,000 from the state in various license fees and gas tax.

Opposition to the incorporation developed at meetings both Monday and Tuesday night.

WITH COWBOYS AT MAGLY

Claytor's Conversion Is Margin Of Victory

By Melvin Hoover and Glenn Rohrer

After a shaky first half, the West High Cowboys came on strong to down Watterson's Eagles, 14-12, before a near-capacity crowd in Magly Field Friday night.

Watterson's two first-half scoring drives hurt West badly since they had trouble getting things rolling due to penalties.

The second half was a different story.

Jerry Ball — scoring his first touchdown of the young season on a 40-yard end sweep — sparked the Cowboy comeback.

Comeback minded, the Cowboys took quick advantage of a bad Watterson punt. On the first play from scrimmage speedy left halfback Rick Neeley scampering around right end for a 31-yard touchdown.

Last week, the Cowboys with this same team effort, came back from a six-point first half to nearly down the defending City League Champs, Eastmoor.

Watterson's first tally came on a 16-yard pass from Frank Doyle to Dave Colonet. This climaxed a 68-yard drive which took the Eagles 13 plays.

John Shulthels added the second Watterson score on a four-yard plunge over right tackle. This score came with 12 seconds remaining in the first half, capping a 82-yard drive which took nine plays.

Watterson, with less than a minute to play, had one last chance to pull the game out of the fire. This threat was stopped when halfback Jerry Ball intercepted an Eagle pass.

Rich Neely and Jerry Claytor proved to be the West workhorses of the night. Each carried the ball 10 times, accounting for nearly half of the Cowboys 211 yards gained rushing.

West faired well in the kicking department Friday night. Paris Martin kicked off three times for an average of 40.3 yards. Jim Cook, averaging 38.8 yards for five punts, kept the Eagles backs to the wall most of the game.

West High quarterbacks Rick Finke and Jim Cook threw a total of 20 times, completing five for a gain of 30 yards.

The Cowboys defense the second half was solid. They held Watterson's fumble dazzle split-T offense to a total of 41 yards.

It's Central 14-13

UNBEATEN CENTRAL took advantage of a Newark fumble midway in the fourth period and drove 52 yards with the winning touchdown and conversion by Phillip Broadnax, providing the Pirates with their second straight win, a 14-13 squeaker at Newark Friday night.

Boys' Grid Foundation Stages Preview At Franklin Heights

Saturday evening, Sept. 16th, at Franklin Heights High School, the Ohio Boys Football Foundation had their second annual Preview with a gala parade of queens from each of the 12 member teams.

A capacity crowd of 4000 parents and friends of these teams attended to welcome their regular season beginning Sept. 24.

All teams played a 9 minute quarter to display the talents and equipment of all teams. These teams were all represented with their own cheerleaders, ranging in age from 9 to 12, the same as the players.

The West Mound Rams played a 9 minute quarter in the Preview. The Rams' Keith Edwards scored on a 60 yard trap for their only score.

The Rams open the 1961 season this Sunday, Sept. 24 at Founds Park, Hilltonia Jr. High School (rear), against the Beatty Lions.

The 90 pound team also played a short scrimmage against Linden-Milo with a five minute limit. Both teams were scoreless in this period.

The Rams are backed by the Rams Booster Club, with William Chidester serving as president for 1961. The Booster Club has purchased practice equipment.

The 90-pound team was formed this year for the first time and Paul Johnson, David Sherman and Bob Fox are handling the squad.

The Westgate Hawks took up where they left off in previous years last Saturday night. In an action packed ten minutes the Hawks won over their perennial rival, Duckworth Plumbers by a 12 to 6 score.

Duckworth drew first blood with less than two minutes gone, scoring on a long pass plus a reverse that completely fooled Westgate.

The Hawks came right back though and with a backfield of Bell, Eyer, Glascor and Thompson evened the score and then went ahead in the second five minute period. The defense of the Hawks, while not up to par with past clubs, showed promise and with a game or two under their belts should shape up.

Westgates first regularly scheduled game will be at West High's Magly Field Sunday, at 2 p.m. There is no admission charge to these games and everyone is cordially invited. The visiting eleven for this initial game will be the Gahanna Rockets.

schools would be expanded through the purchase of developed land.

He also revealed that the old McKinley-av playground will be revived after the land is cleared.

Objections to street parks generally voiced at the council meeting were that they would:

- Constitute a nuisance.
- Devaluate property.
- And endanger children playing "just one step from traffic."

Football Preview Dance Is Slated At St. Agnes

A preview of the football team in full uniform will be a feature of the dance planned Saturday, Sept. 23 at St. Agnes social hall.

Proceeds from the series of dances are used to support the parish athletic program.

The Columbus Censorship Law--An Editorial Analysis

That's the way the City Movie Censorship problem ended this week.

Proponents supported Councilwoman Golda May Edmonston's proposal of prior viewing of films by a 15-man board with pleas, in essence, of "City! Save my child.'"

Opponents of the censorship were willing to take the risk of raising their own and others' children in the moral atmosphere that exists allowing them to make their own decision, along with parental guidance, as to what is right and what is wrong to view. They were more concerned at the restrictions placed upon freedom of speech, inherent under the proposed city law.

The theme of "women and children first" underlined the emotional agreement and disagreement that took place in City Hall.

Of all the adults and youngsters who appeared to raise their voice, and there were enough—both pro and con, ministers, womens club members, Bishop Watterson students, and just plain parents—none spoke on behalf of the adults of Columbus. True, there were adults speaking, but they were speaking on the protection of children.

And very few spoke on the law itself. Most of the opinion was based on heresay—quoting other sources ,throwing out statistics, and taking one specific incident and generalizing upon it to mold support for one side or the other.

The Advertising Angle

Council fisherman Robert Van Heyde managed to throw out a smooth bait that was booked by Mrs. Edmondston and her followers. He incorporated an amendment, unanimously adopted, to have all advertising on movies also reviewed by any censorship board. Van Heyde said he was disturbed over the advertisements appearing in newspapers proclaiming the implied vices depicted in the films. The young councilman also took some time describing in vivid detail advertisements appearing recently in the Columbus Dispatch. "This," he said referring to the paper, "is the type of junk and trash we should get rid of."

By adopting the advertising amendment, council is invading other fields besides that of movies —an area that opponents of censorship have often propounded by questioning: "Where will it end?"

Van Heyde, a forceful and persuasive speaker, apparently had thought of this, and by so moving, he may have sounded the death knell for the bill.

For advertising censorship not only affects newspapers, but also television spot announcements of movies, pre-views on a movie screen, and it would also be necessary for any censorship board to check every periodical in which advertising appears of a film to be shown in Columbus—a sample of advertising of every book and magazine coming into Columbus. It was a neat web that Van Heyde cleverly wove and into which Mrs. Edmunston, in her eagerness to get the censorship law adopted, gracefully stepped and was snared.

Advocates Higher Authority

Ronald DeVore said he was for censorship on a state or national level but not on a local level "since it would burt the local movie operators. People can always go elsewhere if they aren't going to show a certain movie in Columbus." In a sense, this was a Pontius Pilate-type attitude on the part of DeVore. He is willing to go along with censorship if imposed by a higher power, but he is also willing to wash his hands of the issue here.

Mrs. Edmonston said she did not propose the censorship idea on a sudden impulse. She said the issue is neither political nor religious, but a moral one. Yet, as one opponent to her bill asked: "How can you separate politics from morals?" Van Heyde said he had been approached by a person in the hall and was told he had better vote for the law, or the speaker would do everything he could to defeat him in the next campaign.

Mrs. Edmonston sat at her council table supplied with a movie fan magazine. She admitted she was not much of a movie goer and said she had more than 6000 names on petitions supporting the movie ban. She was willing to have deleted a part of the law which required operators to pay a fee of $3 per thousand feet of film upon advisement of City Attorney Russell Leach that the deletion would strengthen the law. He said otherwise, the law would not be constitutional.

Councilman Russell Jones wanted to know where the films could be viewed prior to public presentation. The reason of his inquiry: the different size screens now in evidence at various theaters. To some who may have overlooked this practically, it is one to be taken into consideration.

Despite all the emotional pros and cons brought out at the hearing, little if any criticism was directed at the provisions of the censorship law.

The setup: A board of censorship would consist of 15 members, from Franklin County. Each would serve at the pleasure of the mayor. They shall determine what is and is not obscene. Any motion picture shall be deemed examined when five members of the board examine a film and a majority of th five have agreed on its disposition. If a majority fails to agree, the entire board gets a crack at it.

By serving at the pleasure of the mayor means that any one of the board can be, to use the political idiom, "forced to resign," at any time. By limiting the final decree to a majority of five examiners means that three votes will do it—a "minority of one" can impose his or her will upon what more than a half million people in the Franklin County area can see—a half a million, yes, because patrons also come to see movies who are not residents of Columbus.

What this ordinance amounts to, is that if a film exhibitor goes against the wishes of the censorship board, the only recourse is to the courts—where any such issue should go in the first place.

In Abilene, Tex., the city commissioners recently had to take the bite out of a city censorship bill. The action drew neither support nor opposition from a once-aroused citizenery. The amended Abilene ordinance provides for theatre owners to do their own classifying and publish the classifications in the newspapers. If they refuse to do so, the Citizens Board of Review can require a private screening. If it feels a movie is obscene and if the operator ignores the board, a remedy at law by civil or criminal means takes the issue to the courts. "This," stated the Abilene city attorney, "is the strongest law we can enforce legally."

One more pertinent point: The sincerity of those supporting the Columbus censorship law is not doubted. They undoubtedly are voicing their convictions. But at the same time, their convictions are stepping on the toes of others.

The disturbing factor is that never have people fought so earnestly to have part of their rights taken away from them. But then, maybe this too is their right.

—John Poeppelmeyer

Ever-Wary Bushytails First To Find Spot In Hunters' Sights This Season

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The hickory bough thrashed and jumped as if an invisible puppeteer was yanking it with a string. Obviously, a big fox squirrel was up in the tree top eating his breakfast. Yet he remained hidden.

I watched the moving leaves through the scope on my .22 rifle. Daylight was just filtering into the woods and the lenses put more light on the subject. Every few seconds the leaves would stop. Hickory nut hulls would patter down on the forest floor. But still no patch of orange fur showed in the sight.

It became a war of nerves—my arms were tiring from holding the rifle—and I seemed to be losing. I was certainly more jumpy than the squirrel. A couple of crows flew overhead cawing, probably scared off of their roost by a squirrel hunter. A couple of shotguns boomed in the distance. The time had come to do something.

I picked up a stick very quietly, and threw it beyond the hickory tree. The little scuffling sound it made brought the squirrel to attention, on my side of the tree. A beautiful fox squirrel was in my scope, and a well-placed shot brought him down.

This little scene was enacted thousands of time in the last few days as an estimated quarter of a million Ohioans went squirrel hunting. The two big days of the season, the first day and first Saturday, fell consecutively this year and the hunters were out in force.

As is always the case, hunting reports are varied. Some gunners got their limits, while others had poor hunting. The season thus far has been a little better than an average year. Although squirrels may be somewhat spotty in their distribution, the hunters who knew where to go and who received permission to hunt early came back with heavy hunting coats.

For hunters who only go out one or two days, as most of them do, the weather can be very important in hunting success. A moist, damp morning when hunters can move about the woods quietly is ideal. But with dry leaves underfoot and wind in the tree tops the odds favor the squirrels. The way to beat the weather is to go hunting a half dozen or more times and you are almost certain to hit some good days.

Good bet for late-season squirrel hunting is in southeastern Ohio. This is the area marked Zone I on the hunting regulation digest, which has an extended season lasting to dark on Nov. 11. The rest of the state, Zone 2, closes at dark on Oct. 28.

The hill country is the primary range of gray squirrels, the ones most difficult to hunt. These are more wary than fox squirrels, can move through the forest faster and have the ability to seemingly vanish into thin air.

In addition to a longer season, southeastern Ohio offers many thousands of acres of public hunting. For a different kind of hunt, try a combination trip for both squirrels and grouse (after Oct. 16 when grouse season opens) in Ohio's tall timber.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Consumer Price Index Important To You

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

by
Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

FRUITS — Bartlett pears, peaches, grapes, apples

VEGETABLES — Cabbage, beans, sweet corn, potatoes, tomatoes, peppers

FOOD SHOPPERS AND THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX

What does the Consumer Price Index mean to you as a food shopper?

As you probably already know, each month the Bureau of Labor Statistics in the U.S. Department of Commerce compiles a report of retail price changes called the Consumer Price Index. This report usually rates a prominent place in newspapers and other news media —especially any change in food prices—for food is such a "regular thing", with all of us. But, the importance and magnitude of these changes are sometimes over emphasized, since food prices tend to fluctuate more than most items.

What is it? — The Consumer Price Index is a measure of the average change in prices of goods and services usually bought by families of wage earners and clerical workers who live in the U.S. cities. It is based on 300 items considered to be representative of all goods and services bought by these families. These items are grouped into eight broad types of spending for which separate indexes are computed. These are: Food, Housing, Apparel, Transportation, Medical Care, Personal Care, Reading and Recreation, and Other Goods and Services.

Prices are obtained in 46 U.S. cities which are chosen to represent all of the urban population. Ohio cities included in this sample are Cincinnati, Cleveland, Canton, Newark, Ravenna and Youngstown.

Only Price Changes are measured. It's important to remember this. The amounts and quality of items priced, are the same each month and prices are obtained from the same stores and businesses. Over long periods of time, however, minor adjustments are made in the list of items, the amounts, quality and sources of information, in order to keep the index up-to-date.

What Base?—The average of retail prices for the years 1947-49 is now used as a base for the index —always equal to 100.0 Thus, a given index figure shows the percentage change in the cost of the group of goods and services since the base period. For example, in May of this year the Consumer Price Index of all items was 127.4. In other words, the cost of these goods and services averaged 27.4 per cent higher than they were from 1947-49.

The base for the Consumer Price Index is scheduled to change next year to a more recent period. Beginning in Jan., 1962, the ase years will be 1957-59.

USE AND LIMITATIONS

The Consumer Price Index provides a valid measure of price change from one period to another. But it does not measure the change in "living costs" for any one family, since spending patterns vary by income level and family characteristics.

The index is widely used in industry and government as a factor in setting wage scales and in formulating economic policy. For consumers it has added informational value. It can increase our understanding or relative price changes on different goods and services and help pin point areas of spending that are most responsible for changes in our total spending.

Dropout Figures Should Challenge Freshmen

Letters to the Editor on topics of public interest are always welcome. They should be written or typed legibly on one side of the paper only, and limited to 250 words. Always sign your name and address so that authenticity of the letter may be checked if necessary. The writer's name will not be printed if so requested.

To The Editor:

More and more is being said these days about the difficulty high school students will have entering colleges and universities in the future. In some respects, it's nothing new.

Such enrollment has been steadily increasing through the past years, due, in part, to the demand for college graduates to fill vocations formerly held by non-graduate students. Financial ability also has brought about an increase.

Newspapers, radio, and television have advocated emphasis on a higher degree of learning because of the Soviet Union's quest for higher education.

There has been a larger increase in enrollment at colleges of those high school grads who were in the middle third of the classes.

Some of these go to college for the simple reason that their high school buddy or sweetheart is going—perhaps to obtain a Mr. or Mrs. degree.

Then there are others in the middle third who are truly serious about putting forth their best effort to make their dream of marching out in caps and gowns become reality.

Yes, this dream can become reality right here in our own area because we have some of the biggest and best colleges in the United States. Besides Ohio State, there are Capital U., in town, and Otterbein U., in Westerville, plus numerous theological, business, modeling, nursing, and trade schools.

In speaking of Ohio State, statistics of persistence in college as related to high school scholastic rank show that only 37 per cent of those in the middle third are expected to graduate from college while 42 per cent will drop out for one reason or another, 21 per cent will be dismissed, mainly because of poor grades.

Looking at the upper third shows that 56 per cent will graduate, 35 per cent will drop out with only seven per cent being dismissed.

Sometimes these facts scare the student in the middle third of his high school class into changing his mind about going to college. This should not be the case, but it should serve as a reminder that he must work much harder than he did in high school.

Those students may also find themselves confronted with a mass of test results that show they do not measure up completely to other freshmen entering. Sometimes, this feeling follows the two-day orientation program in which the Ohio State Psychological Examination is administered.

Results of this test divide the freshman class into three categories, with five groups in all, according to their capacity for learning and their probable persistence in college courses.

In the two groups which comprise the "upper fourth" category, 61 per cent will graduate, 33.5 per cent will drop out, and only 5.5 per cent will fail.

In the middle group, made up of the middle half of the freshman class, 47 per cent will graduate, 37 per cent will drop out, and 16 per cent will be failures.

Of the third group, or "lower fourth," composed of the two lowest-scoring classes on the O.S.P.E., 24 per cent will graduate, with 44 per cent drop-outs and 32 per cent failures.

By this time the truly serious freshmen-to-be in the middle half or middle third are pretty much discouraged, or are now set straight on what they have to do to complete college requirements. Despair is not the answer to their problems.

Part of the answer lies in long hours of hard, continuous study.

Another part must be in the mind of the student himself: He must have a strong will to learn and to want to be a success in life.

One thing that should keep him going is the assurance that his education is something that cannot be taken away!

STRICTLY FRESH

When a fellow opens a car door for a girl either the girl is new or the car is.

A pedestrian is a husband who didn't think his family needed two cars.

Is It Good?

When a Columbus, Ohio, man pleaded guilty to a drunk charge, he was asked by the judge he was appearing before if he ever heard of A.A. The chap replied that he had never tried any of that stuff.

Hot Tip

A Santa Monica, Calif., policeman got a call about a stolen car recently. When he asked how the caller knew it was stolen, the voice over the phone said, "Because I stole it."

35 M.P.H. Crash

Sometimes it doesn't pay to watch the speed limit. A Raleigh, N.C., driver was driving along with his eyes fixed on the 35 m.p.m. speed sign when he smashed into the rear end of another car.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Too much of what could be termed containment of rights in the Southern states and among its sympathising neighbors is usually put on display for public notice; while other rights, inherent under the Constitution, which could be termed precedent shattering, are glossed over or ignored.

Little Rock, that one-time stronghold of segregation riots, is a case in point. When school segregationists decided to take the law into their own hands, there were few countries in the world that did not hear of what went on. But when a Little Rock judge makes a decision—one that bespeaks further for the rights of a free press—it goes unnoticed.

Poeppelmeyer

In a murder trial there recently, in which a woman was accused of murdering her husband, then butchering his body—most of the elements of which a newspaper could manufacture a "sensational" story—the press was granted the right to take photographs in the court room during the trial proceedings.

(Remember the decision a Georgia judge recently made, that also made page one in newspapers throughout the country? He even went so far as to rule that photographs could not be taken on the steps of the courthouse . . . the farther away from justice the better.)

The Little Rock judge arrived at his ruling by talking over the photographing question with all concerned.

First, the photographers conferred with the judge, then with the attorneys and finally with the defendant. Photos would be taken of the defendant to and from the court, ran the persuasive argument, so why not during the trial?

Also, it was determined, the press photographers inside the courtroom would be restricted to not using flashbulbs so as not to disturb either the defendant nor the proceedings.

According to reports, the whole matter was handled with discretion and with a minimum of strain on the part of all concerned.

The photographer even caught the candid look on the face of the defendant at the time the "guilty" verdict was announced.

Time after time, when a trial is in progress, the press also finds itself on trial.

The Little Rock judge, the respective attorneys, the press and all involved once again proved that freedom of the press need not be abridged if photographing court trial proceedings in a murder case can be handled with the same impartiality and constraint that a jury should use to render a verdict.

He said a South Side station owner made an affidavit stating a stamp company representative had offered him between 25,000 and 50,000 free stamps if he would continue the stamps. He refused.

A stamp company was contactd by this paper and refused to comment on the situation.

Baldrige will meet in Cincinnati with John Kunnen, president of the Ohio Retail Gasoline Dealers Association and Ed Wimmer, Vice-President of the National Federation of Independent Business who is lending support to the anti-stamp drive.

Kunnen, along with George H. Leftwich of the Greater Cincinnati Gasoline Dealers Association, were present at Thursday night's West Side meeting.

Baldrige says that the next step will be branching out all over Ohio. The preliminary meetings went well—for the most part—in the Columbus, Newark, Cincinnati and Cleveland areas.

Feelings are high now that the move should be carried state wide.

"We'll stick to Columbus for the next week or two," Baldrige said, "then we'll branch out. We've got a four-city TV hook-up set (15-minutes) to allow Wimmer to tell the public the situation. This will take place in November before the Ohio Legislature convenes."

This is the association's big hopes . . . to get the plea into the legislature.

If a car means more to you than mere transportation you are . . . for driving in a Porsche is motoring pleasure at its finest. It's a world of precision driving where your car becomes an extension of yourself—answering your every command with a crisp accuracy that larger, bulkier cars can't equal. But, take a test drive and discover all of Porsche's outstanding features for yourself . . . air-cooled rear engine, torsion-bar suspension, servo-mesh transmission and double-size brakes are just a few.

Censorship—

A young boy from Bishop Watterson High School pleaded to City Council to "save youth." His parents were not present. Every time the boy made another statement about how weak youth were and how much council should protect them, there were loud cheers and clapping from the audience. Predominantly clubwomen, although they may not have been representative of Columbus parents, it was their sincere wish to be [illegible].

There were continued statements by Mrs. Edmonston as to the fact that "all the people of Columbus want this." After her statements the club matrons continued the applause.

Time was allowed for speakers on both sides, and legal as well as emotional implications were presented. One or two plans other than censorship were also mentioned, but none of them were put into motion [illegible].

One of the additional suggestions was that newspapers and other media of public information be censored also. Mrs. Edmonston stated she intended to bring proposals in the areas of newspapers, magazines and television at a later time, but did not feel them a part of the present measure. She wished to begin only with censorship of movies.

Questions raised by the opposition as to who was qualified to serve on a board of censors, or to set moral standards, were never answered by Mrs. Edmonston or the proponents.

The major justification presented for censorship was based upon what it was doing to our youth, although the board will censor movies for adults. No mention was made by the proponents as to who was responsible for youth.

Representative or not, the hearing is now over. In the ensuing week before a vote is taken, only the councilmen individually may be influenced.

Annexation—

At a session of the Franklin Twp. Citizens Association Monday, Caperton explained that he also opposed the formation of the new village because municipal costs would probably go up.

"I am sure they can maintain the present community cost, but the tendency is for each village to develop its own services and this means money," he said.

At Tuesday's meeting, called by the LeCaptain-Laird Committee, several dozen residents expressed concern over what they felt would be the increased costs to residents.

Frequently mentioned was the necessity of the village negotiating new contracts with all for water, electricity and gas services. They felt the village would be at the mercy of those providing the services.

The area is now served under the county rate for utilities which is fixed by law. Each village, however, must arrange its own contracts and rates.

Also of concern to many of the 100 persons attending Tuesday's session at North Franklin School was the cost of maintaining roads.

In the area there are approximately 14 miles of roads now maintained by the county at an estimated cost of $1500 a year per mile. This duty would revert to the village.

Those favoring incorporation claim it would permit the area to "continue on as it is now—but with government closer to home."

Le Captain said, "There will come a time when there will no longer be a township. If we do not incorporate we'll be part of Hilliard, Columbus or some other community."

Among the benefits of a village according to the committee are: the council will control electric lines, zoning, freeways, speed limits, traffic signals, transportation, parks, pools and [illegible].

Le Captain also contended at the meeting that costs of government would not necessarily go up under the village system. The only added expenses would be salaries for the council, mayor, clerk and marshal, he said.

He said existing county roads would be maintained by state [illegible].

NURSE SHOES

Came a sweet young thing into the store the other day. Seems that she had just started her job, as a waitress, and she wanted shoes to work in. Something cheap since they were just for work. Oh, she bought real good shoes for dress but she couldn't see putting much money into ugly shoes to knock around in a greasy restaurant. Boy! Has she got lots to learn. Two things it pays to buy the best . . . work shoes and a mattress. You spend most of your life on one or the other. We finally convinced the young lady that she should buy one of our best cushioned, white duty oxfords with a built-in support. It's not a waitress' shoes that take the real beating, it's her feet. And that goes for a lot of other professions, too. Good duty shoes are insurance against foot troubles.

Association President Makes Statement

COLUMBUS TRADING STAMP MOVE WILL NOT GO STATEWIDE

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

A surprise announcement made last Tuesday night by Greater Columbus Gasoline Dealers Association President R. J. McInerney, threw a whole new light on the stamp situation in this city.

McInerney changed the complexion of the race to rid the Columbus area of stamps when he told this newspaper that the campaign would not go state-wide.

The campaign against trading stamps, started by a new defunct group called the South Side Gasoline Dealers, has gained momentum in Newark, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Last week, the South Side Dealers group was dissolved and the Greater Columbus group emerged with much the same organization and leadership.

Dick Baldrige, secretary for the outfit, said prior to McInerney's statement that the dealers were ready to move state-wide with their project.

McInerney denied this and said, "We're not going state-wide. We first want to clean up the situation in Columbus. It's a big job and we want to make sure we do it right."

Four meetings have been held so far in the Greater Columbus area—in the west, south and east sections of the city.

Some opposition was raised in the West Side and Linden areas and this may have been the deciding factor in the plan to keep the campaign on a local level.

At any rate, McInerney said that a mass rally — the biggest to date — will be held Sept. 28 in the Central High School auditorium.

All gasoline dealers and their wives in the Greater Capital City area are invited.

"Other merchants are invited also," McInerney added. These "other merchants" include small business who are feeling what the association terms "the squeeze" from the stamp companies.

The dealers claim that stamp companies are taking all the profits from the Independent business. For instance, Baldridge reported of a gas dealer who had paid $30,000 for stamps in five years and didn't even own his home.

Dealers, therefore, have been under implied pressure, the group claims. A dip in gallonage means a company loss of rental revenue and possibility of a canceled lease, one dealer told newsmen.

The local gas men have the support and sanction of the Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association and the National Federation of Independent Businessmen.

The meeting slated for Central High this Thursday is expected to see the discussion of future plans set by the Greater Columbus Dealers Associa-

Traffic Study Shifts To Dana Area Tonight

The second inning in the West Side series of traffic discussions will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Dana Avenue school.

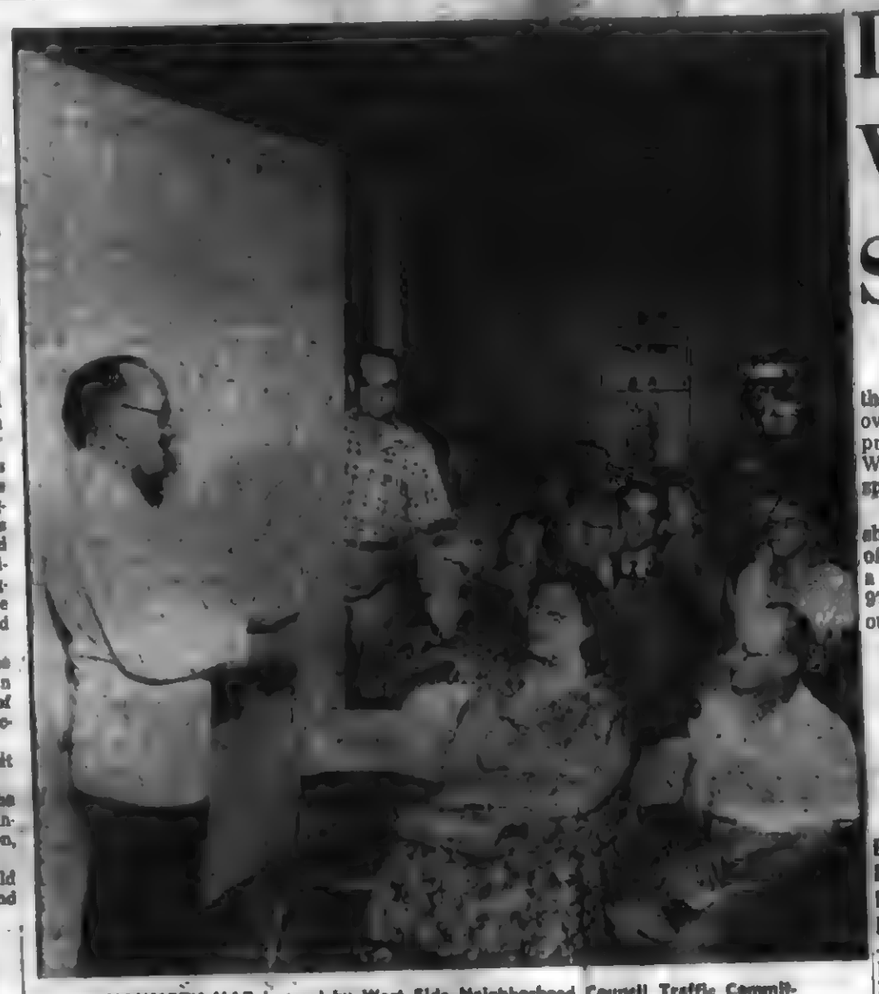
Representatives of the West Side Neighborhood Council will bring with them a list of suggestions from a similar meeting held last Wednesday at Chicago Avenue school. And four more meetings are to be held in the area before the series is finished.

The whole effort is designed to cure many of the West Side's chronic traffic ills. The city traffic engineer has promised to give serious consideration to all proposals for traffic changes which are presented by the council . . . and the council expects to have its suggestions in resolution form for its next "town hall" session at Gladden Community house, Nov. 2.

Bob McGuire will conduct tonight's meeting for all the people in the Dana neighborhood. Biggest issue in prospect is the WSNC Traffic Committee's proposal for one-way streets. The Chicago Avenue group had little to say about the one-ways last week because streets north of Broad-st would be little affected.

Glenwood Light Discussed

They did, however, show concern over one matter which is almost sure to be a talking point tonight with the Dana people—that of a need for a traffic light, with left turn arrow, to help trucks turn at Glenwood and Broad. City engineers said that if a light goes up at Glenwood, the one at nearby Yale-av should come down.



The only other concrete proposals made by the city concerning West Side traffic patterns is that one-ways should be established on Rich-st, from Glenwood east to the river, and on Town-st west from the river; plus some alterations in the Lewis, Souder traffic flow.

Chicago Avenue school area people aired two main gripes at their Sept. 20 meeting: 1. trucks are filtering haphazardly through the residential areas because they can't make proper turns at the larger intersections (Central-av for one). 2. A real hazard exists for the school children who walk along Cable-av.

Area Chairman Emmett Sealy prefaced the meeting by stating "the council traffic committee can only give proposals — it's up to the people to come through with the ideas and suggestions to build the resolutions on." He then read a detailed letter from a 61 N. Yale-av resident. Some of the writer's suggestions were inserted into the following list to be forwarded to neighborhood council:

1. Trucks, especially those leaving the expressway need an orderly route to go north of Broad to businesses in the McKinley-av area.
2. The number of speed limit signs should be increased.
3. Four-way stops should be established where Cable-av intersects Hayden, Princeton, Wisconsin and Chicago.
4. A full traffic signal should be installed at Central and

Supermarket Suspends Sunday Trade

One of the Hilltop's major supermarkets is among the first to answer favorably to a city-wide appeal to close up businesses on Sunday.

The new policy of George's Royal Blue, 3030 Sullivant-av, was stated publicly this week in circulars distributed throughout the community. Text of the announcement said: "We of George's Royal Blue have been asked by the Greater Columbus Sunday Association to abide by the Sunday closing law.

"To the best of our knowledge, regarding this matter, we have found that the majority of the Hilltop community is very much in favor and agree that Sunday is a family day for church, rest and recreation.

"As always it is our objective to serve the community at very opportunity, therefore we have decided to be closed on Sunday."

United Appeal Campaign Set To Begin Oct. 1 In This Area

Monday, Oct. 1 marks the opening of the 1961 United Appeal Campaign in Franklin County. Residents will be asked to help meet the $3,701,000 goal necessary to prevent cutbacks in 65 essential community services.

The 1961 goal, based on findings of the 19-member Citizens Screening Committee representing leading citizens in the fields of business, industrial management, labor and the professions, after a month-long study of agency budget requests and service programs, represents the minimum that must be raised to halt the widening gap between demand and supply of service for the people of Franklin County, E. D. Bivens, United Appeal campaign general chairman, reports.

To reach this year's goal, $240,000 of "new money" — or a seven per cent increase — must be raised. Though higher, the goal is still $400,000 shy of meeting needs, Bivens pointed out.

However, the Screening Committee set the goal at the $240,000 figure as the amount which in their opinion strikes the fairest balance between needs and the present economic climate of the community.

The goal continues to rise due to the need to try to keep up with increasing demands for services resulting from our population explosion, Bivens said. In the past 10 years Franklin County's population has increased 36 per cent. Even

Incorporation Of Westview Heights Swamped At Polls

By BILL GRESS

A show-me attitude on the part of voters led to the overwhelming defeat of the proposed incorporation of Westview Heights in a special election Tuesday.

Unofficial tabulations show 459 against formation of the village and 57 for — a ratio of 8.1. Some 516 of 972 eligible voters turned out for the balloting.

Precinct E	5	66
Precinct F	5	101
Precinct N	24	161

In general residents seemed to feel, as one voter commented, "I'm not against progress, but I haven't been convinced we'd be better off as a village."

The proposed village would have included a 3040-acre area of northwest Franklin Twp., bounded roughly by the Scioto River on the east, Valleyview and Columbus limits on the south, Prairie Twp. on the west and Trabue-rd on the north.

Population of the area is 2300 persons in 700 homes. Equalized valuation excluding utilities has been estimated at $3.5 to $4 million with a resulting tax revenue of some $12,000.

Purpose of the incorporation proposal, according to a committee headed by Edmund LeCaptain and Robert Laird, was to maintain the status quo in the area primarily by providing a safeguard against annexation.

Committee members had contended that the village would not be an added financial burden to residents.

New Speed Limit Set On Seven Roads

It's taken a long time to comply with the 10-step program required by the state to establish speed zoning but the limit on seven main roads in the Rural-Urban area has now been lowered to 45 miles per hour.

The roads affected are: Norton-rd, from Luken-rd to Rt-665; Grove City-rd, from Hall-rd to Demorest; Clime-rd, from Demorest to Rt-62; Frank-rd, from Rt-62 to Brown-rd; Fisher-rd, from McKinley-av to Wilson-rd; Leap-rd, from Scioto-Darby-rd to Hilliard-Cemetery-rd and Hilliard-Cemetery-rd from Lemar to Leap-rd.

A spokesman at the Franklin County Engineer's Office said that a number of calls are received daily from people wanting to know what procedures must be taken to lower the 60 mile per hour limit which exists on all rural roads, unless they are otherwise marked.

He pointed out that rezoning a road is not just a matter of a request and posting a sign. Any speed zone must be made legal by the following procedures.

- If it is a township road, a resolution must be passed by the trustees. The resolution should not state a given MPH reduction.
- A speed zone study and radar speed check must be made.
- The completed forms must be sent to the County Commis-

HOSPITAL RESIDENT'S WISH COMES TRUE

ONE OF THE HAPPIEST persons at the dedication of a new shelter House at Columbus State Hospital Saturday was Walter Holden (center). Holden, a resident at the institution, who has helped every volunteer group with picnics for patients, first suggested the need for a shelter two years ago. His plea was finally answered by the Hilltop and West Franklin Kiwanis Clubs and union carpenters. Men from the organizations volunteered some 750 man hours of work to the project. Robert Greer, executive secretary, Columbus and Franklin County Council of AFL-CIO, positions a nameplate commending Holden, as Mayor Ralston Westlake (left) and Kiwanian Robert Cramer look on.

The campaign will begin in October and continue for several weeks. Called "Ohio's Future" series, it will be conducted through local discussion leaders who will meet informally with small groups.

Men and women from both rural and urban areas will take a look at Ohio's future in terms of agribusiness, changing farms, land and water resources and changing communities, Ganyard said.

Anyone interested may obtain information by writing to Agricultural Extension, 317 Old Post Office Building, Columbus 15, Ohio, or by calling CA. 1-6411, Ext. 464.

The center's supply of loaner hearing aids has dwindled up to the point where needs of all its clients can no longer be met.

The center is located at 209 S. High-st.

As Meinerney explained, the plans include the discussion of benefits for the dealers, including hospitalization employment services, and a credit bureau.

Incorporation weren't convinced.

Most felt that increased taxes and higher utility rates would follow close on the heels of incorporation.

Frequently mentioned by opponents of the village during the campaign was the necessity of maintaining some 14 miles of roads now cared for by the county. Estimated cost of maintenance was $1500 per mile per year.

Opponents had also claimed that the village would be at the mercy of the utility companies and the city of Columbus when it came time to negotiate contracts.

As a township, the area is now serviced under the county rate which is fixed by law.

The threat of annexation — a major argument for incorporation by the LeCaptain-Laird group — apparently played a secondary role in the balloting.

Suggest Four-Way Stops

Special concern for the safety of school children using Cable-av, was voiced by Sam Simon, Chicago school principal and several parents. They said the lack of sidewalks, crosswalks at Yale-av, and proper stop signs can lead to a real tragedy some day.

Discussions of where to place the signs failed to bring an agreement until Fred Van Order suggested four-way posting. Charles McNamarra described the success of this system in Marysville.

The remaining Traffic Committee public hearings are scheduled as follows: Avondale School, Oct. 4; Franklinton school, Oct. 11; Bellows school, Oct. 18; Sullivant school, Oct. 25. (Sessions from 8 to 10 p.m.)

Each group is being asked to give its opinion on proposals to set up one way-streets on the following: From Mound on the south to Broad on the north—Davis-northbound, Souder-southbound, Hartford-north, Martin-north, Hawkes-south, Avondale-north, Dakota-south, Cypress-north.

From Broad to Sullivant — Yale-north, West Park-south, Princeton-north, Demaree-south, Brehl-north.

Eibling Ideas For Schools In Keeping With The Times

Superintendent of Columbus Schools Harold H. Eibling has taken two courageous steps in recent weeks.

He has asked for more money to operate the schools, always dangerous when one wants to dig into the ever-shrinking pocketbook of the individual; and he is pushing a study to check into the feasibility of lengthening not only the school day, but also the school year.

The reason for more operating money, 7.4 mills to be exact, is obvious.

Like everything else, teacher salaries and maintenance costs have gone up. When the voter gets right down to it, the 7.4 figure can be misleading. The actual millage increase that Dr. Eibling is requesting is but 3.6 mills. The remainder has been in force and is but a renewal request.

What does the figure 3.6 mean in the terms of money? It means that Columbus schools are asking for but $3.60 out of every thousand dollars property evaluation. It is a poor person indeed who does not waste at least that much in incidental luxuries.

It may not be deductible, but it's too bad if people can't give any more without expecting something in return. But such a statement is not the case in this instance. Everybody in the long run benefits when children get the efficient education they deserve — and which is owed to them.

On the subject of longer school hours per day and longer school days per year, Dr. Eibling is snapping the chains that have bound education for years. Too much is going on in the world at the present time to be ignored. Too much has happened to be recorded in the annals of history since the last generation attended the classroom. There is a lot for the student to learn, and learn it he must.

The concept of a nine-months school year is at the best a conservative attitude; at the worst it borders on being old-fashioned.

The reason for attending schools but nine months in the first place was to the best interests of the farmer, at the time. Sons were needed to plant and harvest at the homestead. Daughters were needed to feed the working sons after their day in the field.

Time moves ever onward, and the rural appeal for a shorter school year is no longer a valid one. Urban areas spring up all over is what were once fields of corn and wheat. And with the urbanites come the children. And the children need schooling, more schooling than ever before.

Parents complain that the school is not teaching their children enough. Teachers complain that they are limited in time in order to teach as much as they would like to. Students deserve to be given the time to learn.

The longer school day, the longer school year are part of the answer to enlighten the forthcoming generations upon whom much will rest.

Dr. Eibling is to be congratulated for taking this courageous step to break with the status quo, which is usually even more dangerous than asking for money.

We hope his study proves fruitful enough to make the idea feasible.

Short Time, Big Job

Twenty-two days.

That's a long time to get a small job done, but it can be short time for human beings to accomplish any project of scope and significance.

Yet Franklin Countians have just 22 days — Oct. 2 to Oct. 24 — to meet a goal that is of great human significance to every citizen of the county.

The goal? It is $5,701,000 to be reached in the county's 1961 United Appeal Campaign.

The goal was set by a committee of citizen-givers, so it is realistic and actually on the conservative side. It includes $240,000 in "new money" needed because of our population explosion, yet it is still $400,000 shy of meeting justified needs of the 65 social agencies that operate with shares of the United Appeal fund. The United Appeal Screening Committee, that committee of citizen-givers, says that the goal is the very least that must be raised to prevent crippling cutbacks in human services.

So the 22 days of campaigning to raise the $5,701,000 is not only a big job, it is a vital job — one that needs the sincere and prayerful attention of every campaign worker and every contributor.

Citizens of this area have a well-established reputation for civic consciousness, for their generosity, and for compassion for the needs of their fellow men. Here again in the 1961 United Appeal Campaign is an opportunity to maintain and bolster that reputation through generous contributions and hard work from individuals, business, and campaign workers.

Twenty-two days is a short time for a big job, but dedicated participation by everyone will make the job seem small.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

These flocks of circling, swooping chimney swifts that are in the air these days are about ready to leave for South America. The way bird students learned where these little insect-eaters spend the winter is one of the more fascinating stories found in bird books.

Prior to 1946 there were several theories advanced about the birds annual disappearance. Primitive people thought that swifts plunged into the Gulf of Mexico and buried themselves in mud, and then emerged the following spring. Some thought they hibernated in hollow logs, caves and the like.

Most of the people who worry about such things guessed they migrated to Central or South America. But where? Not one band had ever been returned from a swift's leg.

Destination Discovered

Finally the mystery was solved. In May, of 1944, word came from the American Embassy in Lima, Peru, that 13 bands had been "secured from some swallows killed by Indians" living on the Peruvian-Colombian border. A priest had noted the tiny bands in a necklace worn by an Indian and had traded for them. They were taken from chimney swifts and most of the bands had been placed on the birds in Tennessee from 1938 to 1940.

It is a common mistake to call swifts by a variety of names, and swallows is perhaps used most. It is not a swallow at all, but is kin to the hummingbirds.

"Swifts occasionally make nuisances of themselves through their habit of using chimneys as nesting sites," writes Alexander Sprunt, Jr., of the National Audubon Society. "Not only from their comings and goings in the flues and producing noises like muted thunder, but also by reason of the fact that heavy rains sometimes loosen the nests from the bricks and down it comes, with eggs or young, into fireplaces below. The resulting soot, birds and debris have caused many a housewife an evil hour."

By placing screen wire over your chimney before the birds arrive in the spring will solve this problem, if swifts have a particular liking to your chimney. Usually, the swifts nest in colonies in large chimneys, such as those on schools, churches and factories.

Much of the information that is known about birds has been collected by amateur birders—people who study and watch birds as a hobby. This is the case in solving the chimney swift mystery. Bird banders had rigged devices to catch the swifts as they emerged from tall chimneys, and banded them by the thousands.

It is interesting to ponder the chances for the project to fail. First, of the countless numbers of swifts only a minute percentage of them wore bands on their tiny legs. These were subjected to the natural dangers of continental flights, and certainly many of them were lost. Then, in the upper Amazon Basin, Indians must have killed many thousands of them to find a few with bands. These must have puzzled primitive minds, and one individual was curious enough about them to save them. Finally, an alert priest saw them on a necklace.

Ever wonder why people band birds in their backyards? They have joined an exciting world-wide search for knowledge. And if you don't band birds, you can watch the graceful swifts wheeling in the sky and wish them well on a journey that will take them soon to the vast forests along the Amazon.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Use Homegrown Produce While It Lasts

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

This Week Look For:

Fruits — Apples, pears, grapes, peaches.

Changes in fresh produce come fast at this season. But unless a heavy frost changes the picture suddenly, you'll find many Ohio vegetables and fruits to fill your market basket this week.

Sweet corn and tomatoes are coming from Northern Ohio and from local gardens. Their quality is variable, but good of both can be found by careful shopping. Green and red peppers, red beets, green and wax beans, squash of all varieties, and green onions are other homegrown vegetables to include in this week's eating.

Cooler weather has improved the quality of leafy greens such as escarole, endive and spinach. You'll be smart to use these often in salads until better head lettuce comes again. Supplies of brussels sprouts, broccoli, cauliflower and sweet potatoes are increasing fast.

At fruit counters you'll find apples stacked high with more varieties offered — McIntosh, Cortland, Grimes Golden, Jonathan and Red Delicious are all here. Cooler weather is putting the color in Ohio apples. However, careful selection is suggested for some of the apples available are still immature.

Colorful Concord grapes are available now and many more will be coming soon, for the Ohio grape crop promises to be a big one this year. Grape juice is also available. Grape harvest in the Columbus area started last week.

Peaches are still good and prices reasonable. Most of them are now Elbertas and Late Shippers Reds. Enjoy fresh peaches in all the ways you like them for the season winds up soon.

Late cantaloupe from Northern Ohio and Michigan have been the tastiest of the season and they'll be coming until frost unless heavy rains cut them short. Bartlett pears and prune plums are reasonable and so good for snacks and lunch boxes.

Ham Moisture

The U.S. Department of Agriculture proposes to reinstate the standards for federally-inspected hams that were in effect prior to Dec. 3, 1960. This would mean that there can be no added moisture in excess of uncured weight in smoked pork products that are marketed as hams under federal inspection.

Many consumers have objected to added moisture. Statements supporting or opposing the latest change can be filed with the Director, Meat Inspection Division, A.R.S., U.S.D.A. during the next couple of weeks.

Officials Rebuke Quotes About Whitehall

To The Editor:

It is not the intention of any official of Whitehall to become involved in the proposed incorporation of Westview Heights, pro or con. It is none of our business.

However, it is our business when someone makes untrue and unflattering remarks about our city. When Joseph Baljak and George Torbica holds our city up to ridicule in some political issue that arose clear across the county from Whitehall, we believe the remarks affect our reputation and the value of our homes and property.

This is a city with an overall value in excess of $9 million dollars. We have a population of more than 22,000 people. We have one of the finest police departments, fire departments, emergency squads and school systems in the state. We have many churches covering all phases of religions. We have more than 5,000 homes ranging in value from moderate prices up to $150,000. We have 55 miles of streets lighted by street lights including 12 miles of new concrete streets. Our population has grown from 4,950 in 1948 to 22,000-today, showing that many people liked the advantages our city could offer them.

We have one of the first and largest shopping centers in the world. We have commercial and industrial enterprises providing jobs for 5,000 people.

We cannot understand why non-residents are critical of Whitehall when our people are so proud of their community.

Perhaps they did not intend to injure our reputation by their remarks and perhaps they are not acquainted with our city.

Therefore we cordially invite them to spend the day with us including lunch at one of our finest restaurants. (Date and place follow —Ed.)

Teenage Babysitter Speaks

Dear Sir:

Being a teenage babysitter I would like to take exception to the opening paragraph in the article on "sitters' cooperative" in the Sept. 12-14 edition of the Hartley Newspapers.

If these so called loving parents leave their "little darlings" with sitters they feel are incompetent, then just how competent are those parents?

If they feel they are paying such high prices for a babysitter, at 50 cents an hour, what do they consider a fair price to put on their children's head?

After all what results can they expect out of any babysitter when some of the situations she meets would take a child psychologist to cope with?

So as a last word in our own defense we babysitters are capable, competent, and reasonable.

Thank You
Gail Groves

Take all the people in greater Metropolitan Columbus, add in the crowd at five Ohio State Stadium sellouts, put them all in one cemetery and it would still take the population of Dayton and Toledo tossed in to represent all the people who have been killed in traffic accidents since 1900."

One and three-tenths million is the total. Experts estimate the two-million mark should be surpassed in the next two decades.

Kerske

And they'll probably be right. Technological activity and legislative inactivity are making it easier and easier for the motorist to kill himself.

Take technology. Four years ago the automobile manufacturers started offering a product which, in most cases, could exceed twice the legal speed limit.

For the last two years the emphasis was off speed and horsepower. But this year, all three of the major Detroit companies will offer models with 400 horsepower power plants.

To enable the driver to use this power and assure he can still escape the hand of the law — although not necessarily that of the mortician — one manufacturer of electronics equipment has started marketing a radar detecting device.

Keep an eye in the rear view mirror and an ear open for the alert from the radar detector and you can streak to a do-it-yourself sonic boom undetected.

But—you may not be undetected. A dozen state highway patrolmen and city police could be watching. But legislators, fearful of making "unpopular" laws, keep law enforcement shackled.

The courts must comply and did recently in a northern Ohio community. A State Highway patrolman observed a speeding car pass where double yellow lines forbid it, but still the case was dismissed because the patrol car was "unmarked."

A plainsclothes policeman riding a tricycle could arrest a man who fired a gun into a crowd. The odds on committing murder are no smaller when a driver aims a two-ton projectile around a curve on the wrong side of the road. Still he could not be prosecuted.

Some states are beginning to awaken to the farce of this gaping chasam in traffic enforcement. Pennsylvania, for instance, no longer requires any special marking on police cars.

It might seem sneaky that the red and white hardtop behind you suddenly pulls alongside and the driver with the checkered sport shirt has a badge pinned on the pocket.

But then, did you ever observe the complexion of the traffic when a marked police car is mingled with a string of cars? If people would drive as if a police car were following, we might never reach the two-million fatality mark.

There are obviously not enough police to assign one to each motorist. But there wouldn't have to be if they could drive the same kind of car as your neighbor. You could never afford to take the car behind you for granted.

But too few states are following the precedent set by Pennsylvania This, in turn, means too many potential prospects are free to make the morbid census prediction come true.

Cowboy Power-Packed Offense Storms Franklin Heights, 32-6

By Glenn Rohrer and Melvin Heaver

West High opened up early with a fast-moving, powerful offense Friday night at Magly Field and easily rolled over visiting Franklin Heights, 32-6.

The game was another in an old rivalry between the two schools.

West first marched 55-yards in seven plays with Jerry Clayter going over right tackle from the 5-yard line. Rich Neely added the points after touchdown.

A football rarity began the second half. The Falcon's Robin Pendleton attempted an onside kick. As Pendleton's kick went only to the West 47 where it reversed its direction and bounded back to the Falcon's 37—3-yards back of where Pendleton kicked it. After some deliberation the officials ruled that it was West's ball on the 37.

On the first play from scrimmage Franklin Heights was called off-side thus the Cowboys gained the ball deeper in Falcon territory without running a play.

With Jerry Claytor recovering a fumble on the Franklin Heights 12-yard line, the Bronc Busters again took only two plays to score. Lew. Coles crashed off right tackle from the two for his first tally of the 1961 campaign.

Late in the fourth quarter, Lew Coles added his second TD of the evening on a 2-yard plunge over tackle. Jerry Ball added the Cowboys fourth straight conversion of the evening.

The Falcons only score came on a partially deflected pass from George Roberts which ended up in the arms of Willie Kleby.

The Cowboys were much improved on defense this week. Coach Fekete feels this is due in part to several personnel changes and game experience gained in earlier games.

Sparkling the defensive team's effort were: Art Clemmer, Bill Gray, Ken Bowman, Bob Dent and Dwight Newman. Jerry Claytor also proved to be Jerry-on-the-spot recovering three Falcon fumbles.

The Cowboys gained 300-yards and 15 first downs, as opposed to Franklin Heights 130-yards and seven first downs.

The Cowboy backs Rich Neely, Jerry Claytor, Jerry Ball and Lew Coles carried a total of 45 times. Neely carrying 16 times, averaged 7.8 yards per carry, Claytor, carrying 14 times, averaged 5.2-yards per carry. Ball averaged 6.1-yards for ten carries. Coles carried the mail five times for a 3.6 average and was the games top scorer with 12 points.

Next week, the Cowboys travel to Linden to battle the Panthers, last years City League Co-Champs.

Westgate Hawks 'Sweat' 40-8 Win From Gahanna

In 90 plus temperature, the Westgate Hawks inaugurated their 1961 season with a 40-8 victory over the Gahanna Rockets at Magly Field Sunday.

The longest scoring jaunt was turned in by Ray Glascor who rambled 35-yards late in the fourth quarter for the final score. The large crowd saw tiny (4-feet, 9-inch and 70-pound) Mark Carney skirt his own right end and go 15-yards for a TD.

The Hawks take a rugged Beatty Lions team next Sunday at Magly Field with game time set for 2 p.m. There is no admission charge for these games.

RAMS-LIONS

The Lions threatened late in the second quarter on a 40-yard pass play. The Rams defense stiffened and held inside the Rams 10-yard line.

The second half started quickly with a 35-yard off-tackle smash by Dick Skinner and Wayne Redman sneaked the last few yards for a touchdown.

The exchange of punts later set up a pass from Tom Baughman to Darnell Thomas for a 68-yard scoring play. The Rams final touchdown came on a series of smash and sweeps with Dick Skinner carrying the last 20-yards.

CARRIERS 'ROOT REDS (ALMOST) HOME'

THE FACT THAT the Cincinnati Reds lost the game with San Francisco last Sunday didn't bother these fellows at all. They're all Hartley Newspapers carrier boys who were treated to the baseball trip—32 of them, and one girl. They're all standing and waving and the Reds must've tried to wave back since they dropped their game, 12-5.

A Sports . .

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Thanks Ann: You Made Our Trip To Cincy Very Nice

Twelve-year-old Ann Gill is an eighth grader at Barrett Junior High School and ordinarily wouldn't be the subject of a sports column. But, she's somebody special.

Ann, who lives at 1794 S. 20th-st, Apt. A, is one of the few girl carriers of Hartley Newspapers. She was the only one who sold enough subscriptions to attend the Hartley-sponsored baseball trip to Cincinnati, Sunday.

She was smiling. She was surrounded by 32 boys.

Annie, who usually refers to boys as "freaks" didn't let the fact that she was outnumbered bother her.

"I just ignore the boys," she said. The boys couldn't ignore her.

She was the only girl carrier on the Lake Shore bus when it pulled out of the Great Western Shopping Center Sunday at 9 a.m.

Chivalry Is Not Dead . . .

The boys immediately sensed that it wasn't a stag party. They were all between the ages of 12-13 and, of course, were a bit shy.

Ann sat by herself. At first, the fellows just chatted and got acquainted with each other. At times they'd look at Ann and smile.

The young lady had a large sack beside her. "I was told to bring some food," she smiles, "so I did." The sack was filled with about a dozen sandwiches. She also brought two large sacks of potato chips. "I know how hungry boys get," she said.

A lunch was furnished by Hartley Newspapers on the way down, but the boys made good use of the sandwiches on the way home.

And, there must be some truth to the statement that the way to a boys' heart is through his stomach.

Sleepy? She Sure Was . . .

Ann had announced on the way down to see the Reds that she had only had three hours sleep Saturday night.

"I baby sat until three in the morning," she said, "and I got up at 6:30 to play football."

The fellows aboard were concerned about her lack of sleep. They hushed each other and one boy gave Ann his jacket to use as a pillow.

Ann wasn't going to sleep, however.

"If the boys can stay up, so can I," she said. And, she proved it.

On the trip home, most of the boy carriers had fallen asleep. Ann just chatted. She talked about school, her brothers, food, clothes and sports.

And, when the conversation came to discussing the game, Ann sounded a wee bit like Mel Allen. She argued and discussed plays and the boys usually backed down. She even knew batting averages.

'Best We've Got'—Schluep

Hartley Circulation Manager Jack Schluep, who accompanied the 33 carriers on the trip, had nothing but praise for Ann.

"I usually call her 'Andy'," Schluep said. "And, she's as good as any boy carrier on the list."

Ann delivers the South Side Leader. According to Schluep, the Gill family has carried Leaders ever since the Hartley firm began publishing it.

The lass has been carrying it for three years. She has 43 customers now but, at one time, carried three routes with a total of 185 customers."

"We can always count on her," Schluep stated. "And, we've never had any complaints."

The baseball trip is over for Ann, but her friends at Barrett tell me that she has talked of little else the past week.

And, if science teacher John Bruis happens to read this, please excuse Ann from her report that was due last Monday. The bus got in late thanks to a big fourth inning by San Francisco.

Central Shows Class Against Troy On Friday

By DAVID EVANS and BILL PARKER

Central, who was reguarded as a "green" team in a pre-season rating, showed some real class against opposing Troy Friday and topped them, 22-14.

The breaks came early for the Pirates when they recovered a Trojan fumble early in the first quarter. Seconds later, Central scored on quarterback Don Poling's 16-yard run.

In the second quarter, Troy took to the air and marched 75 yards with Ross Scarff plunging the final yard for the equalizar. Troy's extra point miss tied the contest momentarily.

Central rebounded late in the second quarter when George Brodnax executed a 44-yard run and then scampered 13-yards for the game-clinching touchdown. Co-Captain Oscar Toland scored the extra points on a pass from Poling.

The third quarter was fairly quiet, ending with Central threatening. Coach Howe's boys featured mainly a Wing straight "T" keeping to the ground most of the time.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Central ended its threat when Poling again found his target and hit George Gilchrist with a 12-yard pass for the Pirates final touchdown. Stan Horner took a pass from Poling for the extra points.

Passing hurt Central in the final quarter as Troy moved the ball down the field.

During the last minutes of the game, Central used the draw play with backfield men Roger Jewell and Paul Fraiser bringing the ball to the Trojan 4-yard line. But, the Pirates were moved back by a penalty and then lost the ball on a fumble.

Do It Yourself Shoe Fit

Have you noticed how many cripple-yourself shoe stores have started up in the last year or so? Places where the shoes are all out on racks where you help yourself, take the shoes to a check-out counter and pay for them. I'm waiting for a do-it-yourself eye-glass store. It wouldn't be too much worse than getting shoes that way. Usually the shoes sold in such stores are cheap shoes; you get what you pay for. The sad part is that so many children's feet are abused by this self-fitting system. During the formative years when children are growing rapidly, their feet need good shoes fitted by someone who knows more than you do about their requirements. Better look for a shoe store that offers super-service, not self-service.

Public Invited To View Film, Hear Mrs. Conway At Hilltop Church

A filmed panel meeting, "Meeting Youth," will be shown at Hilltop Church of God Thursday, Sept. 27, after the 7:30 p.m. evening service.

A filmed panel discussion with teenagers from different parts of the country is moderated by Mrs. Geraldine Conway, who is speaking at Hilltop Church each night this week through Thursday.

In 1959 she was speaker for the annual conference of Methodist Churches in India, and was a delegate to the World Congress for Christian Youth in India.

She spoke at the international Christian Leadership Conference in Washington D.C., in 1961.

The film, "Meeting Youth," has been viewed by TV networks with the possibility of using it as a series. It has also been viewed by the FBI, United States Information Agency and the Senate Sub-Committee for Juvenile Delinquency.

Camp Fire Girls Seek Adult Help

Hundreds of girls are waiting to join the Camp Fire Girls but can't because of the lack of adult leaders.

The Camp Fire Girls are the oldest educational-recreational program of this kind in the country. They are presently conducting a campaign to secure adult leaders.

The Blue Bird program, second through fourth grade, is centered on the Blue Bird motto: to have fun; to learn to make beautiful things; to remember to finish what I begin; to want to keep my temper most of the time; to go to interesting places; to know about trees and flowers and birds; to make friends.

The Camp Fire program, for girls in fifth through eighth grades includes seven fields of interest: home craft, outdoors, creative arts, science, business, sports and games, and citizenship. The Camp Fire law is: workship God, seek beauty, give service; pursue knowledge, be trustworthy, hold on to health; glorify work, be happy.

Adult leaders must be 18 years of age or older. Previous training or experience helps but is not required. Basic requirements are a real interest in working with girls and willingness to give some of your time. A basic training course is offered to all volunteers early in November. Baby sitting for pre-school children is available at training classes and transportation can be arranged.

For information contact Camp Fire Girls Inc., 718 S. High-st, Columbus 6, or call Mrs. Donald Kloss, BE. 5-1015, or Mrs. Nathaniel Agnew, BE. 5-4161.

Goodwill's Goodwill Returned Hundredfold

"Not what can this person do for us, but what can we do for this person?" is the question in mind when a handicapped person is employed at Goodwill Industries.

In the case of Gladys Lane, 12 Wisconsin-av, however, Goodwill has also fared quite well in the bargain. She is manager of the Hilltop store at 2783 W. Broad, which will have an estimated income of $100,000 this year, leading the organization's six retail stores in Central Ohio.

When a new store was planned for the west side in 1954, Miss Lane, employed since 1943, asked to be store manager. She said, "I know many people on the West Side. I think I can build up a good business." Her belief was justified and it soon became necessary to move to a larger building.

In spite of a disablement cause by polio as a child, Miss Lane demonstrates her philosophy that a busy person does not have time to worry. She teaches a Sunday School class at the Avondale EUB Church, and is treasurer of both the church and Sunday School. She is a member of the church trustees and the Hilltop Business Association. She was selected by fellow workers as "Goodwill Worker of the Year" for 1960.

Miss Lane's hobbies include antiques, which the Hilltop store features, and fishing.

In Goodwill Industries' continuous self-help program in Columbus since 1939, hundreds of handicapped persons have received training and employment. But Gladys Lane holds a unique position in earning dollars to turn back into the ongoing purposes of this United Appeal agency.

Visit to Goodwill stores are welcomed. To tour the workshop at 1331 Edgehill-rd, call 294-5181.

West High Graduate Earns National Academic Honors

A 1961 June graduate of West High School was among the 35 high school students awarded highest honors across the nation in the advanced placement test offered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J.

Judith Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wright, 449 Hilltonia-av, has been awarded five credits toward her bachelor degree by Ohio State University.

She received a five rating. The mean rating on the three-hour examination was 3.3 for the nation's 253 candidates.

This was the first time the advanced placement test has been offered at West High School in any subject area, according to Mrs. Frances Evans, Latin teacher. By taking this test last March, Miss Wright was allowed to receive college credit while still in high school.

Miss Wright's examination was in Latin literature. She had been tutored during the senior year by Mrs. Evans during and after school.

After the test had been examined by a college board in New Jersey, the ratings were sent to OSU for study by a board of classical language professors. In turn, they recommended admission to OSU and the five hours credit.

Among the four West 1961 graduates who had 4.0 ratings in the senior class, Miss Wright was the winner of the Ohio Junior Classical League's $500 scholarship last year, a $300 scholarship from OSU, a $50 scholarship from West High School's Latin Club, and two gold medals from the Nationwide Latin Examine.

She also was awarded the PTA scholarship, but had to return it since she already had accepted the OSU scholarship.

Report Expected On Complaint At State School

At the request of Gov. DiSalle, Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction officials this week were expected to report on a Painesville father's complaint about conditions at Columbus State School.

Walter Gachuck withdrew his eight-year-old son from the institution two months ago, and reported that the boy had gotten inadequate care. He said sanitation conditions in a large room in Doren Hall were "unbelievable."

Dr. Robert Haines, department director, said hospital records gave no indication that the boy had been harmed, except through falls he had had. Dr. Haines has asked for more background information from Dr. Roger Gove, the school superintendent.

A message of public interest from your Hilltop Kiwanis Club

Dear Neighbor:

What does Sunday mean to you? Do you want to be pressured to "buy now" on Sunday as though this were just another day. Do you want to have to open your business on Sunday — to go to your job—just to stand still in a crazy, competitive race.

In considering this question objectively, your Hilltop Kiwanis Club thinks that Sunday should remain as it traditionally has been, a day to attend the church of your choice, a day of rest, a day of recreation and relaxation with your family and friends — not one of increased commercialization.

We heartily endorse the work of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association in its endeavor to secure enforcement of Ohio Sunday closing law. We believe this objective may be obtained on a voluntary basis. We believe, however, that those who seek economic advantages by staying open on Sunday should not be encouraged. We trust the businessmen of our community will agree that it is better to refrain from non-essential selling on Sunday.

Yours for a better community,
Support of Church Committee

Many Tests Planned For School Kids

An estimated 1,760,000 individual standardized tests will be given to Ohio's elementary and high school pupils during the next eight months to help teachers aid students evaluate scholastic achievement, determine scholarship winners and college placement.

The testing boom, according to the State Department of Education officials, reflects not only a broader statewide effort at educational improvement but also the development of more nationally recognized tests and use of funds for testing programs.

Federal funds made available to schools for test work under the National Defense Education Act also are playing an important part. According to Dean Hummell, acting director of the Department's Division of Guidance and Testing, 182,000 NDEA-financed tests will be given to Ohio's secondardy school students this year as compared with 68,600 three years ago.

The main categories of standardized tests given in Ohio schools are Achievement, Ability, Aptitude, College entrance, Intelligence, Readiness and Scholarship.

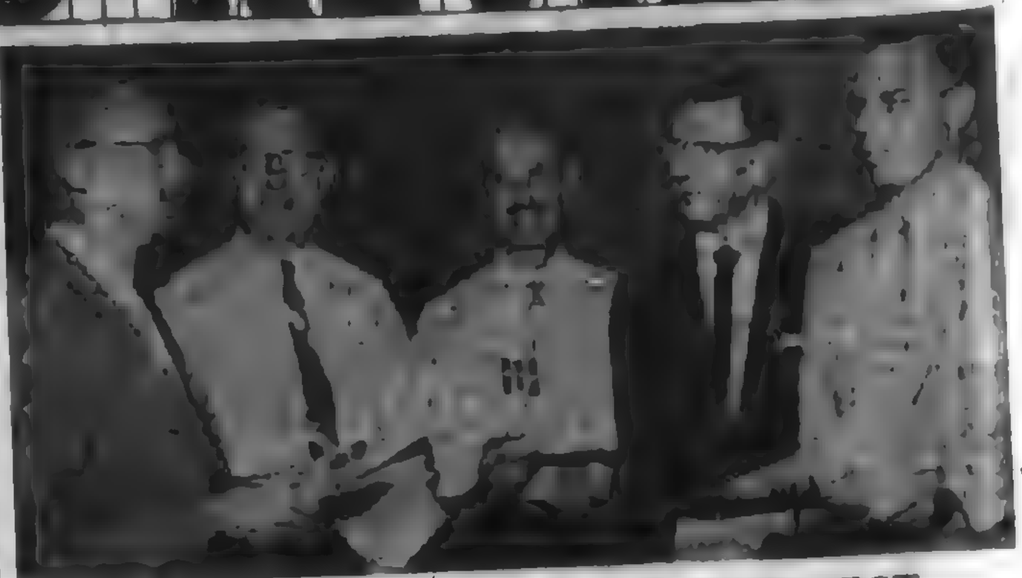
BUSINESS REVIEW

Law Affects Mortgages, Interest Rate

A new law has become effective providing for a continued supply of home mortgage funds and stabilize interest rates from going too high, according to Joseph E. Linville, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Savings and Loan League.



The new law was sponsored by the League to help broaden Ohio's present loan participation law. It also is designed to boost the volume of participating interests bought and sold in Ohio.

Under the new measure, state chartered savings and loans will be permitted to buy and sell up to 75 percent (now 50 percent) of a mortgage loan. This is in conformity with the federal law.

The present law provides that only savings and loans; banks; insurance companies and other supervised lenders may purchase mortgage loans. The new law, however, permits a savings and loan to sell an interest in a mortgage loan to any corporation; person; trust fund; pension fund, etc.

The new law provides that all sales of such participating interest must be on a "no recourse" basis so that the selling institution could not be piling up a contingent liability if some of the loans sold went into default.

Linville said that the new measure will boost the amount of participating interests bought and sold to more than $160,000,000 a year.

This elbow-room, plus the gently winding streets and real neighborly people have convinced the Pabsts that they couldn't have made a better choice than Lincoln Village South.

CITY-WIDE RALLY

Political Leaders In Stamp Fight

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Ohio political figures joined an effort against trading stamps by supporting the Greater Columbus Gasoline Dealers Monday night during a mass rally at Central High School.

The only real shift in the scene since the campaign began some six weeks ago was that other independent businessmen have shown interest in the campaign started by service station operators.

State Treasurer Joseph Ferguson led the discussion to nearly 250 independent businessmen and urged them to "get rid of the expensive burden."

Ferguson proposed that this could be done only if "everyone banded together for the cause."

The Monday meeting was another lap in the rolling snowball which should travel across the nation, if reports from other states hold true.

Ferguson reported that there are very few stamp givers in the western half of the nation. Idaho is the western most state to use stamps.

Wyoming, Kansas and Vermont have banned them — the only states in the nation to do this.

States seriously considering moves such as in Ohio include Nebraska, Oklahoma, Missouri, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Maine.

States operating with stamps without any restrictions — besides Idaho — are North and South Dakota, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kentucky, Michigan and Massachusetts.

Twenty-nine states have no stamps at all.

This is the national scene.

Locally, Dick Baldrige, dealer association president and Roger Graham, association executive director, cited some nation-wide examples of what they termed "stamp injustice."

Graham said that a Kentucky school got its bus with three million stamps and that a midwestern teacher gave good grades to pupils bringing her 50 stamps.

"It's an expensive collar around the neck of the independent businessman," Baldrige said. "It's a parasite of our American economy and a fraud."

Ex-Columbus Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner was also on hand and praised the Dealer Association members as "moral courage in action." Sensenbrenner is now a state highway official and (it is believed) aspires to run for mayor of Columbus again.

"Everyone in honest business — big and small — has its right to earn equitable profit," Sensenbrenner said. "If trading stamps are the tool of big business to eliminate small business, then they are morally wrong."

Columbus City Auditor candidate Patrick J. Feeney said, "It's just plain economics. Someone has to pay and, that someone is you — the public."

The dealers' association proposed Monday an 11-point benefit program to fill the void which they feel loss of stamps will create and keep the dealers closer together.

Such things as insurance plans, recreation and training facilities, legal counciling, credit service and benevolence funds are included.

Eleven representatives were present from the Southwestern Ohio Gasoline Dealers.

President C. S. Baker, of this group said, "The majority of dealers in and around the Dayton area would like to get rid of trading stamps. We're here tonight (Monday) to see just how we should go about doing it."

The anti-stamp men claim a similar drive in Cincinnati has nearly ended stamp-giving in that city. They also say that all Newark service station dealers are "clean."

Plans for further meetings in Columbus were not disclosed.

Another S&H Green Stamp Redemption Center will soon open at 2398 W. Broad-st, in the building formerly occupied by Big Bear and Hilltop Van and Storage.

With the opening set for around Nov. 1, workmen are now busy with interior work. The entrances will be recessed from the street, and the structure will have several big picture windows along the sidewalk. With some 9,000 square feet inside, the outside will be covered with a baked enamel material.

The building is owned by Schwartz Realty Co., 85 E. Gay-st, and the Ben Schaefer Building Company is doing the redecorating. The alteration will cost about $10,000.

City Rezones For Office Site

Approved by the planning commission, the area is for an office building at Wilson-rd and Alberta-st.

Ward Rally Set

Democrats of the Ninth and 10th Wards have scheduled a district candidates' rally at 8 p.m. tonight, Oct. 4, in the Gladden Community House auditorium.

Frank A. Schneider, Ninth Ward area committeeman, will call the meeting to order. Door prizes will be awarded, and refreshments served after the meeting.

Y's Men Open Drive For Membership

Ready to start their annual membership drive, Hilltop Y's Men hope to build up their ranks to 53 men this fall.

Groundwork for the drive will be laid at a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting Monday, Oct. 9 at Bery's Restaurant. Guest speaker will be John Kuhfel of the area "Y" office, whose topic will be "Y'sdom and Youth."

The organization is a service group devoted to fellowship and work with the youth of the Hilltop YMCA. Persons interested in joining the club may call Harold Buchanan, BR. 9-3448, membership chairman.

TRAFFIC TALKS CONTINUE TONIGHT

Yale, West Park Residents Protest Proposed One-Ways

People of the Avondale School area tonight (Wednesday) are expected to carry on the series of traffic studies being conducted by the West Side Neighborhood Council. Starting time is 8 p.m. at the school.

If it's like last week's session at Dana School, the one-way street proposal will get most attention. In addition, there probably will be discussion about excessive speeding in front of homes and a city traffic department suggestion to change traffic lights to help pedestrians at the Davis and Souder intersections of Broad-st.

Fred Staley, 263 Martin-av, will lead the discussion.

While most of the 22 persons at the Dana meeting favored one-ways, there were some objectors. "There is no logical reason for one-way traffic on West Park-av," declared Rev. L. L. Young. "If they want a petition to that effect, we will get it."

West Park residents also recently authored a petition rejecting Parks Director Ray Dietz's suggestion to develop the parkway island in front of their homes.

Also protesting one-ways were several Yale-av residents. They were backed, to an extent, by Emmett Seeley, hardware man at Yale and Broad who is also on the WSNC and city traffic committees. It was pointed out that Yale is the only through street from McKinley to Sullivant in the area. Seeley conceded, however, that it is difficult to meet and pass trucks on Yale when cars are parked on both sides. He added:

Kiwanis Auction Chairman

TOPE TOP MAN ON TOTEM POLE

By ZIP

That old cliche, "If you want the job well done, give it to a busy man," never had more meaning than in the naming of O. O. Tope to head up the Sixth Annual West Franklin Kiwanis Club Auction Sale.

He was even kept busy when photo at right was taken—busy trying to balance himself atop the figures—and more about that totem pole later.

Busy? Well, he's not supposed to be. "O. O.," as he is known by his many friends, retired from a highly responsible position with the U.S. Postal Department several years ago. But that retirement "serum" never quite "took."

Now, between helping to coordinate the culinary activities of Biddle's Drive-In (this takes between 40 and 50 hours a week), assisting his Kiwanis Club in scores of ways (another 10 to 20 hours a week) and maintaining the landscape surounding his home on Volney-av, he says he has managed to pick up an odd job here and there to keep his mind and body from becoming rusty.

The totem pole? It's the one that now stands in his back yard—"next to the gourd tree," he says. But he'll have to bargain with the Eskimos for another one after Saturday, Oct. 21, as that's the date of the auction.

At 7 p.m. that night at the Prairie Norton school hundreds of items will go under the auctioneer's hammer—radios, television sets, appliances, groceries, cider, pumpkins, tools, tires, anti-freeze, oil and yes—you must have guessed it—ONE TOTEM POLE! Such is the dedication to his new job as the auction's chairman!

Proceeds from the event will be used to help defray the expenses involved in carrying on charitable work in West Franklin County during 1962.

Forbid the thought, but if things at the auction don't go the way "O. O." hopes, he may have to get another job, as he's already been elected to the presidency of the West Franklin Club for 1962, and the need for money is urgent, he says.

"However," he mused, "there's still seven or eight hours left of my day, and I usually use them only for sleep."

Anyone having articles of merchandise—new or used—which they wish to donate for the auction may phone BR. 4-9393. "O. O." will see to it personally that it gets to the auctioneer—even if it costs him a little of his time.

Columbus Council of Churches Supports Sunday Closing Drive

Public support for the "Keep Sunday Sunday" campaign has grown with a resolution of approval passed by the Columbus Area Council of Churches.

The Council, whose 145 member churches have congregations totaling more than 100,000, took the action to join more than 100 other public and private organizations in the Columbus metropolitan area seeking enforcement of Ohio's Sunday Closing Law.

The law forbids conduct of unnecessary business, but exempts recreation, travel and activities involving public health and welfare.

Before the council action, a score of individual churches and societies representing 14 denominations and 16,358 members already had approved resolutions supporting the demand of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association for enforcement.

Other groups taking similar action included women's clubs, business associations, food, hardware and jewelry stores and appliance and automobile dealers.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club has supported the church committee by declaring:

"Those who seek economic advantages by staying open on Sunday should not be encouraged. We trust the businessmen of our community will agree that it is better to refrain from non-essential selling on Sunday."

Similarly, a Hilltop supermarket, George's Royal Blue, 3030 Sullivant-av, which had been open on Sundays, has announced:

"We have found that the majority of the Hilltop community is in favor of Sunday closing and agree that Sunday is a family day for church, rest and recreation. Therefore we have decided to close on Sunday."

One of Columbus' largest automobile dealers, with 120 employees, is among seven taking similar stands. Also endorsing the move is an automobile dealers' association of an adjoining county, with 10 members.

In addition to the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, two other large community associations, representing 70 businessmen and other community leaders of their areas, have passed resolutions.

W. Broad Has Buses— All Of 'Em In One Spot!

The bus barns on W. Broad-st are quiet this week except for an occasional word from one picket to another as they carry their placards.

"On Strike!" the signs read—and they hardly have to. More than 120,000 bus riders know it. For the first time in eight years the people of Columbus are experiencing an all-out transit strike.

While idle buses pack the garage fences between Starling and McDowell-sts, hundreds of extra autos are pressed into service in the streets. People in outlying areas quickly set up new car pools, or polished off their "thumbing technique."

Meanwhile, in a downtown hotel and City Hall, officials of the city, the Columbus Transit Company and the Transport Workers Union Local 208 work with federal mediators in hopes of restoring the service which was suspended at midnight Saturday.

Tuesday attempts at arbitration failed. Another meeting with federal mediators was set for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The union has asked for a pay boost of approximately 37 cents an hour. The CTC has offered a five cent increase this year, and an additional three cents next year. In addition, the union asks that the company assume complete costs of the hospital and welfare program, now shared equally by the two.

In one of its counter-proposals, the transit company wants to reserve the privilege of selecting drivers, regardless of their seniority, for special charter trips. The union has rejected this.

Mayor Westlake said Tuesday that a federal judge may be asked to appoint a neutral member to a proposed strike arbitration board.

SOMETHING NEW AT COLUMBUS STATE SCHOOL

A NEW REHABILITATION CENTER is rising in front of the antiquated Columbus State School on W. Broad-st. Sept. 15, 1962, will bring about the final phases of construction on the classroom-type facility. Built in three levels, it will house administrative offices and occupational classrooms on the upper floor, vocational-mechanical functions on the second floor, and a hydro-therapy department on the first. It will have a junior high-sized swimming pool and gym and provision for bowling. The brick building, faced with block limestone, will cost about $565,000, according to Donald Welsch, assistant state architect.

A full program of fall activities will be getting under way this week at the Hilltop YMCA. Program in all schools have already started while the activities in the "Y" are beginning to share the spotlight.

Gra-Y Clubs are now meeting on a regular basis. The schedule for this year is Binns and Lindbergh on Monday; Highland, Westgate and North Franklin on Tuesday; West Broad and John Burroughs on Wednesday; Prairie Lincoln, Eakin and Georgian Heights on Thursday; West Mound and Valleyview on Friday. This program is open to all boys in grades 4-6. Anyone having any questions about Gra-Y activities should call the Hilltop "Y."

Regular Junior Hi-Y activities at Hilltonia, Westmoor and West will get underway this week. Tentative plans call for all clubs to meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. One meeting each month will be set aside for a meeting of all clubs for a special program.

West Senior Hi-Y held its first meeting last week with a good turnout on hand. The next regular meeting will be announced in the school and all interested members are urged to be on hand.

Saturday morning will mark the first All-Day-at-the-"Y" program for the current school year. Youth members of the "Y" are welcome to attend this outstanding activity. The program begins at 9:30 a.m. and lasts until 2:30 p.m. A typical program includes crafts, games, lunch and a feature length movie. Boys and girls planning on attending should bring their lunch, a quarter to cover the cost of the movie and liquid refreshment for lunch. Those desiring to make a craft should bring a quarter to help cover this expense.

Indian Guides interested in participating in this year's Dance Team are urged to attend the first practice session on Oct. 14 at 9 a.m. Several performances have already been scheduled for this group.

The Youth Center at the "Y" is open each day from 3:15 to 5 p.m. for boys and girls of grade school age. Craft sessions for boys will be held Tuesday afternoons with the girls' class scheduled for Thursday. The Youth Center is also open Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. for junior and senior high students.

Junior High dances have also started with good response. The next dance will be held on Oct. 13 from 7:30 to 10:30. In order to attend all youth must be members of either the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA. A fee of 25 cents will be charged to YMCA members and 50 cents to YWCA members.

After this Saturday a regular schedule of feature length movies will be held at the "Y." All "Y" members are invited to attend these weekly showings free of charge. These movies start at 9:30 a.m. and run until noon.

Do-It-Yourself Salvage Operation Tackled By Man

Surest way to get rid of an eyesore is to buy it and tear it down yourself, Harold Stevens of 3360 Eakin-rd has found.

About four years ago, Stevens first complained to county authorities about the useless, ramshackle old school in the Burnside Addition (near Demorest-rd and Sullivant-av) which adjoins his property.

Stevens learned that one man bid $350 on the old school and had not picked up his option. About the same time, Mennonites from Plain City wanted to buy the land and building from the county but were refused the land.

Finally Stevens, a psychiatric aide supervisor at the State Hospital, offered $50 to have the privilege of tearing the building down for salvage. The county took him up on it, and now Stevens has his Saturday work cut out for him.

Traffic—

ed that many people think that one-ways are needed most east of Glenwood-av.

More Suggestions Made

Other recommendations from the Sept. 27 meeting were as follows:

1. Retain the traffic light at Yale and Broad and add a coordinated light at Glenwood and Broad.

2. Convert Town-st from the river west to Glenwood-av to one-way, running west. Convert Rich-st in the same vicinity to one-way east.

3. After considerable discussion, suggested that 30-second arrows be installed on Broad-st to permit left-hand turns at various intersections. The committee proposed enactment of no left-hand turns off Broad-st during the hours of 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. weekdays. The point was made that non-residents will cause considerable side-street congestion (making right-hand turns) if the "no-left" rule goes into effect.

4. Requested that Union, Walsh, and Thomas be converted to one-way from Central to Yale.

5. Both four-way and two-way stop signs requested on State and Rich-sts from Central to Yale.

6. Installation of speed law signs on residential streets.

7. Straightening and widening of Central-av at Mound.

8. Give attention to underpass flooding on Central-av north of Mound.

9. Discourage or prohibit truck traffic on north-south residential streets.

The Dana meeting was conducted by Bob McGuire, assisted by Al Wilder of Gladden Community House. Future meetings will be as follows: Oct. 11 — Franklinton School; Ralph Oberleitner, leader. Oct. 18 — Bellows School; Don McCann. Oct. 25 — Sullivant School; Mrs. Ruth Burke.

State School Complaint Is Reviewed

State Department of Mental Health and Hygiene officials believe that a Painesville father's report on "unbelievable conditions" at the Columbus State School are "exaggerated and distorted."

They told Governor DiSalle this in a letter several days ago, after the governor received a complaint from Walter Gachuck. Gachuck said he paid a surprise visit to the institution July 27. He said he found his seven-year-old son in a filthy hall, suffering from malnutrition and carrying signs of mistreatment.

Dr. Roger Gove, superintendent, said the father made no mention of these to attendents when he withdrew the child and issued no complaints until several weeks later. He added that conditions in Doren Hall often become untidy soon after children return from the playground. Some of them are not toilet trained, he said.

The wise man plans for the future. Practically nothing can be done with the frightful mess the present is in.

FALL CAMPOREE SLATED

The Southwest District of the Central Ohio Council will hold its annual Fall Camporee at Scioto Trails State Park, Oct. 20, 21, and 22, South of Chillicothe, on State Route 23.

Registration and check-in will be held from 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 20. No advance registration is necessary for the Scout units.

The activities schedule sets time individual troop advancement when Scouts may work on the various ranks and badges. The main activity of the camporee is called a Trail to Adventure.

The Trail to Adventure will take ten hours to complete. While on a hike, scouts will encounter various problems with which they should be prepared to cope. They will be judged on their efforts. Problems will include such things as purifying water, first aid, tracking, measuring and other trials in scoutcraft.

At 7:30 Saturday night, there will be a campfire program. Parents are invited and urged to attend.

Awards to be Given

Troop ribbon awards will be of the chevron type and presented on the basis of the degree of Scout spirit, Scout participation, inspection and the condition of campsite equipment.

The King Pin Award will be awarded to the patrol with the highest number of points accumulated during the camporee.

Camporee patches will be given at the closing ceremony to those attending the campout.

Religious services will be held Sunday morning.

To Visit Campsite

Boy Scout leaders of the Southwest District will tour Greenhills campsite Sunday, Oct 8. Leaders are invited to bring their families, and picnic baskets for the evening meal.

Troop 33 Busy This Fall

Troop 33, Westgate Methodist Church, has the opportunity to usher at the Ohio State University football games this fall. Troops from all over Central Ohio are represented in this way at the games. The troop also recently ushered at the motorcycle races at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

On Oct. 21 and 22 the scouts will go on a campout for patrol competition. One patrol will compete against another in such things as cooking, camping, night hiking and other fundamentals of scouting.

Tuesday, Oct. 24, Troop 33 will hold a Court of Honor in the Fellowship Hall of Westgate Methodist Church. This should prove to be a big event, to which scout families and friends are invited.

Amended Election Law To Affect Canddates

New "ground rules" relative to the Nov. 7 general election are being emphasized by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown in drawing the attention of municipal, township and boards of education candidates to the provisions of Amended Senate Bill No. 62.

While the measure does not become effective until Oct. 16, the new provisions will have full effect upon the coming November election, Brown said.

Under the new law no person shall write, print, post or distribute,

Or cause to be written, printed, posted or distributed,

A notice, placard, dodger, advertisement, sample ballot, or any other form of publication

To promote or defeat a candidate or issue, unless the statement contains the name and residence address of the Chairman or Secretary of the organization issuing, or the person who issues, makes or is responsible for such issuance.

Other changes are:

- A candidate is not required to place his address on his own literature.
- No person, firm or corporation shall knowingly produce such literature or any other form of publication in violation of the section.
- The residence requirement is also extended as a part of the identification of political communications on radio and TV.
- The word "fictitious" has been added to the law against the use of false or fraudulent names in making or issuing political publications or communications.

Brown points out that the penalty has been increased to a fine of not less than $300 or more than $2,000, instead of the former penalty of $100-$1,000.

A number of other new laws either have or are now becoming effective, all in time to apply to the Nov. 7 balloting, Secretary of State Brown said.

Effective Oct. 13, a new Ohio law will permit spouses of members of the armed forces who are outside the continental United States for the purpose of being with or near their husband or wife, to vote an Armed Service Absent Voter's Ballot.

Other changes:

- A uniform deadline for filing expense accounts by both candidates and committees is effected by permitting committees to file on the 45th day after an election instead of the 30th.
- Ohio law, relative to the prohibition against again becoming a candidate for five years for failure to file a statement of receipts and expenditures, is brought up-to-date by establishing a seven-year penalty in cases where the candidacy was for a six-year term of office.
- Money is saved by permitting Boards of Elections to assign electors to an adjoining precinct in another county, when only a part of the electors is eligible to vote at a special election on a bond issue.

There are some 70 changes embodied in the 26 measures enacted by the 104th General Assembly.

Film Censorship Bill Goes Down Drain

By John Poppelmeyer

Prohibition, the modernized version, has taken a rap in its first knock on Columbus doors.

At precisely 5:38 p.m. City Hall time Monday evening, Councilwoman Golda May Edmonston called for the movie censorship law to be taken off the table, where it had been reposing for two weeks. Less than one half hour later, in the words of Council President William Hicks, it had been "lost."

The decision was not made along party lines. Two Democrats and one Republican voted against the measure; two Republicans and one Democrat voted for it; one Democrat, William Hoermle, abstained.

During the tabling interim, admendments had been added. One, suggested by Robert Van Heyde, dealt with the inclusion of advertising. The other advocated letting each provision of the ordinance stand on its own merits in the event of a legal challenge.

Hoermle based his abstaining vote on the consideration that the "law may not be workable."

"What about the outlying areas?" he challenged. "This law would be like bringing prohibition back to Columbus. He said he would be for censorship on a state-wide basis, but added, "since the state has made no provision for showing films, it could cost us from $200,000 to $300,000 to view films plus a lot of court cases to settle."

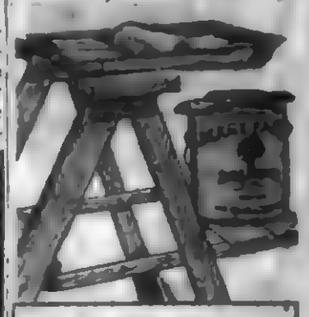
Mrs. Edmonston took exception to Hoermle's statement. Said she: "If the state would have passed one, we would have supported it. But there was a lot of money back to keep it from getting out of the assembly. And," she added, "maybe we could go outside of Columbus."

"It wouldn't be too expensive," the originator of the bill proclaimed. But under questioning of Robert Smith, she admitted she did not know how much it would cost to provide space to view the films.

Smith also disagreed with about his prohibition phrasing. "The reverse would be true. It can be done on a local basis. We have to start someplace. Nobody has a right to profit from obscenity. Courts have never held that it could not be administered on a local basis. They have ruled mainly on the question of bad taste, obscenity and the like. I'm in favor of it."

Wants Stiffer Ticket Sales

Ronald De Vore proposed setting up statutes to deal with ticket sales and ticket takers to make sure no minors would be allowed in questionable movies. Noting that censorship would be decided by five people, De Vore added: "What five people say is obscene involves many court cases. The expense just won't stop at getting equipment. Maybe we should hold off like the state did." De Vore voted against the law.



Russell Jones, who is "against the principle of censorship," said some consideration should be made of a movie operator's proposal for a board of review. The board would be without the powers of censorship but would call attention to any criminal violations to the police.

Van Heyde called censorship "an infringement of individual rights. The question is," he challenged, "not where does censorship begin, but where does it end? The same situation will exist after a censorship board has been created as did before. We need staunch citizens to organize an economic boycott."

In a personal summary, Council President Hicks gave his outlook: "I personally don't like censorship. It's not a majority of theatre owners who are causing trouble. It is apparently a group of people to whom morals mean nothing. We can not control them with our present laws. I hate to see censorship come, but there is no other choice as long as there are certain people who put the dollar sign above the public weal." In saying, he voted aye.

Citizens Need Adequate Notice Of Public Meetings

In recent months various official bodies in communities surrounding Columbus have been attacked for holding supposedly public meetings which the public knew nothing about.

How officials are notified of special meetings is defined by law. How the public is informed is sometimes spelled out in the State Code, and at other times is a matter of local policy — a routine that fills local needs. The important point is that people know of and when all public meetings are held

School board members are notified by mail, allowing a reasonable length of time to lapse between the notice and the meetings.

Members of council are notified by a hand-delivered message sent them by the mayor through the police department.

The public is given notice of public hearing only, through legal notices or postings depending on the local situation.

While it may be true that a meeting on issues not specifically covered by the State Code can be called so quickly that the public cannot be notified, indeed, a phone call will inform the press.

And if that is what the people desire they should make their wishes known to all governing bodies.

Then the obligation of reporting to the people the action taken in special meetings falls to the press and not to party spokesmen who sometimes have a tendency to "slant the news."

In an opinion by Attorney Wesley Neville, Sr., it is the right of the people to demand that the press be notified in cases which do not interfere with the policing of the people, or hamper general welfare.

Certainly it is not advisable to inform the public of investigations being made by law enforcement agencies.

Attorney Harry Curtis, in an opinion of the law, states that public officials may decide policy behind closed doors. School boards call the meetings executive sessions. Other officials label them cabinet sessions. In these meetings neither can take official action.

The issue becomes official when aired publicly. But the people must know of the meetings or be informed of the results if their best interests are to be served.

Discovery Of Buried Bones Often Sparks Wealth Of Speculation

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Is it or isn't it?

That's a question being asked around West Jefferson these days. It all started when Forrest Brush, Georgesville-Plain City-rd, decided to build a pond back of his house. He took a soil auger to search for water holding clay and promptly bored into some bones. Forgetting the pond for the moment, Brush excavated the bones and the questions began. Is it a domestic animal that some one buried years ago? Or is it a prehistoric animal that no longer roams over Madison and Franklin counties?

The skull of the animal is missing, and this makes identification of the critter more difficult. The fragments that Brush found are a lower jaw with teeth intact, some vertebrae and several leg bones, one of which was broken. Many of Brush's neighbors and friends, most all of them farmers, say that the bones are not those of a horse or a cow.

Bob Goslin, of Ohio State Museum, has identified the remains as those of a domestic animal, probably a cow. But the thrill of making a rare find dies hard, and residents of the area say nothing has been buried there in the past 70 years.

Goslin is an expert in this field and what he says goes as far as I'm concern. If it's a cow then it's a cow. But perhaps it's quite an old one. The first white resident of this area lived in a cabin just north of FORREST BRUSH holds one of the large bones he dug up back of his house. Did it belong to a cow or to some prehistoric animal?

Brush's diggings, and maybe this cow died in the traces of a covered wagon going West, and was buried at trail side.

The reason Goslin investigates all bone findings is that each digging might reveal a significant find. Antlers of a swamp elk were found in a glacial lake by Columbus boys just last summer. Not a year goes by without a farmer turning up some bones that are of interest to scientists. The list of animal bones found in Ohio is long, and includes the mammoth, that elephant-like animal that lived ages ago.

Indians lived in the caves and under the cliffs of Hocking County. Even though sight-seers have trod these sights for a hundred years, some bone fragments, left from Indian camps, can still be found in these areas. Some of the more interesting ones are those of passenger pigeons, bison, wolves and the like.

The bones that Brush found apparently are those of a cow, but they still hold the fascination of the unknown. Some of the answers, perhaps could be traced, but most of them are no doubt lost in antiquity. At least, Brush and his neighbors haven't had so much fun in a long time. Digging for bones makes history and geology come alive.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Separation Clause Gets Integrated

Christmas carols, Hanukkah songs, and the saying of grace before meals in New Jersey schools have been upheld as vital to the social growth of individual pupils by the state commissioner of education. He added that if religious reference is to be eliminated from the public school, the writing of Milton, Tennyson and Shakespeare; the music of Bach, Handel, Beethoven and Negro spirituals also would have to be prohibited.

Same As Us For Half As Many

North Carolina, with only half the public school enrollment as that of Ohio, is spending as much as the Buckeye state to educate its youngsters. The N.C. legislature has appropriated $460 million for education for the 1961-63 fiscal year. The Ohio legislature, for the same period, appropriated $467 million for twice as many pupils.

* * *

No More Sweet Kids

The Toledo Board of Education has voted to ban the sale of chocolate milk in elementary schools. One of the reasons: to cut down on the sugar intake of youngsters.

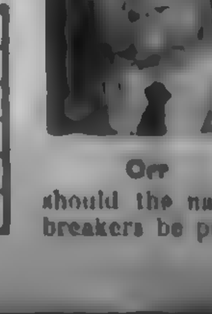
Bristol Students Go Conventional

The Bristol, O., Township Board of Education has recommended that all students wear regular clothing of conventional style while in school. Specific recommendations adopted:



Boys — only conventional type haircuts permitted; tee shirts are acceptable in gym class only; low-cut or tight pants not acceptable; shorts will not be worn.

Girls—no shorts or slacks of any kind permitted; wearing of head scarves during classes not allowed; application of make-up and hair-combing to be reserved for the restroom.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Orr

This may appear to be an extreme way to halt these crimes. The pharmacist was faced with much the same decision as are many newspaper editors: should the names of juvenile lawbreakers be published?

While such action certainly should bring concern to the families involved, this not always holds true. There are some individuals who have a craving to see their names in print, regardless of how degrading the circumstances are.

Editors know this, and in many cases the names are withheld. But, as with the exasperated pharmacist, there is a breaking point. The names are made public, principally with the hope that community pressure will come to bear on the guilty ones. If a young first offender is thereby reformed, the publication of names has merit.

Newer merchandising methods —the self-serve, particularly — are an enticement to youngsters who are too young to know right from wrong. They instinctively pick up a convenient toy or piece of candy and keep it without any feeling of guilt.

Parents have a great responsibility in stopping this petty pilfering as soon as it's discovered. One stern trip back to the store to pay and apologize to the manager can make a lasting impression on a child.

It will be interesting to observe public reaction to the pharmacist's "blacklist." It may be time for pharmacists, parents, and editors as well, to crack down.

—Marcus Orr

OPPORTUNITY

Local Pharmacist . . . Man of Responsibility

We pay tribute during the National Pharmacy Week to the practicing pharmacists of our community. They are key members of the health team.

In reality this week is just another week in the life of the pharmacist, who spends 24 hours a day —7 days a week—52 weeks a year offering his professional services for your continued better health.

He is in constant touch with your physician, not only by keeping him posted on the 400 new drugs a year and the 7,000 drugs already in common use, but also by checking any questions he may have with regard to your prescription order.

Our nation's pharmacists have more than 14 billion prescription orders on file at this very moment. They can be immediately referred to by the serial number on your prescription. Many a life has been saved because this information is instantly available in cases of accidental overdose and other emergencies. The correct medical procedure can be promptly applied—saving precious seconds and precious lives!

Pharmacists throughout the country have given of themselves unselfishly in undertaking community health projects and various other civic programs and activities.

The practicing community pharmacist is a key member of the health team in our society. Get to know him and understand his problems, as he understands yours, and works "around the clock" for your better health and safety.

Makes Sense To Hold Business To Six Days

To date 109 business firms of this area have received a formal request that they close their stores on Sunday or face prosecution. This action is being taken by the board of trustees of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

The association points out that it is prepared to initiate an enforcement program if voluntary compliance is not rececived.

Since the start of the campaign some 14,000 pledges of support have been received from individuals and numerous organizations have gone on record endorsing the program.

While the law is a controversial one it is still the law and as such should be enforced. If it is not a good law, the public should have it repealed.

It is hoped there will be the necessary cooperation from these firms now staying open on Sunday that will prevent taking action to enforce the law.

In fact it would appear that legislation of this kind should not be necessary. Six out of seven days of business operation are enough. If more and more stores remain open on Sunday it will mean that business will have less and less profits because the gross sales over a seven-day week will not exceed those of six days.

If you are a believer in keeping Sunday as Sunday you will best aid the cause by refusing to patronize firms that stay open on Sunday. And this should mean that you will also not patronize them on any day of the week.

Maybe you have been missing a lot on Sunday by postponing your purchasing until that day. Why not start a new habit . . . that of planning for a full day of getting the most out of Sunday.

Let's keep Sunday Sunday!

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

October—A Good Month For Food Shoppers

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapes, pears, bananas.

Vegetables — Cauliflower, broccoli, potatoes, cabbage, peppers, squash.

Fall opens with a broad variety of plentiful foods on the market. And the foods seem just right for "football appetites" that come with the cool October days.

At produce counters you'll find big heads of white cauliflower, bright green broccoli, Brussels sprouts, parsnips, sweet potatoes, spinach and carrots. October is peak month for the hard-shelled winter types of squash; turnips from local farms are at their best.

Big supplies of potatoes are in sight at attractive prices, as a large part of the fall crop will be coming to market. Good quality fresh tomatoes are from California now, and Ohio greenhouse tomatoes will start later in the month.

Harvest of fall apple varieties is well under way in Ohio and around the country. McIntosh, Cortland, Jonathan, Grimes Golden and both Red and Yellow Delicious varieties are ripe and more colorful now. So this is a good time to buy and eat apples — especially during National Apple Week, Oct. 12 through 21.

Locally grown grapes, mostly Concord variety, are available along with good supplies of western grapes. Bartlett pears will be in seasonally large supply throughout October.

Cranberries are here again, although November is peak supply month. This year's crop is down 11 per cent from last year, but the new crop plus a heavy carryover of processed berries will make for abundance.

In the meat department — beef is also on the plentiful list, reflecting the increase in the number of cattle on feed that will come to market in October along with larger marketings of grass fed cattle.

Broiler - fryers continue to be a good buy. High marketings this month will bring low prices to producers, and you will find this reflected at the supermarket. Turkeys will continue in big supply with reasonable price tags.

Special emphasis is given this month to cheese and rice. Both these items offer endless casserole possibilities. Production of cheese during the first seven months of this year was up 12 per cent from the same period last year. So watch for "specials" to be offered on both hard and soft cheeses.

Weigh Movie Censorship Carefully — PTA

To the Editor:

Though your editorial in regard to movie censorship would be termed "liberal" in many quarters, it is unnecessary to attach labels to an issue which, in our opinion, cuts across all aspects of thought and emotion in our city.

Your position in regard to movie censorship is a correct one, we feel. Yet, the revulsion which many feel against the very presence of decadent, exhibitionist motion pictures in our city is also proper, in our opinion, and merits as much attention.

This is one of those very difficult decisions which involve an element of truth and justice on each side, yet one side must yield. Which one? We believe that every person must struggle to come to his own conclusion in regard to movie censorship.

In order to assist this decision-making process, one of the Courtright Parent-Teacher Association's programs this year will be a discussion forum concerning censorship of motion pictures. For we believe that the issue will continue to be a controversial one regardless of the conclusion reached by council.

Industrial Leaders Plan Atomic Seminar

A seminar on the protection of employes and plant facilities of local industry in the event of nuclear bomb attack is being planned by local industrial leaders. Chairman of the event is Edgar E. Barnett, secretary of Brown Steel Service Center, 759 Marion-rd.

"The constantly increasing tensions of the world and the probable use of atomic weapons, should war result, makes it imperative that we take every possible precaution to preserve our industrial community in the event of attack, Barnett said.

"The proposed seminar has already been discussed with leaders in our industrial and medical community and they are in complete accord with the plan. We shall move immediately into the development of the specific program with the appointment of the program committee."

Patricia Brokamp Is Bride Of John Unrue

MRS. JOHN W. UNRUE

St. Agnes Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Patricia Louise Brokamp and Mr. John W. Unrue, Sept. 30. Fr. Robert Schmidt officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Brokamp, 939 Clarendon-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Unrue, 5199 Kornwal-dr.

Fashioned of imported chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta, the bridal gown was styled with a basque bodice and scalloped, jeweled sabrina neckline. The full, hooped skirt with deep points of lace over ruffles of tulle, extended into a wide brush train.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a queen's crown of lace with seed pearls and iridescents, and she carried white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Miss Kathleen Tonti served as maid of honor, Mrs. Judy Rammel as bridesmatron and Miss Nancy Huhn as brides-maid.

They wore street-length gowns of turquoise taffeta with matching crowns and carried cascades of variegated pink and white carnations.

Mr. Robert Unrue, brother of the bridegroom, served as bestman and ushers were Mr. Donald Rammel and Mr. William Huhn.

SHOES FIT?

Are you sure when you buy a pair of shoes that you are properly fitted? And if so, how do you know? I mean what do you go on? I can just hear someone saying, "Well, I've been wearing shoes all my life. I ought to know when they fit." That may be true, but from some of the feet I see, the owners must not have been good judges.

Actually shoe-fitting can be a pretty exact science, but it should be practiced by someone who has studied it and who has good shoes to work with. Select your shoe man like you would your doctor and put your trust in him. Of all the articles of wearing apparel, shoes can cause you the most suffering if they are not properly fitted. You get one pair of feet to last you a life time, there are no spare parts for them. Be very choosy about the shoes you put on them and the fitter who applies the shoes.

Unbeaten Central Continues Its Winning Ways; Tops East, 20-6

By DAVID EVANS And BILL PARKER

An estimated crowd of about 4,000 watched Central win its city league opener by defeating East 20-6. This boosted the Pirates' record to 4 and 0 this year.

Central took advantage of an East punt early in the first quarter and marched 20 yards for their first touchdown as Don Poling hit George Gilchrest with a one yard pass. Later in the first quarter, Central looked as if they were going to score again as quarterback Don Poling broke up the middle for 20 yards, but Central fumbled on their 43, losing the ball to the Tigers.

The second quarter was dominated by a variety of punts and fumbles. East tied the game after they took a punt over on Central's 36. Gordon hit Hicks for a 36-yard touchdown play. Central moved the ball to their 45 as the clock ran out.

The Pirates started the second half off by recovering an East fumble on East's 23. Central moved the ball to the two-yard line to set up a two-yard touchdown play as Tom Fulove threw to Don Mitchell. Poling hit Toland for the two extra points.

East was trying to come back later in the third quarter as Good picked off a Fulove pass on their 33. East was penalized and forced to give up the ball again. This time, East's quarterback Grant got off a quick kick that rolled dead on Central's 9.

'Bearcat Magic' Is Now Legend In Columbus Area

When I was a kid attending Rayen High School in Youngstown, I remember some talk about Harry E. Jacobs.

Jacobs was a South High quarterback—about 20 years before my time—but his football tactics were almost a legend in that iron and steel city.

Jacobs quarterbacked the South High team there for three years. He was graduated in June, 1921.

After we left Youngstown, I partially forgot about the oldtimer. I still remembered some of the tales told about him and how he was always a standout in the old South-Rayen High rivalry games.

A pamphlet from the Ohio Bearcat Football Association crossed my desk this week and inside the front cover was a picture that startled me. It was of Jacobs and the cutlines read, "Commissioner, Ohio Bearcat Football Association."

Jacobs had moved to Columbus, too, and the Bearcat football program here—initiated in the fall of 1958—is going strong.

The story of Bearcat ball—from Jacobs' leaving Youngstown in 1921 to the present day—is an interesting one.

Started In Kent, O....

The Youngstowner says that there is a mystic atmosphere of charm found within the tiny bands of valiant grade-age pick-up in this league. He calls it, "Bearcat Magic."

It all started in Kent, O., in 1929.

The league really came into its own beneath the high-strung lights of Rubber City Akron's Summit Baseball Park on Oct. 14, 1930.

"For those two years—1929 and 1930—Bearcats had crusaded kid grid rights within Ohio and beyond," Jacobs said. "With kid leagues nowhere yet in sight, we'd barnstormed private schools, parochial, and such—no penny asked.

"For transportation, backers free-will pooled the family cars; for meals and incidentals, proud and chesty Bearcat fathers cheerfully chipped in with pocket cash."

Not too bright a beginning.

But, check with today's kids playing with the Westgate Bears, Maryland Athletic Club, Sullivant Gardens, Linden Wildcats, Westside Merchants, UAW Tigers, Southside Blues or Westgate Pirates and they'll tell you there's nothing like this league.

It was in 1930, at Summit Park, that the Bearcat League decided to charge admission. "Up to then, we never dared try," Jacobs said.

Fan Support Was Low...

"Even with admission free, what you mostly spied along out bench-lines was a bushel basketfull of kindergarten-size thrill-seekers, or perhaps a courageous, if unaccustomed, Bearcat mother or two or three bravely brushing the tears away in silent supplication for the safety of her son," said Jacobs.

But, that October night—of stern necessity—it was one dollar all seats—baseball grandstand or converted bleachers, take your pick.

"We needed merely a cool $1,000 for our visitors' expense," Jacobs said. "No one, of course, expected such a staggering thing to happen. With the whole world still awash in muck-like agonies of market-crash,—now—where? to ladle out bone-dry, hard-won dollar bills for anything much?—but kid football, yet?"

Still, the game was booked. A call to Jacobs from Akron said, "Advance seat sale a flop . . . game's sunk."

Outlook Now Brighter...

But, in the last hour, something happened in the calm and starlit Akron skies. Early as 6 p.m., couples and fours were seen to trek and trickle up the winding, wooded lanes to Summit's stately stands.

When the tardy ticket men arrived, 5,000 wildly shrieking fans milled in mad confusion, pounding fists and kicking heels to, "Come and let us in!"

Hurry-up meeting rushed to frame Ohio's league for little guys. The Bearcats wrote its constitution, by-laws, playing rules.

Columbus followed Bearcat's lead—presently little baseball leagues came on. And, one way or another, there's been Bearcat magic in Columbus ever since.

NEXT WEEK: Bearcat Football Today.

Rams Win Second Of Season, 28-0

West's Big Ground Game Too Much For Linden's Squad

By Melvin Hoover and Glenn Rehrer

A bruising ground game proved to be the margin of victory for West High's Cowboys who roped and hog-tied the Linden Panthers Friday night, 18-6, [illegible].

It was the City League opener for [illegible].

Linden drew first blood, marching 80 yards in 14 plays with Tom Moore going over from the two-yard line. The Cowboys, however, retaliated quickly as the West backs relentlessly blasted through the Linden line for first down after first down.

Fullback Jerry Claytor climaxed this drive with a three-yard plunge over right guard for the equalizer. Thus at the end of two periods of play the score was tied 6-6.

In the second half, West's hard hitting defense caused the Panther backs to fumble twice. Both fumbles later led to Cowboy scores. Early in the third quarter, Cowboy tackle Ed Shute recovered a Panther fumble on the Linden 20-yard line, setting up the second Bronco score.

It took the Cowboys just five plays to score. Rich Neely cracked off right guard for the final yard, to put the Bronc Busters out in front, 12-6.

In the final period, once again the Cowboys, using a crushing ground attack, marched toward pay dirt. With 3:42 to go the Cowboy fans erupted in a loud cheer as halfback Cowboy Rich Neely broke loose for what appeared to be another Cowboy tally.

However, the speedy halfback run so fast the ball couldn't keep up with him and it was recovered by a Linden back.

Neely's fumble gave Linden one last chance to win. This was not to be, as three plays later Panther right halfback Don Clark was rocked by a vicious tackle which sent the ball flying into the hands of defensive halfback Rick Finke. This gave West the chance to put the game on ice.

Rich Neely carried the mail all the way for the Cowboys. He took just two carries to go the 26 yards for the clincher.

In the passing department, the Cowboys looked much improved, hitting three out of four attempts for 34 yards. One of these completions came on a pass from Jim Cook to Rich Neely, who made an almost impossible catch, giving the Cowboys a badly needed first down in their game winning drive.

A great deal of credit must be given to the Cowboy defense which contained the speedy Linden backs. This was no easy task as Linden's backfield contained Tim Donaldson and Don Clark who have proven to be two of the fastest boys in the city. Sparking the defensive team efforts were Ed Shute, Dan Heintz, Bill Gray, Ken Bowman, Jerry Claytor and Jerry Ball.

The Cowboys' one-two punch of Rich Neely and Jerry Claytor again led the offensive effort. They carried 41 times, accounting for a total of 174 of West's 218 yards. Neely carried 26 times for a 5.2 yard average. Claytor rambled 61 yards in 13 ccarries for a five-yard average.

TRACKSIDE

BY BILL GRAY

A day of rain and cold weather forced the cancellation of Sunday night's scheduled program of racing, at the Columbus Motor Speedway.

But, weather permitting, the Southside raceway will wind up its 1961 racing season, this coming Sunday afternoon, with the super-modifieds and flying-stocks participating in an eight-event season championship program of speed.

Sunday afternoon's activity will get underway with the time trials from 1 to 1:45. The first race of the day is set for 2 o'clock.

Westgate Bears' Defense Is Winner

Sunday afternoon at Westgate Park the Westgate Bears, showing a power-packed offense, downed the West Side Merchants from Sunshine Park by a very convincing 24-0 score, on a rain-soaked field.

This was the second win in as many games for the Bears, who are now tied for first place in the Ohio Bearcat Football Association.

The Bears were led in scoring by the brilliant running of half-back Virgil Starks, who scored a total of 14 points for the afternoon.

Next Sunday, at 2:30 p.m. the Bears will claw it out with a very much improved Linden Wildcat team at Westgate Park.

Hawks Dump Tough Beatty Team, 34-0

In a long afternoon of football marred by many fumbles, frequent penalties, and rain, the Westgate Hawks finally subdued a scrappy Beatty Lions team this past Sunday by a 34-0 score at West High's Magly Field.

The Hawks recovered a Beatty fumble on the first play from scrimmage and then on the very next play Petey Eyer rambled 45 yards behind nice interference to score and the Westgate 11 was on its way to victory.

For a change, the lineman came in for their share of ball carrying as Hugh Williams intercepted a first period Lion pass and returned it 32 yards for a TD. Danny Dent intercepted three aerials. Co-captain Bobby Spears also contributed some real ball hawking on the forward wall.

The Hawks journey to Linden next Sunday for a date with the Milo-Linden squad with game time set for 2 p.m.

WRAPPIN' 'EM UP

Here's What Took Place Friday Night

UNBEATEN Central rode to its fourth straight triumph at the expense of winless East, 20-6.

Central's tenacious defense contained East at almost every turn as the Pirates broke a 6-6 tie with two long marches in the second half. Don Poling was the Central star, passing twice for short touchdowns to George Gilchrest and Don Mitchell.

WEST HIGH'S Rich Neely, the dynamic 165-pound junior, carried the ball 27 times and gained 141 yards as West won its third straight and handed Linden its fourth successive defeat, 18-6. Neely scored twice on runs of one and 35 yards.

FIVE DIFFERENT players took part in the scoring as South sent Marion-Franklin to its fourth straight loss, 28-6. Paul Pate collected two on a 28-yard pass from Sam Wilson and a 40-yard run. Wilson contributed a 65-yarder as the Bulldogs put their record at 1-3. It was South's first win.

THE WONDROUS Eastmoor Warriors walloped Zanesville, 32-12, for their fourth straight victory without defeat, thanks to Frank Steuroff who passed for one TD and scored another and Jim Makar scored twice on short runs.

ST. CHARLES, which had won its first three games, fell to its first loss of the season at Lancaster, 16-6 as Tom Moore scored on a 34-yard pass from Gary Whitcraft and Mike Harrison punched over from the one. Joe Breitneicher scored the Carolinians' only TD on an eight-yard run.

REYNOLDSBURG emerged as the power in the Franklin County League chase as they routed [illegible], 26-6.

John Thompson scored three touchdowns for the Purple Raiders on runs of 12, 24 and 22 yards. Joe Shirey added to the cause by carrying the ball 25 times and not losing a yard. He carted the opening kickoff back 42 yards to set up the first [illegible].

DUBLIN'S Bob Walker scored three touchdowns on bolts of four, 20 and two yards to pace Dublin's win over New Albany 20-6. It was the Shamrock's first win after three losses. New Albany has dropped three straight.

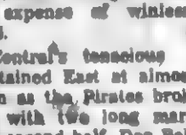
BRUCE DRAUDT, as usual, was Academy's sparkler, scoring both Viking touchdowns in the second quarter on runs of six and five yards. University, losing its second straight, 12-6, as Academy made its mark 2-0, scored in the third period.

WEST JEFFERSON defeated Mt. Sterling (The Plains) 26-12 at the loser's school Friday for its third victory in four games. West Jeff scored in every quarter in this Derby Valley League game with Ray Roberts picking up a pair of tallies on runs of two and 20 yards.

JOHN MITCHUM ran 64 yards for one touchdown and took a four-yard pass from Eddie Rapp for another as Madison South rolled to an easy victory over Ashville.

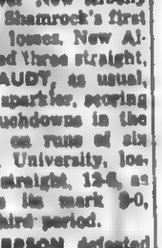
MILLERSPORT evened its record at 2-2 and left Carroll with the same record with a 34-15 victory as four different players took part in the Lakers' winning effort. They made up a 7-0 first period deficit with a 30-point second period.

LIBERTY UNION registered its third win in four starts, 22-6, over Canal Winchester with Jim Derickson and Jim Davis countering on long runs, Derickson hit on 12 and 36-yard dashes; Davis from 41 out.



GEORGE ROBERTS plunged over for three touchdowns as Franklin Heights won its third game in four starts. The Falcons hold a wide edge in the overall statistical department, 420-120, as Hillsboro's record evened out to 2-2.

WHITEHALL was projected into a prominent role for Central Buckeye honors with its convincing 28-6 win over Urbana, which went down to its first loss in 15 games.



Fullback Bob Neutzling was a workhorse for Whitehall as he carried the ball 28 times for 136 yards.

HILLIARD handed Groveport its first loss in four starts on the margin of Jack Scheiner's placement after he'd scored on a 35-yard jaunt in the first quarter. Jee Yere scored on a 12-yard run to cap a 66-yard march in three plays for the final Wildcat TD. Score: Hilliard 13, Groveport 12.

STEVEN Manion's touchdown plunges of two and three yards and a two-yard smash by Danny Souder were the differences as Gahanna won its league opener, 18-8, and pushed its season mark to three wins and one loss while dishing Grove City its third loss in four starts.

New West Class Geared To Students' Progress

A new class at West High School, the second of its kind in the Columbus school system, is designed for students who experience greater difficulty than their contemporaries in a regular class schedule.

"Sometimes the pressure is too great for this individual in a regular class schedule," said Thomas McCormack, who is fostering the progressive concept of education at Hilltop's high school.

"In a small class such as meets in Room 150, the individual has a better chance to express himself. He covers as many areas as most in the regular class routine, but the important difference is that he is not submerged in the pressure of the regular class rush."

McCormack noted that the student sometimes falls behind just a little in a regular class situation, and this slight hesitancy on his part is enough to confuse him.

"In this new class," he said, "we do not allow this to happen. He is given time to express himself, travel at his own pace.

"The class is a self-contained unit and this is important. In this way, we can keep a constant control on the student's progress. Whereas, the student might keep up in literature, but fall behind in mathematics, the faculty is immediately at hand to give him a little boost."

There are 13 students enrolled in West's special class, but McCormack said that the class could be enlarged to 20.

McCormack, who is a graduate of the University of Alabama, taught at St. Mary's in Lancaster before coming to Columbus.

Robber Muscles Way Into Store; Runs With Cash

Closing time at Schulze's IGA Foodliner, 1975 W. Mound-st, was conveniently used by a lone burglar Monday.

While locking the door, store employe Larry Belcher, 19, 141 Nashoba-av, was shoved back as the prowler entered. No one was hurt and no damage was done, but Herman Schulze, Jr., store owner, said an undetermined amount of cash was taken. He was not able to identify the intruder in police files.

The robbery was a matter of close timing, Schulze said. "We have two rings of keys for that door. The boy was using a large ring and was searching for the right key. The robber beat him to the door.

Extensive Home Fire Hazard Inspection Starts Soon

As part of the local observance of National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8 to 14, the Columbus Fire Department will inaugurate a year-round program of home inspections in the city.

Starting Monday, Oct. 9, uniformed firemen will call on homeowners to inspect residences for fire hazards. At each home where they are admitted, the firemen will fill out a form listing fire hazards found, for the information of the homeowner only. No citations will be issued by the inspectors and there will be no copies retained by them.

Officials are urging homeowners to invite the inspectors into their houses and to make every effort to comply with their suggestions, for their own safety as well as for Columbus' rating as a fire-safe place in which to live.

Columbus Fire Prevention Week activities are being coordinated with the national program by the Fire Prevention Committee of The Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, with support from the Columbus Fire Department, the Columbus Fire Prevention Bureau, the Ohio Inspection Bureau and many other bureaus and organizations.

Should Be Bright Future For Johnny

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

The party's over for Cincinnati. The series record books are wrapped up and the equipment stored in dirty, canvas bags.

The announcers have wrapped up their microphones and all of the TV cable has been rewound. The wire service copy has stopped reeling of the noisy machines with series stories and the popcorn vendors have gone back to selling shoes or whatever they do when there's no more popcorn to sell or fans to sell it to.

But, if you're a real dyed-in-the-wool sports fan, just drop by 281 S. Powell right here on the Hilltop one of these brisk fall evenings.

You'll think you were dropped right in the middle of a brand new baseball season.

This is the address of the Johnny Edwards family and as far as they are concerned, there's just nothing else to talk about but baseball.

And, they have good reason.

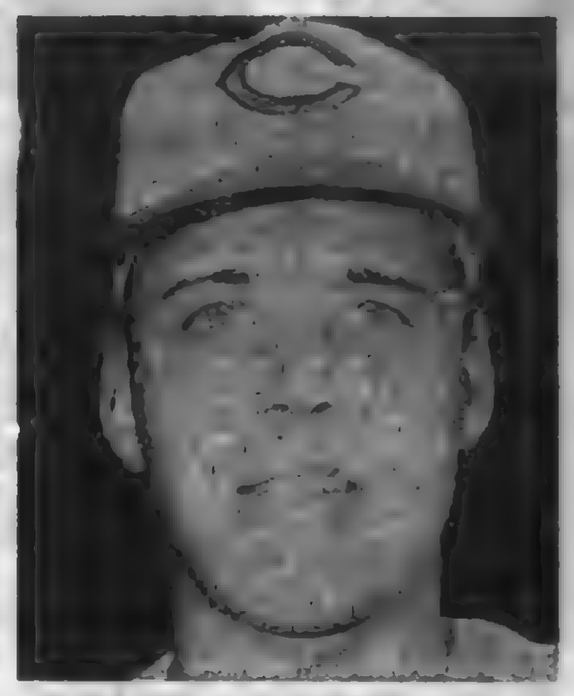
Well, maybe they could be—if Cincinnati won. But, as Mrs. Edwards says, "someone has to lose."

Southpaw John Edwards is one of West High School's claims to fame. The Cincinnati "bonus baby" is making a big name for himself and he's getting plenty of help from his four "press agents" at home.

The United Press International had this to say, however: "Not since Joe Garagiola in 1946 has a comparatively unknown catcher attracted so many World Series rave notices as the Cincinnati Reds' Johnny Edwards, a Columbus native and off-season Ohio State engineering student."



Every word is true.

What happened in that series? One explanation is offered by John's twin-brother, Jim, who says, "The Reds were very confident in that game Saturday. But they had all the fight knocked out of them when Roger Maris pulled that homer in the ninth."

Jim says that he was told by John that there really wasn't a good reason why Maris should have slugged that homer. "It was a bad pitch," Jim said, "it was inside and dropping off quite a bit."

Edwards went with the Reds over three years ago for an estimated $70,000. He was summoned to join Cincinnati in June of this year, after slightly more than two seasons of

Central Homecoming Friday

Queen To Be Declared; Pirates Face Eastmoor

Her Majesty, the Homecoming Queen of Central High School, will be introduced to her subjects surrounded by a guard of honor in full Buccaneer dress at the Central-Eastmoor football game here Friday, Oct. 13.

The identity of the queen traditionally remains a mystery until just before the kick-off of the homecoming game. Choice of the five finalists for queen and her court was made following an assembly held Wednesday at the school when Edward Kettell, president of the student council, introduced the candidates to the student body.

Pirates acting as the queen's guard of honor will be Ernest Cassinger, Thomas Davis, Richard Kettell, Timothy Myricks, Anthony Postal and Luis Russell.

At half-time the Central band will stage a salute to the queen as she and her court are formally presented to the fans.

Official coronation ceremonies are to take place in the school gym at the dance to be held following the game. Joan Bussard, 1960 Homecoming Queen, will crown her successor, and just before the Queen's Dance, a boys' ensemble will serenade the new queen and her court.

In the ensemble will be John Burris, Gene Cotton, William Chamberlain, Benjamin Davis, Robert Dillon and Michel Grim. David Price is to be their accompanist. Edward Kettell will be master of ceremonies.

Dry Run Land Buy To Start

A representative from the City Engineers office will start contacting approximately 20 property owners in the vicinity of N. Haldy-av this week to negotiate land purchasing for the rerouting of Dry Run Creek.

Twenty-six parcels of land will be purchased by the city in the $10,000 project negotiations for which the city council authorized two weeks ago.

Ernie Bryant will be the negotiator. He will show the people he contacts plans of the project. If they want further information after he has visited them they may talk to one of the city engineers at City Hall.

The meandering little stream has worried city officials for a number of years, particularly after the winter flood in 1[illegible].

A preliminary study to determine what could be done was made in 1955 but money was not available then to carry out the project. But Capital Improvement money came along and work will begin as soon as the land is secured.

Noted Expert On Children Will Speak On Anniversary

The executive director of the Child Welfare League of America for the past eight years will be the guest speaker at the Franklin Village 10th Anniversary Banquet Friday, Oct. 20 at 7 p.m. at the Southern Hotel.

Joseph H. Reid joined the league as assistant director in 1950 and has since become one of the most authoritative men in the field.

He has authored books and articles on child welfare and made numerous surveys on social agencies and child care needs in the United States.

He is a member of the executive board of the International Union for Child Welfare and a member of the executive committee of the National Social Welfare Assembly.

Reid earned his Masters Degree from the University of Washington and was research director of the Ryther Child Center in Washington before joining the league.

West Side Man County's Fourth Polio Victim

Fourth Franklin County resident to contract polio this year is Frank Nagy, 43, of 213 S. Grubb-st. Nagy is suffering from poliomyelitis, the most severe form of the illness.

Nagy, who is an inspector at North American Aviation, did not receive Salk vaccine, according to the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Nagy is not married.

Avondale Residents Support One-Way Street Movement

No doubt about it—the people who live in the Avondale School area want one-way streets.

At any rate there were no objectors at the West Side Neighborhood Council's traffic study meeting last Wednesday night at the school. The session, third in a series designed to hear what the people want in traffic improvements, was conducted by Fred Staley.

All agreed that one-ways south of Broad-st, from Glenwood east to Davis, were a good idea, however, many felt that Yale-av should remain two directional because of the traffic light now at Broad.

There was considerable discussion on a proposal that there be no left hand turns off of Broad. There was no opposition after it was explained that the City Traffic Engineer wants to make Town-st a one-way thoroughfare, west.

The Town and Rich one-way proposals are expected to be an important issue tonight when the residents of the Franklinton School area meet at the school at 8 p.m. Ralph Oberlietner, of the West Side Boys' Club, will preside.

• Retain the traffic light at Yale and Broad, and add a coordinated light at Glenwood and Broad, supplemented with a left turn signal.

• Traffic at Davis and Broad should be changed to Souder and Broad to allow safer access to stores and provide safety for school children. Delayed action arrow would indicate for southbound Souder traffic.

• Request that the traffic light at Avondale and Broad be retimed to allow longer span of time for north-south pedestrian crossing.

• Request that something be done to slow down speeding on both State and Scott-sts.

• All agreed that the West Side is quite devoid of traffic law speed signs and that these should be erected.

• Two problems were brought up regarding the intersection of the Town-st ramp off of the Freeway and Town-st: (1) No indication of the right-of-way where the ramp and west access road meet; (2) no walking light or lane across the off-ramps.

• Complaints were registered about the truck parking on sidewalks at the corner of Gay and Hartford.

Dr. A. J. Wold

Scottish Rite Lauds Retired Hilltop Pastor

Dr. A. J. Wold, minister emeritus of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, was honored recently by the Ancient Accepted Order of Scottish Rite, by being seated on the Supreme Council of that group when it met in Chicago.

Dr. Wold was one of 200 upon whom the honorary 33rd degree of the Masonic order was conferred. A member of the Valley of Columbus, the honor signifies the retired minister's work in Scottish Rite, and is bestowed only upon a select few as vacancies are created on the Supreme Council through death of its members.

Another Hilltop resident is slated to be honored with the conferring of the degree next year. Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, was nominated from the Valley of Columbus, along with four other area men. The Supreme Council will hold its 1962 meeting in Philadelphia.

Businessmen Think Ahead To Christmas

Contributions to be used to decorate the Hilltop area during Christmas are being solicited by the Hilltop Business Association, according to Joe Briggs, decorating committee chairman.

Last year, the area from Lechner-av to Oakley was decorated. Plans for this coming season call for decorations to be extended to those sections of Sullivant-av where municipal current is available for lights.

Decorations will be ordered only in quantities which contributions will cover.

Daughter Improving

Patty Hartley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd, is a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital where her condition is reported as improving. She is not permitted to have visitors, however.

Trade Board Meets Tonight

The directors of the West Side Board of Trade have announced that meetings of the organization will be resumed starting tonight, Wednesday, at 8 p.m. at Sunshine Center.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Wives and husbands of members are invited to attend.

Halloween Is Council Topic

Halloween will be the chief concern of the Hilltop Community Council when it meets Thursday night, Oct. 12, at 8 p.m. at the Hilltop YMCA.

Robert Frakes, presiding officer, hopes to secure a chairman and committees for a proposed community celebration.

Thirty Wanted 'Em!

William Rockfield, 834 Chestershire-rd, received more than 30 calls when he placed a fast-action Hartley Newspapers' Want Ad to sell his six glider cushions. He sold them to the second caller. Look around the house for "don't wants" and then Dial BR. 4-1155 for expert ad assistance.

Bean From Slingshot Strikes Tot's Playpen

Kids with slingshots and beans may be bigger hazards than they think.

This became evident last week when a picture window at 870 Wiltshire-rd was pierced by a bean which shot through the living room and on into a playroom, landing in an infant's playpen.

Mrs. William Smeltzer said her 10-months-old daughter could easily have been hit by the missile, had she not been napping at the time.

The incident happened during school lunch period while children were in the streets, Mrs. Smeltzer said.

EXPECT TO FLOOD LEGISLATURE

Paper Work Is Our Next Stamp Step—Graham

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

The Ohio Legislature, when it reconvenes Nov. 14, may find itself knee-deep in stamp ban statements, petitions and sworn affidavits, the Greater Columbus Gasoline Dealers Association said this week.

And all this noise won't be created by gasoline dealers alone, according to Association Director Roger Graham.

"We're issuing 1000 petitions around the city," Graham said, "for individual citizens and businessmen to sign for the purpose of asking the legislation to expel savings stamps from this state."

The outlook is bright for these petitions to be accepted since the anti-trading stamp drive, which has been steam-rolling full-blast, without letup here for the past month is showing no signs of losing momentum.

The drive began on the South Side a month ago and has spread to all parts of Columbus. Graham says that more than 90 per cent of the service station operators here have nixed the stamp plans.

The local drive has the support of both the Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association and the National Federation of Independent Businessmen.

"We've got about 30 or 40 sworn affidavits here in Columbus," Graham said, "and other cities—mainly Cincinnati—have many more than this."

Most of them read the same. For example, John A. Kramer, a dealer in Deer Park, O., swore the following:

"I attribute my failure is business primarily to the fact that my trading stamps cost me approximately $120 each month.

"I further analyzed that a secondary cause for my failure may have been partially due to the fact of lack of inventory control, but there is no doubt that trading stamps were directly the cause of my downfall."

Neil H. Weber, a Cincinnati gasoline dealer, writes in an affidavit:

"The cost of trading stamps was actually $4800. Indebtedness for securing the stamps was $5700. This amount exceeds my profits obtained from my investments in this service station."

One effect of the drive here has been to bring about a stronger dealers' association, with dealers forming the Franklin County-wide Independent Gasoline Dealers Association.

Representatives of the association have been requesting that major oil companies take trading stamps out of company-operated stations.

The association has appointed a membership committee—headed by Ed Schaefer—to canvass the area and make personal [illegible].

A grievance committee has also been set up, Graham says, to work in conjunction with the oil companies and the dealers and make investigations.

The association now has legal counsel by a Hilltop attorney, Vernon Hertzinger, 3060 W. Broad-st. Hertzinger, along with Graham, is expected to head up the group when the plea goes to the legislature.

Reports from several parts of the city Wednesday indicated that a new tack is being used against gas station operators who still give out stamps.

Dealers who have dropped them were said to be driving their own cars into the stations of stamp givers and were ordering only a gallon or two at a time. At the same time they were demanding all the usual free car services.

One East Side operator locked up his pumps in disgust.

"We've run into a few stumbling blocks," Graham said. He indicated that some dealers in the north and east areas are still reluctant to give up the trading stamps.

"Our committees are going to hit these areas the hardest and explain the situation," Graham stated.

On the national scene, reports say that the anti-trading stamp move is progressing better than expected. Other states are joining the fight at a rapid rate, according to a National Independent Businessmen's representative.

The next general meeting in this city will be held Tuesday at 9 p.m. Graham said it will be held somewhere in the North End but no exact meeting site has yet been named.

Local Child Guidance Center Is Dedicated

Dedication ceremonies of the Diocesan Child Guidance Center were conducted Sunday with Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann presiding. Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, Ohio Health director as the principal speaker and Dr. Thomas Mancuso, chairman of the advisory board as master of ceremonies.

The new building at 840 W. State-st, northwest of Mt. Carmel Hospital, was erected at an approximate cost of $370,000 to replace the old residence formerly used by the Guidance Center. Ohio Health Department arranged for a $90,000 Federal grant for the project.

In his address, Dr. Dwork said, "The opportunity exists here, not only for guiding children, but also for assisting their parents and thereby helping and strengthening family relationships.

"Each family is different. The values and ideals handed down from one generation to another within one family have a special flavor and individuality all their own.

"These are the values and ideals with which a child most easily identifies . . . if conflicts have not developed to prevent this identification."

The Child Guidance Center was begun in 1953 and since that time has helped more than 3000 children. Children needing treatment are accepted regardless of race, creed or color and no fees, other than for correctional classes, are charged.

KIWANIS AUCTION TV 'STARS'

DOUBLE-TAKE by the cameramen produced the above results, but Clarence Latham (left inset) found it no trick at all to secure the television set as a contribution for the West Franklin Kiwanis Auction Sale from Nelson Russell (right) of Russell's Appliance and Hardware, Hilliard. Latham, a member of the West Franklin Club, will serve as one of the auctioneers at the affair, to be held Saturday, Oct. 21, beginning at 7 p.m., at the Prairie-Norton School. Hundreds of items, new and used, will be sold at the Kiwanis auction—the sixth year for the event.

Former Local Man Honored In Florida For Saving Boy

Paul Kesselring, a former local resident who moved to Sarasota, Fla. five years ago, was honored by the Jaycees of that city last week for saving a six-year-old boy from possible drowning.

Kesselring had taken his own son, Paul, Jr., to the annual Sarasota Fish-a-thon. The pair was fishing from the city pier when Kesselring saw Howard Hoffman fall into the water.

Kesselring Jumps

Kesselring jumped in fully clothed and rescued the boy in spite of severe barnacle cuts he suffered on his hands.

The Jaycees, sponsors of the fishing event, gave Kesselring an honorary membership in the club lauding him for:

"Jumping into the water and pulling the boy to safety without concern for his own safety and showing heroic efforts in averting a tragedy."

Kesselring formerly lived at 918 Nace-av. He moved to Florida and took a job at a neon sign plant. His mother lives at 2368 Briggs-rd, and four brothers and five sisters live in the West Side area.

They include Norma Morse, 780 Binns-blvd; Joan Speakman, 1880 W. Mound; Richard Kesselring, 3506 Franklin-st; Patricia Beebe, 2368 Briggs-rd; Edith Schere, 946 Bellows-av; Winfred Mathews, 871 Sullivant-av; Olan Kesselring, 1794 Hopkins-av; Zeke Kesselring, 2060 Brows-rd and Billie Biddulph, North Olmsted.

PAUL KESSELRING (left) receives an honorary membership certificate in the Sarasota Jaycees from Dr. John Godbury, club president. He received the honor for rescuing a drowning boy at a club-sponsored fishing derby.

They Say! What They Say, Let 'em; Hearsay, We Say!

Outlying metropolitan units, those quaint cities of political charm and naivete, have the beginning of another donnybrook going for them.

Around this time every two years or so, charges and countercharges, concocted to be haymakers to knock either those in office out, or those out of office still further out, begin to puncture the atmosphere. Not all this charging around, however, does what it is intended to do, but the political pugilists continue swinging away.

Not that anyone would want to stop it of course, because, after all, isn't this what made America great? Isn't this what the stuffings of democracy are supposedly made of? Give every man a right to speak up and be heard.

As is to be expected, some of them speak up more often than others and whether they are heard or not remains moot. Which, naturally, brings us to the politicians.

As an example, let us say the Democrats are on the "outs," and, naturally, would like to be on the "ins." So they bulldoze their way through the administration's record with a verbal plow. They cover everything in their 1961 "this-is-the-year" platform from the city hall appointees, (if they get in, all appointments will be on "strictly" a non-partisan basis) to unflushable toilets—blaming it all on the present administrative set-up.

The Republicans, to continue with the example, aren't sitting around with idle plungers. They have heard about Dem shenanigans, and decide to jump in, not with Democratic mud-slinging techniques, of course, just going to sling some gobs of clean Republican mud.

They read down the list of items they were supposed to have accomplished, according to the Democratic concept of inadequacies, then drag reporters off to lunch, rebutting every point between burps into napkins, interrupting themselves with "We don't care what the Democrats say." (Sure does take a lot of newspaper space just pointing out what they didn't care what the Dems said.)

To clear up the muddy atmosphere, the Republicans attempt to cleanse the scene with "facts" of their own. Course they do it (and you Democrats take cognizance, too; wouldn't want you left out in the cold) by saying what the other guy said.

What's that you say, gentle reader, hearsay? Course, it's hearsay, we say. But then that's the way political campaigns are operated (should there be a period or question mark here?)

When they get down to "basics," the information the public is breathlessly waiting to hear before heading for the polls, both sides throw out figures even if they don't make sense admist such terms as bond indebtedness, capital improvements and the like. (One party's financial expert is never found to agree with this counterpart on the other side. Figures don't lie, etc.)

Thus the basis for the fever that occurs every two years that raises political temperatures and temperments and cause relapses in voters.

So bear with it. It will all be over by November. Then those dear politicans, the things with whom the people must bear, will be able to get back to the job of running the city.

"Shucks! At Least They Could Have Planned to Let Me Get Back to the Barn First!"

It's Free To Those Who Have No Money

Beginning early next year, some Ohio school districts may be able to get free expert advice on future building needs. Sometime around January or February, the State Department of Education will have men available to make surveys for districts that do not have money to hire an outside agency.

Disgusted At Conduct Of Reliefers

To the Editor:

I've lived on the Hilltop for eight years, was graduated from a Hilltop school, shop on the Hilltop and I love the Hilltop.

There has been a good bit of publicity lately about relief and those who collect relief. There is a family in our neighborhood who is on relief and has been for four years. They have eight out of 12 children still at home and are expecting another one soon.

The father claims his back was injured in a mining accident in West Virginia and he can't work. He owns a pick-up truck which he hauls trash and he also does odd jobs to earn extra money to spend in liquor stores.

His accident which he claims injured his back took place in West Virginia, yet they collect over $300 a month from the State of OHIO. They take frequent trips back to West Virginia, where they are building a home.

The wife drives a late model Buick and doesn't have a driver's license. She has already gotten one $15 fine. They are now buying their son a car.

They own a washer and dryer and have a phone.

My husband works hard to support his family and then sees things like this. It makes one stop and think. I think these people on relief should be checked periodically to see if their conditions are improving. We are feeding and clothing these people and they are taking advantage of it.

If some of these cases were reviewed I'm sure there might be a few changes. If these problems were eliminated, taxes wouldn't be so high and people who really need help could get help.

Hoping notice will be given to some of these problems.

A Reader and Citizen

Lauds Closing Effort

To The Editor:

At the meeting of the Hilliard Ministerial Association on Monday, Sept. 11, the activities of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association were carefully reviewed. Unanimous action was taken by the Ministerial Association to the effect that "as leaders of the Christian Church, we are in wholehearted accord with what we believe to be the spirit of the Greater Columbus Association to 'keep Sunday Sunday.'"

The Supreme Court has recently ruled in favor of Sunday Closing Laws, not on the basis of Sunday as a religious holy day, but on the basis of the need for every person to have one day a week for rest.

Aside from any religious implication, it has certainly been commonly agreed that the discovery of the Fourth Commandment of God by the Hebrew people in the socialization and settling of the Land of Canaan was indeed a wise one; for them it was more than just a day of rest, it was a day of corporate worship and praise "to the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, who had brought them up out of the Land of Egypt."

This principle has been at the heart of the Judeo-Christian religions which in turn have been the greatest single influence on our western culture. One simply cannot separate Sunday as a day of worship from a day of rest. It is both.

We have a strong and formidable enemy in Russia, Red China, and their satellites from without, but we need also to recognize an equally strong and formidable enemy from within, in the form of a religious and moral indifference on the part of far too many of the citizens of our community and nation.

We strongly believe that together we should move to meet this enemy from within, by "keeping Sunday Sunday" as a lay of rest, but far more importantly, as a day of corporate worship and praise of the God without whose benevolence we would have, or be, nothing.

Therefore, 1) we strongly urge the Hilliard Business Men's Association collectively, and as individuals of the association, to use all their influence to keep all business non-essential to the public health, and the recreation of soul and body, closed on Sundays, and 2) we also strongly urge all citizens of the Hilliard shopping area to refrain from purchasing goods on Sundays, thus removing the economic motive from businesses which desire to remain open.

Walter L. Plummer, Secretary
Hilliard Ministerial Association

Parties for Aged

To The Editor:

Some of our members have told me of the wonderful party you arranged for all people over 60 in the areas covered by the Rural-Urban News, Hilltop Record, West Side News and Reynoldsburg Record who had celebrated a golden wedding anniversary. The program you planned was particularly interesting to them and they certainly loved having their pictures taken. It is wonderful that you have a great interest in the older people of the community who have done so much to make it the fine place it is.

The Recreation Department was interested in having us here at the center do a similar program for people who had been married 50 years but now that you have begun this, and I feel certain that you will make it an annual affair, we would be happy to help in any way possible.

You have always been most generous in publicizing any of the activities that we promote, and we have greatly appreciated your cooperation and interest.

Sincerely yours,
Frances Colt Fowler

Lake Erie Shoreline, Islands Superb Spots For Autumn Vacationists

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

It is unfortunate, but Ohio's Vacationland is at its best, in many ways, after most vacations are over for the year.

The weather for a month or more after Labor Day is often superb along the south shore of Lake Erie and in the island area, as was the case this year. In addition, the perch fishing has been "out of this world" this fall and some good catches of smallmouth bass were made.

There are several drawbacks to an autumn vacation, the main one being that families with children in school simply cannot consider such a trip. The swimming season is largely over with many beaches being closed, although I saw swimmers in Lake Erie the last day of September this year.

The advantages of the fall season are many — uncrowded facilities, reduced rates at some places, combination fishing and hunting trips, a scenic time of the year, and you do not have the heat and humidity of mid-summer.

The Outdoor Writers of Ohio held its fall meeting on South Bass Island this year to give journalists from all over the state a chance to see Lake Erie at its autumnal best. A perch fishing jaunt in either September or October has been on my schedule for several years now and I was acquainted with the situation. A few of the writers were surprised, however, to see the number of boats on the water late in the season. Perch fishing was the big attraction, and the anglers were having fun catching fish dinners. By catching from 200 to 500 perch a day, the fishermen must be filling their freezers rapidly.

Lake Fishing At Peak

According to figures released by the Ohio Division of Wildlife, more anglers are out on Lake Erie after Labor Day than either the spring or summer seasons. This has been true for the past two years when walleye fishing has not been good and the perch fishing has been excellent. The most heavily-fished spot I saw was around Mouse Island, just off of the Catawba Ferry dock.

From the building and development activity going on about the islands, it would seem that more and more people are not content to spend a week or two on the lake. From the appearance of houses and cottages, people evidently go up every week end all spring, summer and fall. On Kelly's Island, for instance, a marina has been completed within the past three years, three subdivisions have been established to sell cottage sites, and a water system is being put in. A marina is also under construction on Middle Bass Island, and a restaurant has been opened for boaters and fishermen on Rattlesnake Island.

A certain amount of development is necessary, especially refuge harbors and marinas — places to dock in emergencies. There is a lot of water up there, the wind blows hard at times and safety facilities are fine. Much of the charm of the islands, however, is their scenic beauty, their remoteness, and the solitude they offer. I certainly hope that this is not lost under the name of development.

Big Supply Of Processed Vegetables Seen

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapes, pears, cider.

Americans are eating more vegetables today than their grandparents did 50 years ago, according to a recent bulletin of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

But we are eating more of the processed vegetables and fewer of the fresh ones. In fact, canned and frozen items account for around half of the total consumption, compared with one-third of the total in 1939.

The difference in cost of serving a fresh, frozen or canned vegetable on the dinner plate changes frequently. As a result, supply and price changes on processed vegetables are important in family food buying.

What's in the picture for the coming year? First, we must keep in mind that the supply of an individual processed item for any marketing year consists of: (1) the quantity packed from the current crop; (2) plus, any carryover from the previous year. Here's a summary of supply prospects for the major items this year:

Combined production, for processing, of snap beans, sweet corn, green peas, tomatoes, lima beans, beets, spinach and cabbage for kraut is expected to be 11 per cent above last year and 21 per cent above average. Individually, the production of each vegetable is expected to be above last year and production of all, except green peas, will be above average.

Carryover stocks were below last year on canned beets and carrots, but were larger on asparagus and spinach; frozen stocks of asparagus, broccoli, Brussels sprouts and spinach all above a year ago; larger crops for processing expected for beets and spinach; asparagus pack down.

You can expect price specials to be frequent on items in heavy supply.

STRICTLY FRESH

Most women enjoy nothing more than name dropping — especially maiden names.

Husbands are the heads of their families and pedestrians have the right-of-way. Both are safe as long as they don't try to exercise their rights.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

There is too much labeling being done in the United States today. One is no longer wrong nor right, he is either a pinko or a reactionary. If he stands for the rights of individuals from a liberal standpoint he is labeled a commysymp or a communist. If he stands for rights from a conservative outlook, he is labeled a right winger and at times a facist.

Poeppelmeyer

Several national publications have had the pinko tag applied because they dare to be for civil rights, the UN, and feel the agonistic, the athiest have as much right to speak up and be heard as the Christian, the Jew.

The Fascist reading has been given to those who are for limited Government and private ownership and those who conduct hearings on un-American activities.

It is getting so today that one cannot disagree with his neighbor not because it isn't the neighborly thing to do, but because of the fear of being called a radical or a reactionary.

Too much of this labeling is done on a spur of the moment basis. One is judged either to be this or to be that, then expected—yes, expected, to prove his innocence.

The answer to "innocent of what?" just doesn't fit into the labeling category.

One is accused without any foundation; one is tried without any impartial jury (usually it is a jury of one); one is convicted without resemblance of justice.

There is an old Indian proverb: "Teach me not to judge my brother until I have walked 10 moons in his moccasins."

To put it another way, before attaching any label, make sure you know what is inside.

Central Ohioans Selected For Important Kiwanis Posts

Lt. Governor C. Carlton Hartley of the Hilltop club announced that the Tenth District has grown from 18 to 22 clubs during the year and that other new clubs are likely to be formed before January. This growth has necessitated a geographical redistricting of the Tenth into East and West subdivisions.

In line to be the first lieutenant governor of the West section is Malcolm Pennell, past-president of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club. Dr. William Myers of the Newark club was singled out for a similar position in the East section.

Phillip V. Stout, member of the Hilltop club and past Ohio District governor, was recommended as a candidate for international trustee, a position to be filled at the international convention in Denver next spring.

Clubs Get Plaques

Among high club honors awarded last week was a plaque to the Hilltop club for topmost achievement among the larger clubs during 1960. Elmer Hegenberger, past-president, made the acceptance. West Side Kiwanis Club, represented by Frank Watts, was presented a plaque for the largest gain in membership among the smaller clubs. It was in competition with 160 other clubs.

Paul Marsh accepted a similar honor for the Newark club in the 100-and-over-member category.

Earning ribbons for having a year of 100 per cent achievement reports were Eastern club, accepted by Robert Rosencrans, and Linden club, by Sam Miller.

SHOE STYLES 1962

Just returned a few days ago from the National Shoe Fair in Miami Beach. This is an annual event in which more than two thousand shoe factories exhibit their next Easter shoe styles and the retail shoe man is supposed to order shoes for the next season. Boy, Oh Boy! Was there a state of confusion in the style shoe business for next year. No one knows which way to jump . . . square toes, oval toes, pointed toes? You name it, anything goes next year. And for my part, I'll be happy if just the pointed toes go . . . out of style, I mean. Pointed shoes might be all right for some adults who have already ruined their feet, but when they try to make us put them on the tender feet of growing children. I draw the line. P.S. Look for the old, round "baby doll" toes in style within the next two years.

RIVALS CLASH AGAIN

West-Central Ended As Even As Steven, Friday Evening, 8-8

Central's Pirates (ranked 26 in the state) had to settle for a tie with the Cowboys of West, Friday, Oct. 6, at the downtown field. Central, who was after her fifth straight grid game, was held scoreless by the West defense until the fourth quarter.

Central stopped three West drives within the 15-yard line. West in turn stopped Central's hard-driving offense once within scoring range. Thus, the first half consisted mostly of each team running 2 to 7 plays and then punting the ball.

Early in the third quarter the Cowboys paraded 63-yards in 14 plays for the first score of the evening. Jim Cook completing two 20-yard heaves to set up the Cowboys score and big fullback Jim Brewer bulldozed over tackle for the score.

For the remainder of the third quarter and most of the fourth it appeared as if this lone tally would be enough.

However, late in the fourth quarter the Pirates opened up with a devastating passing attack which the Cowboys were unable to combat. Thus the Pirates marched 66 yards in 15 plays with George Broadnax taking it over from the one with three minutes to play.

Don Poling then rambled around right end for the tying two pointer.

A lot of credit must be given to Coach Butler's defensive line who did a fine job of containing Central's explosive backfield whose scoring punch has rated them one of the top teams in the state. Phil Baker, Paris Martin, Ray Chaddock and Bill Gray, sparked the defensive line.

The two smallest men on the field Jerry Ball and Ken Bowman along with defensive halfback Rick Finks did a fine job in the defensive secondary.

Both Central and West faired well in the passing department. West hit 6 out of 7 for 70 yards. The Cowboys gained 58 yards while piling up 8 first downs. The Pirates rambled for 107 yards picking up 10 first downs.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.

It's Strong Local Men That Make Bearcat Big

Let's think hypothetically for a moment.

Suppose that the Bearcat Football Foundation was unheard of and that we are community leaders in the Columbus area.

We'd probably laugh at him—if we were prominent enough and in no mood to chi-chi about something that sounds absurd.

We'd probably tell him that we can't be bothered right now and for him not to call us any more—we'd call him. Then, we'd drop his number in the nearest wastebasket and proceed with more "serious" matters.

Local Leaders DO Listen . . .

If this was the case—and it might well have been—the Ohio Bearcats Football Association might not be playing a valuable part in our community.

But, men in this city did listen to Commissioner Harry Jacobs when he proposed his Bearcat plan in the fall of 1958.

They did listen but, more important, they set aside time in their busy schedule to devote many hours promoting the program. This is the secret of the Bearcat success—partially, at any rate.

A strong advisory board was set up here under Judge Clayton W. Rose.

As senior judge in Franklin County's Domestic Relations and Juvenile Courts, the name Clayton Rose is widely known and nationally respected.

As a guardian of the rights of youth, his understanding, patience, experience and skills have stood the challenges, the demands of time.

Others Serve, Too . . .

Serving with Judge Rose as Bearcat League advisers are:

Dr. Robin Obetz, heart specialist and consultant on the Grant Hospital staff, with clinic and offices in the Medical Building at 327 E. State-st.

One important duty of this board lies in counseling with Commissioner Jacobs on matters concerning team members' protection — physical examinations, snug-fit uniforms, gear of sturdy quality, smooth, safe playing fields, accredited game officials and so on.

Bearcat Is Needed . . .

The Bearcat Association was formed in Columbus for the benefit of boys too small or too young to qualify for recognized school teams.

Teams in this area include: UAW, Maryland, Westgate, South Side Blues, West Side Pirates, Sullivant Gardens and Linden. These teams educate the American boy in proper moral, mental and physical values so he may become an asset to American citizenry.

Membership in this association is not limited to Columbus and Franklin County teams — or even to Ohio.

These teams are composed of boys weighing no more than 110 pounds at game time, and 14 years old by Sept. 1, 1961.

This is the Bearcat story today. Bearcat teams are now writing that story for tomorrow.

WRAPPIN' 'EM UP

Here's What Went On Friday Night

FRANKLIN HEIGHTS took a temporary jump on the South Central League field Friday, posting its second straight league win by defeating Miami Trace, 20-0.

Franklin scored in every quarter but the first. Robin Pendleton counted twice and Jonathan Cunningham once as touchdown marches covered 81, 85 and 73-yards.

The Wildcats came back with a 52-yard, seven play third-period drive, capped by Bob Roberts' 29-yd. run. In the final period, Gahanna stopped a Wildcat drive on its own 31 and with the help of two 15-yard penalties, drove in for the winning score on Danny Souder's 12-yard run with 3:39 left to go.

GROVEPORT EDGED Grove City, 14-12, with an extra-point pass to Dave Sims the margin.

Ron Snyder's six-yard run was the go-ahead touchdown with four minutes remaining but the home forces struck back with a 60-yard air-borne drive engineered by Sparky Parrett, who hit Dick Hill with a 14-yarder that put the Greyhounds within two points.

JONATHAN ALDER dropped a 10-0 decision Friday night in a hard-fought defensive battle with The Plains.

Don Gerhardt ran 54-yards in The Plains win for the only touchdown. A bad center out of the end zone accounted for the winner's two-point safety.

REYNOLDSBURG, still unbeaten, moved into a "catch me if you can" position in the Franklin County race Friday afternoon with its convincing 34-6 romping of University.

ST. MARY disposed of New Albany's defending champions, 24-6, and handed the Eagles their fourth straight loss.

Fullback John Jennings accounted for over half of St. Mary's yardage on the ground as the Rams evened their record at 2-2. Jennings also scored on a 10-yard run.

ACADEMY'S Bruce Draudt, who had scored all of the Vikings' touchdowns in the first two games, was sidelined with a bum ankle and Rosary romped over them, 34-14.

Academy managed to get to the Rosary two in the fourth quarter but lost the ball on downs.

AQUINAS' tough Terriers took over first place in the City League Friday by defeating Marion-Franklin 28-6 for their second straight league win.

Two Mikes — Fitzpatrick and Welling — covered 46 and 60 yards for Aquinas' scores, Fitzpatrick's coming on a pass from Tom McGovern.

WEST and Central battled to an 8-8 standoff at Central. The Pirates took to the air in the final five minutes and moved 66 yards in 15 plays.

George Broadnax scored from the one and Don Poling rolled one around right end on the conversion. West scored the first time it got the ball in the second half, marching 29 yards in 10 plays with Jim Brewer counting from the one. Rick Neely ran the conversion.

EASTMOOR, which shared the 1960 City title with Linden, mopped up the Panthers, 26-0, as the Warriors got their first taste of league competition.

It was Linder's second league loss. Eastmoor, 14th ranked in the state, got little praise from Coach Bob Stuart, who called the Warrior win a "ragged performance."

EAST handed South its first league loss, 22-6, as the Tigers came up with their initial triumph after four straight setbacks.

Neil Grant fired a 75 yard pass to Bill Hicks and scored East's third touchdown on a 10 yard run as the Bengals bounced back strong in the second half. Jim Byrd ran nine yards for an East score. Sam Wilson's nine yard toss to Russ Hand accounted for South's score.

UPPER ARLINGTON lowered a 23-6 boom on Bexley by scoring the first three times it got its hands on the ball. The Bears choked the Lions in the first half on one-yard touchdown runs by Doug Gudenkauf and Jim Cannell and a 35-yard end sweep by Bob Zerman.

Arlington piled up [illegible] yards to 181 for Bexley and limited the Lions to just four yards the first half.

WHITEHALL scored a harum-scarum 16-14 victory over Grandview to go into a tie for the top spot with 2-0 league slates.

The Rams, winning its fourth game against one loss overall, led Grandview all the way as Bobby Benjamin shouldered the load in the opening touchdown drive of 83 yards, scoring from the one, and the second drive of 55 yards, punching over from the two.

FRANKFORT ran its record to 4-1 by stopping Carroll, 13-6, in Mid-State league action Friday night.

CANAL WINCHESTER went on a scoring rampage in outpointing defending champion Berne Union, 22-24, in other Mid-State contests.

Horseshoe Loop Night Is Planned

The Columbus Recreation Department will have its first "Presentation Night" for its first league play in horseshoes Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m., at Sunshine Park.

The Garland Equipment Co., 345 Clarendon-av., won league championship and Tom Pearce of West Jefferson, pitched for the McKinley Avenue Auto Parts and was the leading scorer.

Refreshments will be served.

Twelve Gra-Y Teams In Action Last Saturday

The Hilltop YMCA's Gra-Y Football League began last Saturday. Twelve Gra-Y Clubs saw action as each club participated in its first flag tag game of the 1961 season.

In the South Section, played on the field behind John Burroughs Elementary School, the Lindbergh Falcons downed the Binns Bombers 28-16.

The second game of the morning was completely dominated by the John Burroughs Hawks. The Hawks outplayed the Georgian Heights Rebels by a score of 26-14.

In the North Division, the West Broad Colts shut out the Westgate Wildcats 44-0. Tom Randall scored the first TD of the game and his efforts throughout the game added to the Colts' score.

The second game in the North saw the Prairie Lincoln Eagles fight it out with the Valleyview Vikings. The Eagles led at half time 8-6, but the Vikings came back in the second half and held the Eagles to 8, while they went on to score another touchdown.

The last game of the morning gave the Highland Trotters their first victory of the season by defeating the North Franklin Comets 16-0. Winford Dearing was the standout for Highland. Dearing scored all three TD's for Highland.

West Mound Rams Defeat LAFB, 38-0

The West Mound Rams won their third game of the season against Lockbourne Air Base last Sunday.

The Rams started on a 65-yard punt return by Robert Arnett for a touchdown. Their second and third touchdowns were also scored by Robert Arnett on a 45-yard interception and a 45-yard off tackle smash.

The Rams scored quickly again in the third quarter with halfbacks Dick Skinner, Keith Edwards and Mike Sherman carrying on a 71-yard drive with Edwards going the final 29 yards for a touchdown.

Rams	6	16	16	0	—38

Rams scoring: TD—Arnett (45, 65, 42 runs); Edwards (29, 46 runs). EP—Razor (run); Skinner (run); Redman (run); Thomas (pass from Redman).

The Rams 90-pound team had the second scare in a row when they played the Comets at South Franklin field. The Rams' fast-charging line was able to break through and tackle the Comets' halfback in the end zone for a safety and the only score of the game. Jim Gustin, Gary Gohring and Leo Skinner were the outstanding men on defense.

After being behind 14-8 at halftime the Bears exploded for 18 points in the third quarter and 10-points in the fourth quarter while the Bears defensive unit held Linden scoreless.

The Bears were led in scoring by the great running of right halfback Virgil Starks on runs of 15, 30, 48, and 55 yards for a total of 24-points for the afternoon. Quarterback Jim Barber also scored 8 points and fullback Gary Smith chipped in with 2 points.

The scoring for the Linden Wildcats was done by Steve Thurston, 6 points, and Charlie Keller with 8 points.

MRS. DOHERTY PREPARES TO DIVE
"Like Stepping Off a One-Foot Platform—But More Fun"

Alton Woman Seeks New Hobby; Finds It In Sky As Parachutist

By BERNIE KARSKO

There ought to be a whale of a difference between stepping down from a one-foot platform and an airplane that's flying 2200 feet, but a lady who should know says there's not.

She's Mrs. Ann Doherty, 6651 W. Broad-st in Alton, who claims, "it feels the same — except that it's a lot more fun to do the near half-mile stepoff.

And fun, along with something different, was what Mrs. Doherty was looking for when she started pursuing her new hobby, parachute jumping.

Why did she decide to "hit" the silk instead of make dresses out of it like most [redacted]

First there was Paul Anderson, 2727 Vanderberg-av, a pilot and jump instructor who paid regular visits to the garage that Mrs. Doherty's husband operates.

Let her explain the rest.

"For some reason or other I'd always wanted to be a jumper," she volunteered, recalling that the initial yen may have resulted from her job as a chute packer during WWII.

"I told Mr. Anderson I wanted to be a parachutist," she continued, "and before I knew it I was."

Anderson vows that it's easy to learn. He estimates the complete course could be given in as little as two hours. It took Mrs. Doherty a couple of weekends.

The one-foot platform is the first stage. The pupil steps off a dozen times. "Arms stiff and the rest of the body relaxed," Mrs. Doherty explained, demonstrating while she [redacted]

Next there's learning how to pack the 20-foot canopy into a neat little bundle which you trust your life to and lessons on how to land where you intend instead of in a clump of trees.

Then it's bon voyage.

Anderson has instructed some 400 pupils —only 18 of them women— and he says none of them have changed their mind about how they were going to get back down on the ground once they go up in the plane.

The first five jumps are conducted with the aid of a static line. This device opens the chute automatically. But the pupil still performs little chores like touching the nose or rubbing the elbow before the big umbrella bellows out to make sure he's thinking.

After this it's pull the rip cord on your own or else. "I did," Mrs. Doherty quipped. "And I even landed where I was supposed to."

Teacher Anderson verified that she did, only missing the paper streamer that preceded her down by a couple of feet.

This is no small feat considering that the jumper has to correct for a drift of over 500 feet even if the wind is blowing at a meek five miles an hour.

Mrs. Doherty said it is hard to describe the sensation felt during descent. "I've never experienced anything like it," she confessed, adding, "and it's quiet. So quiet you can't believe it."

Skydiving is next and Mrs. Doherty claims she can hardly wait to plummet down at a speed of 118 miles an hour for eight or ten seconds before jerking the rip cord.

She's also hopeful she'll make a few converts of the customers who come to her beauty shop. "Luckily," she quipped, "they have until next spring to make up their minds. The season is about over for this year."

Actually jumping is nowhere near as dangerous and daring as it seems. Anderson points out that the odds of a chute not opening are three million to one.

But you have two chutes and the chances of the two of them failing are well beyond the scrap-paper figuring stage. At any rate statistics prove you can break your neck easier diving in a swimming pool.

These figures don't impress Mr. Doherty but her daughter, Michele, is anxious to join her mother as soon as she reaches the minimum age limit.

Six Hilltop Lions Little League Teams Mob Westgate Park

The three football fields in Westgate Park were trampled Saturday as the six Hilltop Lions Little League football teams engaged in another morning of football.

The Panthers overpowered the Colts 34-0. In the first quarter, quarterback Bob Lehman found running room around his right end and scooted 21 yards for the score. Lehman passed to end Bill Weeks for the point after.

Weeks gathered in a pass from Lehman in the second quarter and crossed the goal line. The play covered 32 yards. Fullback Jim McVay scored on a three-yard plunge over right guard later in the quarter to increase the lead.

Halfback John Kuhn scored on a two-yard plunge in the third quarter and Lehman's passing arm found its range again. Sam Towne gathered in the pass for the point after touchdown.

The Colts were forced to punt from their own end zone in the fourth quarter, the punt was blocked and Lehman picked the ball out of the air in the end zone for the score.

Panthers	8	12	8	6—34

Panthers scoring: TD — Lehman 2 (21, 3, runs); Weeks (32, pass from Lehman); McVey (3, run); Kuhn (2, plunge). EP — Weeks (pass from Lehman); Towne (pass from Lehman).

The pony backfield of the Chargers were off and running again and they bowled over the Cavaliers 28-0. The Cavaliers were unable to halt the running of right halfback Jeffery Tucker, quarterback Billy Prillerman and fullback John Bennett.

In the second quarter, Tucker took a pitch out and raced 80 yards around left end to score.

George Jones received a pass from Prillerman for the point after touchdown.

Tucker out ran the Cavalier players on a reverse play that netted 86 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter. Prillerman carried the ball over for the point after touchdown.

In the third quarter, there also was a dazzling 55-yard end run by Prillerman. Bennett accounted for the point after touchdown.

The lone score in the fourth quarter was made by Bennett on a 40-yard punt return.

Chargers	0	8	14	6—28

Chargers scoring: TD — Tucker 2 (80, 86, runs); Prillerman (55, run); Bennett (40, punt return). EP — Jones (pass from Prillerman); Prillerman (run); Bennett (run).

The Headhunters broke into the win column as they defeated the Lions 27-0.

In the first quarter, Lamar Barnes returned the kickoff 65 yards to score and displayed some beautiful broken field running. Fullback Jim Chiero plunged over the middle for the point after touchdown.

The Lions fumbled in their own end zone and Shaw fell on the loose football for the Headhunters tally in the second quarter.

Jim Chiero fought his way for six yards up the middle to score in the third period. Chiero passed to Shaw for the point after touchdown.

Headhunters	13	6	8	0—27

Hawks Down Linden, 28-6 On Sunday

The Westgate Hawks journeyed to Linden, Sunday, and handed the Milo-Linden a 28-6 lacing in a fast, hard-fought Ohio Boys League contest for their third straight victory this year.

The Westgate boys drove right down the field after taking the opening kickoff and after several nice gains by Petey Eyer, climaxed the show when Jimmy Bell went over on a quarterback sneak and the Hawks were never behind. Milo scored just before the half on a nice pass from Gregg Flint to Chuck Madden who gathered it in unmolested in the Hawks end zone.

The afternoon's scoring was ended by 70-pound Mark Carney who swept his own right end and outran the Milo secondary to score from 32 yards out without a hand being laid on him.

Browns Top Eagles, 12-0, At Glenwood

The Browns broke the defensive duel open in the second half, after Neal Watrus recovered an Eagle fumble on the Brown's 25.

Two plays later Sonny Wilbur hit Danny Thaggard with a pass which covered 55 yards and a Brown score. Minutes later Watrus recovered another Eagle fumble on the Eagle 28 and on the first play, Wilburn again hit Thaggard for the final score of the game.

Center Teams Going Strong

Sunshine Recreation Center's Junior football teams had two games last week. Saturday morning the Buckeyes defeated the Chargers 6-0 on a 12-yard scoring run by Dan Pinto. Robert Middlebrook set up the touchdown on two 30-yard runs.

The Blue Angels defeated the Buckeyes on Monday by a score of 36-0. Paul Briggs scored two, Steve Kettel one, and Darrell Boyd one in the rout. Briggs plunged for two successful extra points.

Next week's action sees the Blue Angels vs. the Eagles on Wednesday, the Chargers vs. the Buckeyes on Saturday and the Blue Angels vs. the Buckeyes on Monday

Johnny Edwards—

The Hilltop boy had been in spring training with the Reds in each of his three seasons, but was assigned in 1959 to a Class C league in California (where he hit .320) and last year to Class AA Nashville (where he hit .300). This season he started with Indianapolis of the Class AAA American Association.

His promotion to the Reds on June 23 actually was in the making almost from the time he signed his first pro contract. The Reds at that time had two outstanding veteran catchers, "Smokey" Burgess and Ed Bailey.

Burgess was traded to Pittsburgh in a major deal shortly after the Reds landed Edwards. Early this season, Bailey was swapped to San Francisco in another major trade.

In the series, Edwards got a couple of hits—nothing to flashy. Then, Saturday, he got a good, solid double. He was inspired and confident. Maris shattered most of this—not only for Johnny but for the rest of the Reds.

John was a catcher at West High under Bill Schmitter. (Schmitter has been transferred to the new Whetstone High School now). It was this high school coach that landed John an athletic scholarship at Ohio State under baseball coach Marty Karow.

Karow called Edwards and asked him to be home Friday for the Agonis Banquet. Johnny wasn't sure. He hopes to be home Thursday night—so do his folks—but his plans might change.

At any rate, he'll be back in time to get in his usual two quarters at OSU. He's in his fifth year of ceramic engineering with a high academic average.

He's going to be a busy boy for the next few months.

First, he's flying to Kansas City to be best man in teammate Jim Maloney's wedding. Then, he'll spend a couple of months playing in Florida for his improvement.

In between, he's scheduled to hit the banquet circuit which is plenty duty for anyone.

How do the opposing Yankees feel about him?

"You don't often see a young catcher direct a game like he does," commented Yankee pitching ace Whitey Ford. "And I don't remember seeing one do it in a World Series at all."

"He looks like a real take-charge guy," adds New York Manager Ralph Houk. "He went right out there to the mound a couple of times to steady down a pitcher (Jesy Jay) much his senior in experience."

Nothing but praise for this youngster. He's got a bright future—not much doubt about that. It seems even brighter if you are one to base the future on the past.

Queen—

queen was made in September by two homerooms. Seven girls were chosen of whom four will be members of the queen's court and one the queen herself. Decision is made by student body vote.

Face Tough Test

The Pirates will be entertaining the roughest team in the county and 14th best in the state before the dance.

Eastmoor will bring a 5-0 record to the downtown stadium and number-two ranking in the City League. Aquinas is on top by virtue of an extra game the Terriers have played.

The Warriors were co-titlists in the CL last year and will have a relatively clear shot to take all the stakes this year if they can get past the Pirates.

Talks Held On Graham Crusade Here

Local church leaders met with Rev. Walter H. Smyth, field representative for the Billy Graham organization, in Columbus Friday to discuss a crusade in Columbus.

An eight-day crusade was discussed with the suggested date Aug. 4 to 11, 1963. Final decision will be made by Billy Graham in December.

Organization procedure for a crusade was outlined by Smyth, who suggested ways of financing and planning.

He recommended an advisory committee representative of all interested churches, with the Columbus Council of Churches' department of evangelism acting as co-ordinator. Rev. Harold Dutt is chairman of the department.

An executive policy-making committee would be chosen from the advisory group, who would in turn, set up 12 administrative committees.

The Billy Graham team would open an office in Columbus nine months before the crusade date to work with local committees.

Estimated cost of the crusade is $100,000. Responsibility for administration of all finances lies with the local committee.

The only money going to the organization is the amount necessary for workers' salaries and accommodations. Budget is established on the basis of local expenses.

"Davey and Goliath," a Lutheran-produced TV film, now carried on 150 stations in U.S. and Canada, is aimed at acquainting children who never go to church with basic religious principles. This 26-part series cost over $400,000 to make.

Where A World Of Happiness Awaits You

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN MAKE A TOUCHDOWN . . .

Lack Of Adequate Feminine Gridiron Etiquette Is Noted

By JOHN AUSLE, JR.

So the man in your life rings-a-lings your phone and proudly announces that he has tickets for his alma mater's big football wing-ding.

He says breathlessly, "this is the big game, honey. And, best of all, I've got seats right down front—on the 50-yard line."

"Big deal," you answer.

He presses the point.

"This is the old rivalry. The old sis-boom-bah game that I've been looking forward to. Boy-oh-boy are we lucky to get seats—heard it was a sellout," he shouts.

He seems so hopped up over the whole thing that you decide to please him.

"Okay," you answer. "What time?"

He says around eight and you hang up.

"Gee," you think, "this game means so much to the old boy that maybe I'd better try to impress him."

But, young lady, the point is—just how do you impress him. How adequate is your football etiquette? How can you keep from being a clod at the old alma mater clash?

After viewing some of the feminine behavior at local football games, Hartley Newspapers presents herewith a special service to our female readers.

You might want to cut this out and tuck it into your wallet to refer to since the grid season is still young. First of all, here are some DO NOT'S as far as etiquette at football games is concerned:

1. DO NOT read 'The Secrets of the Wing-T" before the game and spout off your new-found knowledge to your befuddled boy friend.

2. DO NOT ask for a box of popcorn in a fourth-and-goal situation.

3. DO NOT shout things such as "Dirty Chesters" to the players. They are decisively against personal comments. Besides, it isn't very lady-like.

These are the three Cardinal sins. There are others, but we'll get to them later.

Now, here are some things TO DO to make your husband or boy friend think that you really know what's going on.

First, you might smile knowingly at your escort and say sweetly, "On the Red 15 series, that linebacker isn't doing his job."

Or, you might comment, "Maybe a field goal would save the day, huh, Honey, or should they switch to a Oklahoma defense?"

You see, your escort probably won't know what your talking about either and, at least, you'll have something to say.

Now for some generalities.

It's perfectly all right to eat popcorn at football games but, be sure you eat it. Throwing popcorn is not only discourteous but if the fellow next to you has a blue serge suit on, it can be downright embarrassing with all that salt flying around.

Also, it is helpful if you have a working knowledge of grid-iron terminology.

The "long-pass play" is not a forward advance by the quarterback toward a pretty co-ed cheerleader.

The "referees" are not lousy bums but have a definite reason for being out there on the field.

And, just because they have two halfbacks is no reason at all that they should have two quarterbacks.

Clothes are very important, too. The way you dress for a football game lets your fellow know that you're no rinky-dink but that you really know the score.

You should dress warmly, but not cumbersome. A big hat is usually frowned on, especially if there is a short man sitting behind you that hasn't missed a game in 30 years.

Pom-poms are fine to carry, but they usually start shedding half way through the game, so try and keep them out of other people's laps as much as possible—especially if it's raining.

Don't bring along little games with you, such as a pocket monopoly set and start playing your own game. Your escort will think you're not enjoying yourself. Little games include staying out of dice rolling under the stadium following the game, too.

Follow these rules, milady, and you'll be a standout in any stadium. Don't follow them and, chances are, you'll be standing out of many stadiums.

You've got the pass from center and it's time for you to try for a first-down—or a touchdown, even.

Supreme Court Refuses Review Of Local Dispute

The U.S. Supreme Court has declined to change the ruling in a dispute between Minnie and Clifton DeLay and Daniel W. Manes over the distribution of $48,500 in compensation for business property (Dan's Drive-In) condemned for the Sandusky Street Expressway.

The Franklin County Court of Appeals earlier had awarded $25,500 to Manes for the loss of his drive-in and $20,000 to the DeLays, stipulating that they turn over $5850 to Manes as a rental adjustment.

Annual Science Talent Search Getting Under-Way

High school science seniors throughout the country are preparing to compete for awards and scholarships totaling $34,250 in the twenty-first annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

Forty of the most promising teen-agers will be chosen to attend the Science Talent Institute, a five-day program of science activities held in Washington, D.C. During this period, they will vie for five top scholarships ranging from $7,500 to $3,000.

Dr. Watson Davis, director of Science Service which administers the Science Talent Search through its Science Clubs of America, said that rules and instructions for the competition are now being mailed to principals and science teachers of secondary public, private and denominational schools across the nation.

Contestants are required to pass a 2½ hour science aptitude examination and write a report on "My Scientific Project. The written examination will be given to contestants at their respective schools beginning Dec. 1, and all entries must reach Science Service headquarters by midnight Dec. 27, 1961.

Tax Stamps Going Out

Prepaid sales tax receipts, commonly termed "sales tax stamps," a distinctive feature of the Ohio sales tax law since 1935, will be discontinued when Amended Substitute House Bill No. 159 becomes effective Jan. 1, 1962.

Stamps sent in for redemption and postmarked prior to midnight Dec. 31, 1961 will continue to be processed and redeemed. Probably the month of May will see the last of such redemptions.

'BANG-BANG' TOWN?

'Must Preserve Our Culture Here' Says Lovely Ballet Miss

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

According to a local girl, Columbus is nothing but a "bang-bang" town and she hopes that she can someday do something about it.

The girl is pretty Vicky Paige, classical ballet instructor who recently returned from a tour with the Pearl Bailey Revue. She handled most of the choreography for the show.

"It's a shame that Columbus thinks of little else but 'rock 'n roll'," she says. "This city is lagging in culture compared to other cities its size—including Springfield, Dayton and Cincinnati."

Vicky says that Columbus residents would rather go to a sock hop than they would to an art gallery. She's mainly concerned with the teens in this city.

"People think you're a snob if you carry a violin case," she says. "They call you a sissy if you attend a concert or ballet."

Miss Paige was born in Carroll. Her family moved to Westerville. She's living at 2408 Westwood-dr.

The brown-haired, brown-eyed lass doesn't really know how she first got interested in ballet. "It's something that I always thought about and hoped one day to do."

She at first wanted to be a ballerina, but an automobile accident left her with a spine injury. The doctors said she'd never dance again. They were wrong. She's dancing today and doing very well at it.

"It takes a lot of stamina to be a ballet dancer," she said. "But that shouldn't discourage youngsters from studying. Even if they don't go on to big time things, ballet training helps their poise and gives them confidence.

She says that there's currently a fight going to keep the Civic Ballet group in operation. She wants to see more of it in Columbus—feels Columbus needs it.

"Maybe they ought to instruct an hour or so in high school as a culture class. Expose the students more to fine paintings, music and other art phases. Even this exposure would raise standards."

She says there's not enough good music being played—especially on local radio stations. "There's all this loud, noisy stuff—and, just too much of it."

Maybe people would like ballet more if they understood it, she theorized.

Miss Paige was graduated from Westerville High School and studied voice and music for a year at Otterbein. She believes that a person interested in becoming a ballet dancer must:

1. Have much energy.
2. Be a sensitive person, and
3. Have a "feeling" for this type of dancing.

She says that perhaps six out of every 100 girls and/or boys who enter ballet ever make anything out of it professionally.

"It's hard work preserving the finer things. But, it's worth it. They can be preserved in Columbus . . . you'll see that it's worth it," she said.

Association Members See Telecast

Charles N. Pappas, 227 Louise-ln, Grove City, and Mrs. Charles Shaw, 475 Whitethorne-av, members of the American Association for the United Nations, attended a closed circuit telecast at the WBNS-TV studios recently made to cities where the association has speakers' bureaus.

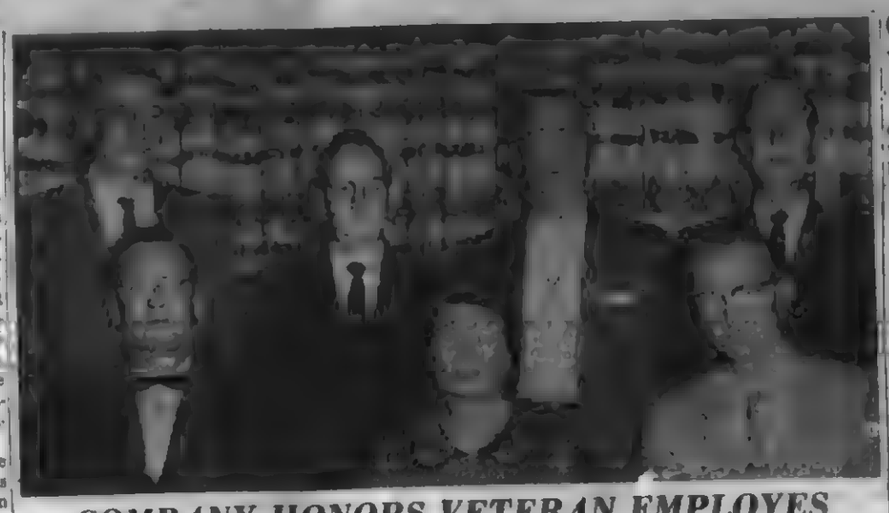
Originating in New York, the program spotlighted nine major issues confronting the United Nations General Assembly.

Pappas is a member of the Speakers' Bureau, Columbus Chapter, American Association for the United Nations. Mrs. Shaw is chairman of the chapter's education committee.

Closing Law Violators Hit

Greater Columbus Sunday Association executive secretary Gene F. Xing revealed charges have been filed against the following persons and businesses for what the association labeled "continued" violation of the Ohio Sunday Closing Law.

Ontario Store, 1138 Alum Creek-dr, and Judy Ennis and Carol Barnhart of that firm. Giant Furniture Warehouse Co. No. 1, 463 W. Town-st, and Harry Muller of that firm.



L&L Furniture Co., 265 E. Main-st, and Harry Kahn of that firm. Clark's Royal Blue, 1258 W. Fifth-av, and Janet Dipietro of that firm.

The affidavits seeking prosecution under the Sunday closing section of the Ohio Revised Code, were filed in Municipal Court by Howard P. Johnson, 332 S. Brinker-av, a retired city fireman and member of the association. The violations alleged in the affidavits reportedly occurred Sunday, Sept. 24.

Craft Classes, Movies Open At Rec. Center

Arts and craft classes at Sunshine Recreation Center have been preparing Halloween crafts and working in shellcraft. The groups have gathered a large collection of "make believe animals and bugs." Craft classes are held daily from 3:30 to 5:30 and are open to children ranging in age from six through 12.

Free movies to be shown at Sunshine Recreation Center during Oct. are "Wild and Innocent," Oct. 12, cartoons and short subjects, Oct. 19; "Battle Stations" Oct. 26. Movies are shown every Thursday from 3:30 until approximately 5:30 in the auditorium of the center.

The five-and-a-half-week training school will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Dr. Davies explained that there is an urgent need for qualified instructors since the present world situation has stimulated interest in first aid.

Registration must be made by Oct. 9. There is no charge for the school which is made possible through contribution to United Appeal.

Eibling Points Out Increasing School Needs

(Editor's Note — This is the first in a series of three articles on the 7.4-mill school operating levy that will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot. In this article, Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of the Columbus Public Schools, discusses some of the facts and figures that brought the Columbus Board of Education to the decision that submitting the levy to the voters was "the only responsible course of action." We offer these articles as sources of information so that each voter in the area may mark his ballot with the assured confidence that comes with an understanding of the facts.)

Imagine five barren fields adjacent to a Columbus of only 300,000 population. Imagine the construction on these fields of five communities with populations of about 30,000 persons each — communities like Lancaster, Zanesville, Upper Arlington, Marion, and Findlay. Imagine further the difficulty in providing housing, employment, churches, schools, hospitals, and all other facilities and services necessary to give more than 150,000 people comfortable lives in a modern American city.

For most Columbus residents, imagining the sights, sounds and excitement of such rapid metropolitan growth is not difficult, for they have lived through it during the last 21 years. Total population figures for the five communities we have mentioned cannot match the increase of 165,229 people that Columbus has registered during the 1940-1961 period.

The greatest surge in Columbus' population took place during the decade of the 50s, when Ohio's capital became the fastest growing city in the midwest and one of the fastest growing cities in the nation. During this decade, the population of Columbus went from 375,901 to 471,316—an increase of 95,415.

No other Ohio city can come close to matching such growth. Dayton, for instance grew by only 12,460 people during the 50's; Akron by 15,746; Toledo, by 14,807. The four other large Ohio cities actually lost population through the decade. Cleveland lost 38,756; Canton lost 3,261; Youngstown, 1,841, and Cincinnati lost 1,448. Using these figures one can determine by simple arithmetic that the total population among large Ohio cities, excluding Columbus, jumped by only 3,468 people during a 10-year span that saw population in Columbus increase by 95,415.

Other indicators of growth are just as impressive. Consider new home construction for example. During a five-year period from 1955 to 1960, there were 18,260 new dwelling units placed within the Columbus city limits. This is 10,000 more than the number built in any other Ohio city during this five-year period. Cincinnati recorded 8,039 new housing units; Cleveland, 7,626; Akron, 7,126; Youngstown, 2,830; Dayton, 3,476; Toledo, 3,223, and Canton 1,130.

During one of these years—1958—the total of new homes built in Columbus was greater than the total number of housing units constructed in all seven other large Ohio cities combined!

Most Hilltop residents are aware of the facts, if not the city-wide extent, of the Columbus home-building boom. They have seen the rapid development of such new housing areas as Holly Hill, Brookshire Park, and Westgate Terrace, adding hundreds of units, as well as much private building, during the last five years.

What does this mean to the Columbus Public Schools? When one considers that one new housing unit is equal to an average of one additional public school pupil, the significance of these figures to the educational program of the community is immediately evident.

Growth of school enrollments within the Hilltop area has been phenomenal. Since the 1955-56 school year, enrollments in kindergartens and the elementary grades have almost doubled, spiraling from 3,100 in 1955 to approximately 6,050 this year. This is an average of about 500 pupils per year in the elementary grades. In concrete terms, this growth creates a demand for the equivalent of a 16-classroom elementary building complete with professional and non-professional staff, equipment, textbooks, utility services, etc., every year in the Hilltop area alone.

Secondary enrollments on the Hilltop also have shown a marked rise during the last six years, moving from approximately 2,500 to 3,700, an average increase of about 200 per year. Although secondary enrollment increases have not been as dramatic as the elementary figures, this picture will soon change, for the tidal wave of pupils caused by high post-war birth rates is just beginning to reach the secondary level, where education, incidentally, is 70 per cent more costly.

The immediacy of the enrollment problem in Columbus is evident to every Hilltop resident who has watched the construction of Hilltonia and Westmoor junior high, and Binns, Eakin, Georgian Heights, Lindbergh, Valleyview, Westgate and West Mound elementary schools during the last ten years.

Enrollments will continue to climb throughout the city, as well as on the Hilltop, and with more rapidity because of a third growth factor—birth rates. Births have more than doubled during the last 20 years, climbing steadily from 4,830 in 1940 to 8,679 in 1950 to 10,903 in 1955 to 13,066 in 1960.

While there are 88,000 pupils enrolled today in the 13 grade levels of the Columbus Public chools, there are 61,000 children between the ages of one day and five years—at just five grade levels—now playing in Columbus homes and back yards, as yet too young to enter our schools.

In 1956, the research department of the Columbus Public Schools predicted an enrollment increase of 10,000 pupils for the three-year period ending Dec. 21, 1961. This estimate was conservative, for the actual increase during this period was 12,423. To finance the education of these additional pupils and to keep the Columbus educational program in pace with the times, the voters of Columbus approved a 3.9-mill levy. The renewal of this levy, which provides funds for the day-to-day instructional program is involved in the 7.4 mill levy issue that voters will be deciding Nov. 7.

Looking ahead once again, the system's research department has estimated that a minimum of 12,000 pupils will be added to the enrollment of the Columbus Public Schools during the next three years, sending total enrollment above the 100,000 mark. It is, of course, impossible to educate 100,000 children on the same budget used to educate 88,000 unless serious cutbacks in the quality of a program are made. I trust no one would choose this alternative in these times.

In its consideration of the challenges to education that lie ahead, in considering the classrooms that must be staffed, the materials and equipment that must be purchased, the number and quality of teachers that must be hired, the Columbus Board of Education determined that its only responsible course of action was to seek approval of an additional three-year 3.6-mill levy on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The 3.8-mill renewal and the 3.6-mill levy will appear as one issue on the ballot, representing the total financial support needed from the people at this time if the schools are to fulfill their total responsibility to the people during the next three years.

An Open Letter To All Candidates

An easy way to lose votes and influence people is to have your "cotton picking" signs tacked all over the highways and fences. I have just finished a cleanup of such signs along our roadside on my fence and have no sympathy for the candidates who have no more respect for the beauty of the roadside than to litter up the place with their names in bold type.

Public Loses Again

Round and round we go and where we stop nobody knows . . . !

Now that the bus strike has been settled the inevitable is about to happen . . . an increase in bus fares.

Under the cost of service franchise the bus company has a right to increase the fares accordingly. They claim the increases forced on them by the strike will amount to $100,000 this year and the same next year. So the public will pay again. And the public be damned!

A new program known as "Project Alert" is being presented to our people this month through the coopera-

VILLAGE AT FRANK AND GANTZ-RDS OFFERS HOME ENVIRONMENT

Franklin Village Will Open Its Doors —But There'll Be No Skeletons Around

Franklin Village will open its doors——and closets—October 21 and 22 for the open house portion of the 10th Anniversary commemoration program.

But the chances are slight that the visitors will find any skeletons. Not that the village officials are trying to hide them—there just won't be any to be discovered.

The care of the county's "unwanted" children has progressed that much since the village was dedicated on October 14, 1951.

This in itself was a gigantic step forward.

The village, with its ranch-style homes and spacious grounds, offered a vivid contrast to the 80-year-old, Tudor structure on the east side of Columbus.

Instead of living in an institution the children could now live in a home that closely approximated the environment that more fortunate children are blessed with.

What is Franklin Village?

Program Director Don Dodsworth is quick to point out what it is not. It is not an orphanage, nor is it a detention home for delinquent children.

"At most there are only half a dozen orphans and even fewer delinquents living here," Dodsworth explained.

What The Village Is . . .

"An attempt to provide the material needs of the children, including a wholesome physical environment in which they can feel safe and wanted.

"In addition," he continued, "we must create a situation in which the children can learn to live and work and play together. Educational progress, opportunities for moral and religious training and development of positive traits of character and personality must also be provided."

These are the qualities and necessities the children were deprived of when they were living in homes plagued by marital discord. Oftentimes grandparents, aunts and uncles or friends tried to help. But somehow the children were still struggling along in their crucial formative years minus the help, love and care needed to make them useful citizens.

In the past 10 years, nearly 1000 children have lived at the village. Admittedly, not every single one of them is now leading a useful life, but those connected with the village like to think that the population in our jails and prisons has been lowered substantially.

The Future Is Bright . . .

As for the future?

The Franklin County Child Welfare Board estimates that by 1970 over 5000 children will have to be provided for. Many of them will get this care at Franklin Village.

Village officials are optimistic that the percentage of "good apples" they turn out will continue to grow.

"Today, our staff has more knowledge and more skill than it can utilize in practice," Dodsworth confided.

West High School Welcomes Alumni 'Home' This Weekend

More pageantry and less amour will be the order in half-time ceremonies celebrating the coronation of West High's homecoming queen, Friday, Oct. 20, during the Terrier-Cowboy game at Magly Field.

Her majesty will no longer receive the traditional kiss from the football team captain.

The five queen candidates and their escorts, riding in convertibles, will round the field, the school band and the Weskets, West's all-girl precision marching team, will perform.

Gary Weigand, 1960 Student Council president, is to announce the identity of the new queen who will be crowned by 1960 Queen Kathy Jo Smith. In the event that Kathy, now in California, cannot return to Columbus for the event, Sherri Alban, 1958 queen, will make the presentation.

Recognition crowning of the new queen and her court will be the highlight of the Cowboy Alumni Association Dance Saturday, Oct. 21, from 9 p.m. to 12 in the school gymnasium.

Alumni and students alike will attend the semi-formal dance, the theme of which will be Lavender Blue. All decorations to be used in the gymnasium are to be of this shade.

Music will be by the new 25-piece West High Dance Band under the direction of James Hill, a West High alumnus.

One of five girls will reign as West High School's homecoming game, but more than a queen's crown will be at stake for the Cowboys.

West meets Aquinas, both unbeaten in the City League. This game could well decide who gets the City loop crown.

Hawks Plan Homecoming On Sunday

Former Westgate Hawk players will be honored Sunday afternoon with all the pomp that the circumstance requires during halftime homecoming ceremonies.

The special affair will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday at West High's Magly Field between Westgate Hawk battle. Both teams are undefeated and the game should decide the champion of the National Division of halves of the West Round Rama the Ohio Boys' Football Foundation.

The public is invited to take place in the event and no admission charge will be made. According to Hawk official

4-RING CIRCUS ACTION

KIWANIS AUCTION SATURDAY NIGHT

BY ZIP

The date is Saturday, Oct. 21 the time is 7 p.m., the place is Prairie-Norton School auditorium, New Rome, and the event is the Sixth Annual West-Franklin Kiwanis Club's Auction Sale.

But if this year's pattern follows those of the past, it's anyone's guess as to what will happen after the auctioneers begin their chant.

Those who have attended previous Kiwanis auctions will suggest that it's more of a circus than an auction, with numerous incidents which border on the hilarious.

There was the time when a bachelor discovered he had been top bidder on three pairs of ladies' nylon hose, when his motion to bat a fly from his bald head was misunderstood by an auctioneer. And the occasion when one of the Kiwanians found himself compelled to make top bid to get back his own welcome mat—one which one of his fellow club members had capriciously "acquired" and had put it up for auction.

The "matching lamp" episode also brought plenty of laughs — when a bidder (a member of the club) thought he was bidding for a lamp to match one he had already acquired a few minutes before), only to discover it was the same piece of merchandise, adroitly taken from his possession and returned to the auctioneer.

And the Hilltop business man who, unable to attend the sale, sent his secretary to the event with instruction to "buy something." He was awakened at his home at midnight following the auction by the loud quacking of disturbed ducks, which she had dutifully secured for him.

This provides the uninitiated with an an idea of some of the pranks that serve to enliven the evening, but, seriously, no one ever pays for a not-wanted item. From the first Kiwanis auction six years ago, it has been a policy of the club that anyone making top bid for any merchandise may return it to the auctioneers for resale if not satisfied.

On the serious side, the event is the big money-raising event of the year of the West Franklin Kiwanians and customarily hundreds of items of merchandise secured by club members from merchants and residents of the area are put up for auction.

This usually includes new and used appliances, television sets, radios, automobile accessories, farm equipment, garden tools, groceries, canned goods, clothing, products of the farm, etc. Kiwanians last Saturday picked 24 bushels of apples from which cider will be made and placed on sale. As is usual at auction sales, some pay as much as an item is worth—but more often the buyer walks away with a terrific bargain.

At intervals of 15 or 20 minutes throughout the auction, which usually lasts three to four hours, door prizes will be awarded. There is no charge of any kind for the numbered tickets given to visitors as they enter the auditorium.

Those having merchandise they wish to contribute to the Kiwanians for the auction are asked to phone O. O. Tope, chairman of the event, at BR. 4-9393.

Refreshments and sandwiches will be sold throughout the evening by members of the Weskiwans, women's auxiliary group of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club.

It is our sincere belief that such information being presented is truthful and factual and should have the careful consideration of as many residents of our areas as possible.

Project Alert is a double edged program of patriotism and anti-communism. It is a campaign which is basically one of patriotic inspiration to rededicate ourselves as Americans.

United Appeal Drive Nearing Completion

Residential solicitation in the United Appeal campaign in the West Side and Hilltop area reached $1515.20 or 33.7 per cent of goal as the overall campaign neared the half way point, according to United Appeal spokesmen.

At the same time the solicitation in businesses and offices had pushed to $1467 or 24 per cent of goal.

With the campaign scheduled to end Oct. 24, the women's chairman, Mrs. Roy Von Ins, 51 S. Brinker and Suburban Business chairmen, George Simcox and Ed Slyh urged their workers to have all accounts covered by Monday and turned in to United Appeal Headquarters by Tuesday.

More fair share giving in keeping with the one hour's pay per month suggested standard is being urged in an effort to reach the $3,701,000 overall goal by E. D. Bivens, general chairman.

Bivens emphasized that the goal must be met "to stop the spread of unmet health and welfare needs" brought on by the fact that demands due to population increase have outstripped the past amounts raised.
